STEEL TRUST MAY GET WALSH ROADS

Chicago Financier Reported to Have Sold Holdings to Corporation for $27,000,000.

FREES HIM OF ALL DEBTS

Convicted Banker Said to Have Accomplished Remarkable Coup—Positive Denial Made in New York.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—The Tribune will say to-morrow:

"Facing the possibility of being placed behind prison bars to-morrow, John R. Walsh to-day pulled himself out of the financial slough. He made the final arrangements which will not only insure the payment of his debts in full, but will leave a handsome competence for himself and his family. He closed an option with the United States Steel Corporation for the sale of his railroad properties for a sum approximating $27,000,000.

"With the money paid down for this option, said to be $100,000, Mr. Walsh tomorrow will pay the interest on the note of $7,121,887, held by the Clearing House banks, which interest amounts to $71,121, and will then have three months in which to close up the details of the transfer of his properties.

"Government officials are alert to the situation, and when they discovered today that Mr. Walsh had practically closed his deal, they doubled their efforts to prevent his possible escape from the country. Five Secret Service men have been detailed to watch him day and night.

"The sale by Mr. Walsh of his railroad properties not only frees him from debt, but will also enable him, it is said, to pay into the coffers of the Chicago National Bank sufficient money to declare a dividend of 100 per cent. upon that stock and still leave him a considerable fortune. It is considered by the few financiers who knew about it to-day to be a marvelous achievement.

"During the last three years while he has been under indictment and conviction, while he has passed through the ordeal of his trial before the jury and the further strain of waiting for the Court of Appeals to decide whether this conviction would stand or fall, he has been working day after day, and many and many a night, at the untangling of his financial affairs.

"And then, just at the time when things looked blackest, when he was unable to raise the money to pay the three months' interest on his note, when the banks had given him grudgingly the thirty days' grace allowed in his contract with them, and when the Court of Appeals delivered its almost stuning blow, unanimously upholding the verdict of the lower court, he finally achieved his purpose.

"By shrewd financial manoeuvring, such as requires the utmost concentration of thought to put through successfully, the playing of one possible purchaser against another, he has at the very last moment of his grace closed a deal, sold his properties, and balked the bankers who for all these years have meen coveting the properties, just when they thought they were within their grasp.

"According to the story told to-day by a man who has known from the first what negotiations were being carried on, having had a part in them, the deal which was practically closed yesterday, has been pending for more than two years. The United States Steel Corporation has long cast covetous glances upon the Walsh railroads, and coal properties. From time to time it has dickered with him for the purchase of part of his railroads and his coal lands, but the terms they offered were so much lower than Mr. Walsh considered his properties were worth, that nothing came of them.

Other railroads, however, have seen the possibilities in the Southern Indiana and Chicago Southern, and it was several months ago that the Pennsylvania Railroad opened negotiations for their purchase. Mr. Walsh entered into these negotiations secretly, so that the Steel Corporation should not know what was being done, and finally got an offer out of the Pennsylvania Railroad which was better than the one made by the Steel Trust.

But still the amount wasn't enough to satisfy him, for it would not permit him to pay the stockholders of the Chicago National Bank par value of their stock, and that was what he wanted to do. Mr. Walsh himself is the owner of 3,000 shares of the Chicago National Bank stock, par value $100 a share.

"These deals were kept going, however, but there was not much alacrity apparent on the part of either of the bidders to close the negotiations, inasmuch as they both had the same thought, that the time would come before long when these roads would be sold under the hammer, and they could probably get them for a comparatively small price. In the meantime, and quite recently, it is said, a third bidder came into the field, no other than the Canadian Pacific Railroad, which had acquired an entrance into Chicago, and saw a way through the purchase of the Chicago, Milwaukee and Gary and the Walsh railroads to get a through connection to the Ohio River by building a few extensions, and from there it would be an easy matter to make traffic agreements that would land the Canadian Pacific Railroad cars in New Orleans. All this time Mr. Walsh worked in his usual secret manner. He did not let any of the three prospective purchasers know that any one else had a thought of buying his railroads.

"Then came the time when he was unable to meet the interest payment on his note. He had only thirty days in which to raise the money. That was the reason for his trip to New York. It was said to-day by one who knows that despite the denials emanating from the office of J. Pierpont Morgan it was that financier who had really directed the deal for the Steel Corporation.

"Mr. Walsh was able to show Mr. Morgan that by building a short line from the tracks of the Chicago, Milwaukee & Gary road from Momence to connect with the Southern Indiana at about Delmar, the Illinois Steel Company could get its coal and limestone from the Linton fields owned by the Southern Indiana much cheaper than it is now getting them. Included in the deal are the Bedford quarries, which have a large output in limestone.

"Another thing that Mr. Morgan was interested in was the possibility of making some arrangement with the Canadian Pacific Railroad which would give to the Louisville & Nashville, one of the Morgan properties, a vast amount of freight.

"Altogether he was so much impressed with the final proposition as it was put up to him by Mr. Walsh at their recent meeting in New York, that he decided to investigate the matter more carefully. It was understood before Mr. Walsh left New York that Mr. Morgan would take up the matter with the Direceors of the Steel Trust and with the officials of the Chicago, Milwaukee & Gary Railroad, which is a steel corporation property, and would let Mr. Walsh know his decision in Chicago early this week.

"Mr. Walsh also saw the officials of the Pennsylvania Railroad while he was in the East, and he also told them that he was negotiating with other persons for the sale of his roads. When they discovered that it was true that the Steel crowd was dickering with him, the Pennsylvania Directors made him a tentative offer of $19,000,000 for the road. In the meantime he had not entirely forgotten the Canadian Pacific and kept that deal alive.

"From several sources it was learned

Election Betting Brisker—Odds Are 4 to 1 Against Hearst.

There was some election betting yesterday, several large wagers being reported in the afternoon and evening. Lou Wallick, proprietor of the Hotel Cadillac, announced that he had $10,000, all or any part of which he will bet at even money that Hearst will run third in the race.

A bet of $1,000 to $2,000 was laid at the Cadillac that both Gaynor and Bannard will have pluralities of 50,000 over Hearst.

Several thousand dollars were put up with "Charlie" Mahoney at the Hoffman House during the day.

Hugh Smith bet J. R. Josephs $2,500 to $3,000 that Gaynor will get a plurality of 140,000. Smith also covered $2,000 that had been placed in Mahoney's hands at even money that Deputy Controller McCooey will be elected Borough President in Brooklyn. John Ruddy of 583 Fifth Avenue, Brooklyn, bet David Levy $1,000 even that Gaynor will carry Kings and Queens by 40,000. Josephs also bet George Johnson $1,500 even that "Christy" Sullivan will be elected Sheriff.

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—James O'Leary, the bookmaker, announces the following odds on the New York election:

Gaynor, 2 to 5; Bannard, 2 to 1; Hearst, 4 to 1, even a place.

HUGHES FOR SUPREME COURT?

Washington Discusses Possibility of Governor to Succeed Peckham.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Pending the return of President Taft, the possible appointee to the Supreme bench to succeed the late Justice Peckham affords a chief topic of conversation here. Gov. Hughes is now suggested. The belief is strong that New York will get the place, and it fits in with the ordinary geographical distribution of the Justices. Mr. Taft might be expected to keep the court from becoming too strongly dominated by a single party by appointing a Democrat to keep Chief Justice Fuller and Justice White company, but not very many Democrats are available, while a large number of Republicans are suggested.

It is well known that the President has a high respect for Gov. Hughes as a man and as a lawyer. Mr. Taft's debt to Mr. Hughes in the last campaign was frankly and repeatedly admitted by him, and he has often been heard to speak approvingly of the Governor's legal and official record.

Yet doubt is felt here that Gov. Hughes would accept the appointment if offered, and in view of that fact it is considered extremely unlikely that the appointment will be tendered him. Gov. Hughes is believed in Washington to have strong Presidential aspirations, and they would tend to dissatisfy him with the indefinite retirement implied in acceptance of a place on the Supreme bench. Moreover, Gov. Hughes has complained of his inability to support himself and family in public life on his salary as Governor of New York. The salary of Justice would be no greater.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Oct. 27.—Gov. Hughes refuses to talk of or permit to be discussed in his presence the question whether he would accept the office of Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Justice Peckham, or the possibility of his being appointed by President Taft. What is said on the subject about the capitol is that the President would be likely to consider Gov. Hughes when he comes to fill the vacancy unless he deems it incumbent upon him to name a Democrat.

McCARREN ONLY WELL-TO-DO?

Friends Hear His Estate Won't Exceed $50,000 After Debts Are Paid.

Friends of the late Senator Patrick H. McCarren expressed the belief yesterday that when his will is filed for probate it will appear that he left a comparatively small estate. They thought it might not amount to more than $50,000 after the liabilities have been discharged.

It is understood that the Senator left his property in trust for his aged mother. Samuel S. Whitehouse, who drew the will and is one of the executors, will probably file the document in the Surrogates' Court either to-morrow or Saturday.

Senator McCarren is known to have made and lost large sums of money. For several years, it is said, he did not have much success in picking winners at the race tracks, and some of his Wall Street ventures were not profitable to him. Because of the large business transactions he engaged in it was quite generally believed that he possessed a large fortune.

This belief was not borne out, however, by the disclosure which followed the failure last year of the Consolidated Exchange house of Ennis & Stoppani. When the receiver got at the brokers' books he found that Senator McCarren's account had been carried for two years with a heavy debit balance, and the Senator was compelled to settle at a net loss of about $100,000.

It was never definitely learned that the Senator himself had to put up for the loss. In order to take up his account in which large losses in Amalgamated Copper and Brooklyn Rapid Transit were shown it was necessary to turn over to the receiver $450,000 in cash, which represented the then market value of the stock, upon payment of which the shares he was supposed to own were delivered. This sum was supplied by a Stock Exchange firm in the form of a certified check, and the brokers took up the shares.

As far as the record showed none of the Senator's money figured in the deal. One of his friends said yesterday that the transaction really only involved the borrowing of $50,000 above the market value of the securities.

BANNARD AUTO WRECKED.

Without the Candidate It Crashes Into Taxicab—His Tour Delayed.

The touring automobile in which Otto T. Bannard, the Fusion candidate for Mayor, has been campaigning in New York for the past two weeks, was wrecked in a collision with a taxicab at Fifth Avenue and Fifty-fifth Street, opposite the St. Regis Hotel, last night. George T. Bell, Chairman of the Speakers' Bureau of the Republican County Committee, who has been escorting Mr. Bannard on all of his tours, was in the machine at the time. Mr. Bell had his shins scraped, but was otherwise unhurt.

The machine at the time of the collision was on the way to Mr. Bannard's home at Madison Avenue and Fifty-eighth Street. The taxicab into which the Bannard car crashed was trying to cross the street in front of the candidate's car, and the chauffeur of the latter car did not have time or space within which to bring his car to a stop. The taxicab was also badly damaged, and, like the Bannard car, went out of commission.

Mr. Bannard had one of the longest speaking schedules of the campaign last night, and his tour was delayed nearly an hour as a result of the accident. Several of the places where Mr. Bannard was expected to speak had to be cut out of the itinerary.

BERNSTEIN IN DUEL FORGETS TO SHOOT

Critic He Attacked Fires Over Dramatist's Head in Encounter at Prince Park.

IN DANGER OF TAKING COLD

Attending Surgeon Insists on Free Use of Umbrellas—Trousers Carefully Turned Up, Too.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, Oct. 27.—Challenged by M. Chevassu, a critic whom he had attacked in a published article, Henri Bernstein, the dramatist, fought a duel at Prince Park to-day. Neither combatant was injured.

It was raining so hard that the seconds had to load the pistols under embrellas, and they walked about examining the ground with umbrellas raised and trousers turned up well over the ankles. Umbrellas were used to mark the measured thirty paces.

When for a moment one of the combatants—M. Bernstein—closed his umbrella and walked about in the rain, Prof. Pozzi, the eminent surgeon, who was assisting him, was afraid his potential patient might catch cold and strongly advised him to hoist his umbrella again and not to run more risks than necessary. On arriving, the other principal—Chevassu—in a tall hat and frock coat, stopped for a moment to turn up his trousers as he conversed with his doctor and seconds. A little distance off, also sheltered under dripping umbrellas, stood Bernstein in a soft felt hat and lounge suit, chatting gayly with Pozzi and his seconds.

On the word being given, Chevassu fired a shot which passed over Bernstein's head. Bernstein, instead of firing, placed his pistol behind his back. His weapon was taken from him by one of his seconds and discharged. On being asked why he did not fire, Bernstein shrugged his shoulders and replied: "I forgot."

Henri Bernstein seems to have resented the views of the French dramatic critics since the presentation of his latest play, "Israel," in Paris in October of last year. When this drama was first produced the Paris papers expressed widely diverse opinions of it, some finding it diffuse and tiresome, while others praised it.

Henri Bernstein was born in Paris in 1875. His mother was an American, and when he became of age he was sent to Cambridge University, in England, to be educated. He has produced more than a dozen plays in the last two years, most of which have been successful. "Israel" is now being presented in this city.

Among Bernstein's most noted plays are "The Thief," which had a long run in Paris and London before coming to this country last season; "Samson," which ran all of last season in this city; "Après-Moi," "Le Barcail," "Le Détour," "Frère Jacques," "La Rafale," and "Après le Deluge," which was recently produced in Paris.

CUBAN MINISTERS IN DUEL.

Velez and Duque Exchange Four Shots—Nobody Hurt.

HAVANA, Oct. 27.—The dispute between Secretary of State Justo Garcia Velez and Secretary of Sanitation Mathias Duque, whose resignations from the Cabinet were accepted by President Gomez late last night, culminated this morning in a duel with pistols. The men exchanged four shots, but neither was injured.

The action of the President in suddenly accepting the resignations of the Secretaries is believed to have resulted from the decision of the Court of Honor, to which the matter was referred, that a duel was necessary for the vindication of the honor of both in consequence of insults passed in the discussion relative to matters connected with Secretary Duque's department.

It is rumored that Señor Velez will be reinstated as Secretary of State or will be appointed Minister to Berlin.

GUIDES TO FACE COOK.

Barrill and Printz Will Repeat on Platform Denial of McKinley Ascent.

Special to The New York Times.

MISSOULA, Mont., Oct. 27.—Edward N. Barrill, the guide who was with Dr. Cook on his trip to Mount McKinley, angered by efforts to discredit his sworn statement, says he will appear on the platform with Frederick Printz and Dr. Cook to-morrow night at Hamilton, Mont., and the two guides will reiterate their statement that Cook never reached the summit of Mount McKinley.

Charles M. Crutchfield of Hamilton, a member of the Montana Legislature, was to-day retained by Barrill and Printz to defend them against any criminal or civil proceedings which may be brought against them, R. C. Mitchell, Dr. Cook's confidential agent in Montana, having declared that criminal proceedings will be begun against Barrill on charges of perjury. Mr. Crutchfield declares that his clients have told the truth and he courts fullest judicial inquiry.

Printz is especially indignant over an affidavit which he says was sent out by Mr. Mitchell, who asserted that Printz had admitted its truth. Printz says that he not only did not admit that the affidavit was true, but he told Mr. Mitchell that it was false, and he would not sign it no matter what considertaion was offered. Printz denounces as absolutely false the statement that he had solicited a bribe. He repeated the charge that Mitchell had sought to tempt him with money, and says that he absolutely declined to accept it or in any way aid Cook in upholding his claims.

Cook arrived late to-night in Missoula, and will leave to-morrow for Hamilton.

AUSTRIA RESENTS CZAR'S TRIP

Inspired Paper Says Raccohigi Meeting Brings European War Nearer.

VIENNA, Oct. 27.—The Vaterland, which has close relations with Archduke Franz Ferdinand, nephew of Emperor Francis Joseph, and heir-presumptive to the throne, in a sensational article, declares that the Racconigi meeting brings Europe within measurable distance of war, because for Italy and Russia to declare before the world their identity in Balkan interests is in reality a war cry against Austria.

LIFE ON MARS ENDED BY A CATACLYSM?

British Scientists Deduce a Catastrophe from Observed Phenomena—Ours Doubt It.

FAMILIAR MARKS WIPED OUT

A Gloomy Yellow Veil Spreads Over the Planet After a Gigantic Polar Cleavage.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—Fresh changes of an extraordinary nature are reported in Mars by the Journal of the British Astronomical Association. That planet of mystery was nearer the earth during September than at any date since 1892, and in a more favorable position for observation.

The phenomena observed, says the Journal, are altogether without parallel in the records of the past. Vast changes have transformed here and there the appearance of Mars's dusky areas. A gloomy, yellow veil has enshrouded immense tracts of the Martian surface, obliterating the markings. Changes now in progress on the surface of Mars are of extraordinary interest in view of the theory developed by Lowell that Mars is inhabited by a race of living beings. He argues that the canals of Mars are works constructed by a dying race, a race menaced by starvation on a desert planet, to carry water supplied by the melting ice-caps on the poles to the waterless areas near the equator, and thus to raise food.

It is suggested that if the markings have disappeared and the yellow veil has covered immense tracts on the surlace there must have been some catastrophe on a gigantic scale, some cataclysm such as dwarfs the most violent earthquakes known on our planet. What is the exact nature of the cataclysm can, of course, as yet be only vaguely guessed, but it is worth notice that there have been other extraordinary happenings recently on Mars. In August the southern polar cap was observed to have fractured. A dark streak ran all the way across it. About the same time a brilliant spot separated itself from the polar cap and covered one of the dusky areas in Mars, partly hiding it from view.

It may be that abnormal electrical conditions in the sun which, according to Sir Oliver Lodge, caused the recent magnetic storm on the earth, have had a far more terrible influence on Mars. There they may have unloosed forces that ended forever the struggle for life of the Martians.

Prof. Harold Jacoby, Rutherfurd Professor of Astronomy at Columbia, when the substance of this dispatch was communicated to him last night at his home expressed interest in it, but was disposed to doubt that news of a martian cataclysm of such an extent would reach the public by so slow a route as The Journal of the British Astronomical Association.

"I am inclined to think," said Prof. Jacoby, "that if this were as serious as represented the fact would have reached the London daily newspapers themselves long before the British Astronomical Association's journal could receive and print it. The disturbances would probably also have been observed elsewhere. I hesitate to speak definitely without knowing who observed and reported this, and under what circumstances, but I think that had it been of the extent described we would have received earlier and more detailed intelligence of it."

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Scientists in Washington show a marked reluctance to discuss the reported Martian disaster without fuller knowledge of the details of the phenomena. Nothing had been observed here to prepare their minds for the disclosures of the British journal, and until the full story of the observations reaches them it is doubtful that they will have much to say.

Prof. W. S. Eichelberger of the Naval Observatory said nothing of the sort described had ever been recorded in the history of other planets so that scientists had nothing with which to compare the reported cataclysm in Mars.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, Oct. 27.—In regard to the report in the Journal of the British Astronomical Association that a catastrophe had occurred on Mars, Prof. W. H. Pickering of the Harvard Observatory said to-night:

"The Martians are not likely to have their world destroyed, any more than we are ours. I do not think anything of a serious nature has occurred; certainly not a catastrophe.

"The bright spot mentioned was undoubtedly due to some meteorological phenomenon such as a severe frost or heavy snowstorm, while the yellowish veil was undoubtedly nothing but clouds."

John Ritchie, Jr., said he thought little credence should be given to the report inasmuch as Prof. Percival Lowell, who is now at the Flagstaff Observatory in Arizona, had announced the discovery of no such phenomena.

"Prof. Lowell," he declared, "has his eye on that planet, and nothing of such consequence would have escaped him. I do not think there can be much truth in the statement. The observation was made some time ago, else it could not have been published in the journal.

"There have been one or two dust storms, and this may account for the yellow veil, and the white spot is probably nothing but snow, although that is fast disappearing at the present time.

"The whole thing is nothing more than a mere physical change on the planet's surface."

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—"I cannot believe there has been any catastrophe on Mars," said Prof. F. R. Moulton of the University of Chicago to-night. "However, I prefer to reserve a final opinion until I hear more about it.

"The yellow mist has been explained by Prof. Percival Lowell, and is no new discovery by the Britishers. As for the white spot about the south pole, I have seen that with the telescope at the university. It is snow about the south pole."

TWO MORE VICTIMS OF SLAYER GEBHARDT

Murderer of Anna Luther Admits Killing Them—Served Ten Years in Sing Sing.

DUPED OTHERS OUT OF CASH

Swindled Many Under Promise of Marriage—Police Dig Up Yard in Search for Bodies.

Fred Gebhardt, alias Otto Mueller, killed two other wives beside Anna Luther, according to Capt. Coughlin of the Brooklyn Detective Bureau. Gebhardt is said to have made this confession to Coroner Savage at Islip, L. I., yesterday. In addition he admitted having served a ten-year term, shortened from a fourteen-year sentence, in Sing Sing, for the larceny of $340 from one woman he had deserted, and perjury in denying that he was then married to another.

The police, tracing the man's past, found that he had attempted to swindle, all told, possibly six women in matrimonial entanglements, some of whom have disappeared, and may be set down as his victims. A thorough search of the garden and cellar of the man's home at Astoria was made yesterday, but a careful digging up of the premises failed to show the corpses that it was believed might be found there. In these frequent hymeneal ventures Gebhardt would appear to have figured variously under the names of Mueller, Kiser, Schaeferlein, Link, and Gebhardt.

According to Inspector McCafferty photographs of Gebhardt with measurements sent by the local detective bureau to Warden Frost of Sing Sing brought the answer yesterady that Gebhardt, under the name of Fritz Schaeferlein, had served ten years of a fourteen-year sentence there for just such matrimonial frauds as that against Anna Luther.

The police say that Gebhardt, on Dec. 15, 1895, married Anna Link of 167 East 110th Street, took her to Germany, and left here there, while he returned to this country. While he was living at 6 Greenwich Street as Fritz Schaeferlein, a Miss Lena Wessner of 523 Pearl Street answered a matrimonial advertisement he had put in a German paper on Feb. 22, 1896. On March, 8, 1896, according to the police, shortly before the projected marriage, he demanded of the woman as a test of her confidence in him, that she intrust $340 of her savings to him. She did so and Schaeferlein decamped.

Only a few days later, the same advertisement over the name "Herman Kiser" appeared in another German paper. A friend of Miss Wessner, Miss Rosa Reisner, answered it, appointing a rendezvous at Fourteenth Street and Third Avenue. "Kiser" appeared at the rendezvous, was quickly recognized by Miss Wessner, and arrested by Detectives Cronin and Regan, who had been in waiting. He was sentenced to four years and nine months for grand larceny by Justice Aspinall, and ten years more on a perjury charge for falsely swearing that he was unmarried. His term was commuted for good behavior, and he left Sing Sing on Aug. 18, 1905. Schaeferlein's picture in the Rogues' Gallery is No. 3,296.

A woman from Long Island City who called at the Gebhardt home in Astoria yesterday declared that in Gebhardt's picture she thought she recognized one "Reinhold Mueller," a carpenter, who had boarded at the home of her friend, Mrs. Katz, in Jamaica, in the latter part of 1905. Mueller persuaded Mrs. Katz, said this woman, to make over to him her life insurance policy for $700. Three days after the woman had accompanied him from Brooklyn to Jersey City she died suddenly, and Mueller was never seen thereafter. The woman, she said, had a husband and two children and a mother, Mrs. Revelsky, living at 30 Ashland Place, Brooklyn. At that address no one by that name was known. The Long Island City woman refused to tell her own name, but declared that she would go to Islip to make her identification of Gebhardt more positive.

That was in January, 1906. On Feb. 6, 1906, just three years before his marriage to Anna Luther, Gebhardt married his present wife, Anna Meinke. Mrs. Gebhardt said yesterday that he had frequently beaten her and once offered a friend $2,000 in her presence if he would obtain grounds for a divorce for him.

"That's why he brought me home the fine clothes from Hamburg," she said. "And once, while I was in another room," she said, "I heard him say to a friend that he had seven wives underground already."

On Feb. 6, 1908, Gebhardt, as Otto Mueller, married Anna Luther at Newark, N. J., and, according to his own confession, killed her on April 9, 1908, near Islip, L. I. It was just about this time that he became again matrimonially active elsewhere. According to Conrad Hufner, who keeps a saloon at 645 Steinway Avenue, Astoria, only two blocks from the Gebhardt home, Gebhardt, whom he had never seen before, came to his saloon about one and one-half years ago, asking permission to have letters addressed to him there, as many workmen did. He said his name was Otto Mueller, and that he worked at the Steinway factory.

"Thereafter letters came frequently for him," said Hufner, yesterday. "I should say there were two special delivery letters and about twenty others, most of them in feminine handwriting. Mueller would come in sometimes twice a week, drink his glass of beer, put his letters in his pockets, and go away.

"On Jan. 6, 1909, came a special delivery letter addressed to him, but he never called for it. On the reverse of the envelope was written: 'E. Schroeder, 1,893 Seventh Ave., Manhattan.' Two months later, two young woman came to my place asking where they could find Otto Mueller, an architect. I told them he was merely a carpenter, and showed them the letter I held for him. One of the women wanted it, saying it was sent by her, and that she wished to destroy it. I refused, however, and two days ago, when I read about Mueller or Gebhardt in the papers, I turned the letter over to the police."

The young woman, it was discovered last night, was a servant girl for five years in the family of D. Zimmer, at the Seventh Avenue address. There it was only known that she had been courted by the "architect" until she grew suspicious of him. Then, when the murder story began to centre around him, the girl, to avoid notoriety, left for her home in Germany last Monday. She never told whether Mueller had defrauded her of her savings.

The Astoria police learned yesterday that one other woman of that place, with whom Gebhardt had frequently been seen in one of the saloons, was missing. They could not ascertain whether or not she had left town to avoid notoriety, and they refused to divulge her name. Detective Hennessy said yesterday that he had followed up every clue in the theory that another of Gebhardt's wives was Anna Lanz, who disappeared from the Hotel Astor five years ago, and that he had found the rumor without foundation. Her disappearance was never reported.

Mrs. Minnie Rosenau Mueller, a servant in the home of John Belter, at Flushing, will go to Islip to-morrow to further identify Gebhardt, whom she believes to be the Otto Mueller, a locksmith, who married her in Russia and deserted her in 1895.

TALL CHURCH FOR DR. AKED.

That Will Be the Feature of New $500,000 Edifice—Site 100 Feet Square.

The new edifice to replace the present Fifth Avenue Baptist Church was discussed at a business meeting held in the church last night. Dr. Charles F. Aked, the pastor, presided. It had been expected that the name of the successful architect among the several who have subbitted plans for the new structure would be announced, but Dr. Aked said that the name of the successful competitor must remain secret a few more days.

Actually, the pastor admitted, no choice has been made yet owing to the absence from the city for the last few days of Edgar L. Marston, Chairman of the Board of Trustees, and of the special committee appointed to pass upon the plans.

"So equally satisfactory are three of the six plans submitted, however," said Dr. Aked, "that I should be willing to make a choice among them blindfolded."

Dr. Aked set at rest a rumor that the church had bought or intended to buy the Lotos Club property adjoining in Forty-sixth Street. He said that the new edifice would cover, however, not only the site now occupied by the church, but also that now used for the chapel and parsonage. Its height, said Dr. Aked, would be the principal feature of the new structure, which can spread over a plot only 100 by 100 feet in area.

BIG VANDERBILT MORTGAGE.

Alfred G. Raises $2,000,000 on Park Ave. Block—May Mean a New Hotel.

Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt has mortgaged the block front on the west side of Park Avenue, between Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth Streets, to Mrs. Alice G. Vanderbilt and others, executors of the Cornelius Vanderbilt estate, for $2,000,000, due in five years, and bearing 4½ per cent. interest.

This is taken to mean that work will be begun in the near future on the twenty-story hotel projected for this site, plans for which were filed over a year ago. The house at the Thirty-fourth Street corner of the block was at one time the Vanderbilt residence, and was more recently the home of the Princeton Club.

The entire plot measures 200 feet on Park Avenue and 80 feet on the side streets.

IN HOSPITAL, MEMORY GONE.

Patient, in Boston, Says He Is Thomas Lowe of Long Island City.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, Oct. 27.—In the Relief Hospital there is a very sick man who remembers that his name is Thomas Lowe and that he comes from Long Island City. Everything else he has forgotten.

Lowe walked into the hospital yesterday afternoon and applied for treatment. The doctors saw that the man was dazed and an examination showed him to be suffering from a cerebral trouble that has robbed him of his memory. So far as the hospital people are able to learn the man has been in Boston only a few days. Efforts are being made to find his friends in Long Island City.

L. W. HILL TAKEN FOR TRAMP.

Railway President Sleeps in a Haystack When Auto Breaks Down.

LIBBY, Mon., Oct. 27.—Louis W. Hill, President of the Great Northern Railroad, while automobiling from Helena to Great Falls was mistaken for a tramp when his machine broke down. He was compelled to sleep in a haystack, a farmer refusing him lodging.

Mr. Hill, who was visiting the proposed glacier National park, with a photographer and others, got separated from the party. He met a hunter and engaged his services to escort him out. Neither had any food, but they found an abandoned camp and procured some bread. The hunter killed an elk, and for four days this was their sole ration.

Finally they reached Belton, where Hill was picked up and brought to this place.

APPEAL TO TAFT FOR THAW.

A Prominent Woman Addresses President in Behalf of White's Slayer.

Special to The New York Times.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 27.—President Taft's secretary to-day found in the executive mail letters pleading for Harry K. Thaw, confined as insane under the laws of the State of New York, after the verdict of the jury which tried the Pittsburger for the killing of Stanford White.

A big batch of mail was delivered direct from the Post Office to the lighthouse tender Oleander, the flagship of the Taft fleet. No statement other than the official one given out to the newspaper men "that a prominent woman had addressed President Taft in behalf of Thaw," was to be obtained, but it was stated that a letter bearing the crest of one of the most prominent New York families had been received.

ADRIFT HOURS IN SMALL BOAT.

Engineer on a Mud Digger Finally Tossed on Fire Island Shore.

SAYVILLE, L. I., Oct. 27.—Samuel S. Fretck of South Brooklyn, engineer on a mud digger at work on the north side of Great South Bay, between Babylon and Bay Shore, aroused the inmates of the Fire Island Life Saving Station shortly after 4 o'clock this morning, and staggered into the house, exhausted and almost in a state of collapse. To the life savers he told how he had battled for seven hours in the night against the high seas which threatened to swamp the small sharpie in which he was afloat in the bay, and how he had finally landed on the island.

Fretck said that after supping on board another digger, he started to row back to his own craft, and dropped one of his oars almost as soon as he entered the sharpie. Then he tried to skull. A high wind which kept driving his prow around prevented him from making headway, and finally drove him away from shore out into water where the seas were running high and threatened momentarily to swamp his boat.

By skulling and baling incessantly, Fretck managed to keep the sharpie afloat, but he was powerless to guide it, and it was only by chance that he brought up on Fire Island. The life savers rowed him back to his craft later in the morning, where he was greeted enthusiastically by his friends, who had given him up for dead, supposing that his sharpie had sunk and he had been drowned.

SUGAR TRUST MEN WILL FACE THE LAW

Parsons and the Other Directors Decline to Plead Statute of Limitations.

SAY THEY'LL FIGHT IT OUT

Dismissal of Indictments Against Kissel and Harned Will Be Appealed to the Supreme Court.

Following announcement of the Government of its intention to appeal from the decision of Judge Holt of the United States Circuit Court dismissing the indictments against Gustav E. Kissel and Thomas B. Harned in the Pennsylvania Sugar Company conspiracy cases on the ground that the Statute of Limitations has run against the offense, it was learned yesterady that John E. Parsons and Directors of the trust who were indicted in the same matter, will not take advantage of the Statute of Limitations, even if Kissel and Harned are successful in their fight to shelter themselves beneath it. Mr. Parsons put it thus to some of his intimates:

"It wouldn't show good sporting blood. We'll fight this thing out."

The indictment of the Sugar Trust, eight of its Directors, including Mr. Parsons and President Washington B. Thomas, and Gustav E. Kissel and Thomas B. Harned of Philadelphia followed the settlement by the trust of the suit for $30,000,000 brought against it under the Sherman anti-trust act by George E. Earle, receiver of the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining Company, and of the Real Estate Trust Company of Philadelphia. That suit was based on charges of conspiracy to put the Pennsylvania concern out of business.

Neither Henry A. Stimson, who is prosecuting the Sugar Trust for the sugar weighing frauds, nor Henry A. Wise, United States Attorney, would discuss Judge Holt's decision yesterday, preferring to let the statement of the Government's position come from Washington. It was learned, however, that if the decisions were upheld it will seriously affect many prosecutions of trust cases in which conspiracies were committed years ago, and then a state of facts created by the original conspiracy has extended down to a period well within the Statute of Limitations through the acts of the participants in the original conspiracy, carrying out its intentions.

It has been the practice of the Government to allege in such instance the existence of the conspiracy and then to set up the overt acts, beginning with the acts entering into the conspiracy agreement itself, and running down through the entire period in which the conspiracy has remained effective. If Judge Holt should be upheld, however, it would be impossible to go beyond the initial acts, and many conspiracies which might otherwise be reached under the Sherman act could not be prosecuted because they began more than five years ago.

The Government, it is understood, believes that the higher court will take its position in the matter, and has the comfort of knowing that Judge Holt's decision dismissing some of the first rebating indictments affecting the New York Central and the Sugar Trust was reversed by the higher court, as well as his decision dismissing the complaint of the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining Company against the Sugar Trust, upon which the trust made its settlement last Spring.

The appeal of the Government under the statute of 1907 will be direct to the Supreme Court of the United States.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—"The Government will at once institute an appeal from this decision," announced Attorney General Wickersham to-day in reference to the action of Judge Holt in the Circuit Court at New York, sustaining the plea of the statute of limitations interposed by the defendants Kissel and Harned to the indictment against them jointly with the American Sugar Refining Company. The case involves violations of the conspiracy laws.

The Attorney General said that Judge Holt's decision was of far-reaching consequence.

In the Sherman anti-trust law, according to the courts, the word conspiracy has the same meaning as the word contract, and, therefore, Judge Holt applied to a conspiracy in restraint of trade the same law of limitation as is applicable to a contract in restraint of trade. That is, as the Attorney General expressed it, the court held that the offense was complete, and the statute of limitations began to run the moment the contract was signed or the moment the conspirators were agreed in their design.

"The Department of Justice on the other hand," said the Attorney General, "has always entertained the view that Congress employed the different words advisedly, that a contract in restraint of trade is not the same thing as a conspiracy in restraint of trade.

"Where the law enacts that every person who engaged in a conspiracy to restrain trade is guilty of a misdemeanor, it means that so long as the conspirators are continuing in a course of conduct which restrains inter-State trade or commerce, they are violating the act.

"Where the restraint of trade may be terminated by their voluntary act, and not otherwise, the statute of limitations does not begin to run in their favor until they perform the act which terminates the restraint, and allows the current of trade, which they had interrupted, to resume its course."

FRIENDS CAPTURE HERMIT.

Think He's Insane and a Thief—Abandoned Wife and Family.

PATCHOGUE, L. I., Oct. 27.—Friends of Harry Owens of this place, formerly a member of the Blue Point Life Savers, believe that his mind has been affected by the reading of dime novels and excessive smoking. In no other way can they account for the actions of the man, who two months ago abandoned his home and allowed his wife to go to her parents with her two children, while he went to live in the woods near by in huts or lean-tos which he built himself.

To-day his friends formed a posse and captured the man. It is believed that he has been guilty of several small thefts recently, but the object of his capture was more to have his sanity examined into than to prosecute him for thieving.

Among the things which Owens is believed to have stolen are the horse and carriage of Fire Chief Charles E. Jones, found later near one of Owens's huts, and several articles from the home of J. P. Cousins of Brooklyn at Blue Point, which was entered recently.

BANNARD ASSAILS CITY WATER WASTE

Money Spent on Catskill System an "Orgy of Extravagance," Declares Fusion Candidate.

DELAYED BY AUTO WRECK

His Tour of the Bronx Has to Wait an Hour—Tells What the Mayor Can Do.

Otto T. Bannard, Fusion candidate for Mayor, made a second invasion of the Bronx within a week last night and addressed several enthusiastic meetings. With a single exception all of the Bronx speeches were in the Westchester section. After the Bronx tour the candidate hurried back to Manhattan, where he addressed two other meetings.

Mr. Bannard was delayed about an hour in starting as a result of an accident to his automobile. It was nearly 9 o'clock when he reached Camp Bannard, at 149th Street, near Third Avenue, where he began his tour. There he found an audience of about 1,500 people waiting to hear him, and they gave him a long and noisy welcome.

Mr. Bannard began his speech with a plea for the election of Cyrus Miller, the Fusion candidate for President of the Bronx, dwelling on the importance of the office, and the power it wields in the Board of Estimate. He said that in the next four years the city is destined to spend a great deal of money and that it was necessary that the men who are to be members of the Board should be men who would see to it that the city's money was properly spent.

The Power in the Mayor's Hands.

"The Tammany government has lost sight of the fact that City officials are elected as trustees for the expenditure of the people's money. If you appoint a trustee of your property you expect him to invest it wisely and account for what he did with it. Your City officials have the same responsibility, and you should exercise the same care, as far as possible, in this great city, in choosing custodians of the vast sums placed at their disposal. You want absolute honesty and business ability.

"Emphasis has been laid upon the importance of electing the Board of Estimate. That, I believe, has been easily accomplished. The importance of the office of Mayor should not be treated lightly. His vote represents nearly one-fifth of the Board over which he presides, and to attempt to obscure the importance of this office is unfair to the voter.

"The Mayor appoints the head of the police and fire departments. He appoints the Board of Education. He appoints the head of the Tenement House Department, the supervisor of the dwellings of millions of our people, a tremendous power for good or evil. There is the Health Department, especially vital; the Department of Docks and Ferries, more important now than ever, with its new problems; the Park Department, the Water and Light Department, the Street Cleaning Department, the Department of Charities and Correction. The great city public hospital trustees are appointed by the Mayor, also justices and magistrates of certain of the criminal courts.

"And not by any means the least of these are the Commissioners of Accounts, as the watch dogs of our expenditures with unusual powers, and the Corporation Counsel, the legal adviser.

"Your Mayor should interest himself in each of the five Boroughs and should personally look at the public improvements in each Borough and be accessible for advice and information from the citizens of such Borough before a recommendation is adopted, and during the progress of the work. Choose carefully the man whom you will endow with this power and responsibility, and let us hope that he will have no difficulty in finding honest, able, and practical men to lay aside their tools and work for the City.

Denounces Waste of Water.

"In his annual message this year Mayor McClellan says that it is evident that a shortage of water may be experienced before water from the catskills is available. Experts say that the amount of water wasted over the new Croton dam since November, 1907, would have supplied the city for three years if it could have been stored. It is estimated that an impounding dam might well have been built to protect the city against water famine at a cost of $3,000,000 or $4,000,000—while they spend $200,000,000 for the Catskills system. The present administration seems guilty of neglect in this matter. In July last the pinch was felt to the extent that a curtailment of water for the Street Cleaning Department was ordered.

"Preventable leakage is another serious charge made against the present administration. It is estimated that at least one-half of the water delivered to the Borough of Manhattan is lost by leakage and waste, much of which could be saved by well-known methods. While this orgy of extravagance goes on in the Catskills no systematic crusade is made against the 200,000,000 gallons a day which goes to waste.

"The next administration should safeguard the city against water famine. Engineering obstacles are retarding the progress of the Catskills scheme under the Hudson River, and it is imperative that water be stored at the new Croton dam, or leakage and waste stopped here, or both. But how can you exject Tammany to stop waste, whether water or cash? It has spent $2,200,000 acquiring land in the Catskills and of that $900,000 or 40 per cent. was for the expense of buying it. What would you think if it cost you $400 to buy a lot worth $600, making the total cost of the lot $1,000, instead of $600?

"Let us turn over a new leaf and agree that there are no spoils coming to a city officer, that he can only take his salary, and if he does not want the office on these terms, he should resign or be removed. Stealing city money is no more humorous than stealing private money. Stealing is just stealing and graft is sneak thieving."

The Tide Turning His Way.

From Camp Bannard the candidate went to White Plains Road and 215th Street where he found another enthusiastic gathering that he addressed briefly, after which he lost no time in getting to the Casino, at Unionport Road and Van Nest Avenue.

"It is a wet night," he told the crowd there, "but I am very cheerful just the same, for my impression is strong that the tide is turning my way."

After the applause that followed this remark Mr. Bannard caused more cheering with this epigram:

"Stealing is stealing and grafting is sneak thieving."

Niblo's Garden, at 170th Street and Third Avenue, contained at least 2,000 people when the Bannard automobile reached there. Gen. George T. Loud was in charge.

Mr. Bannard referred to the necessity of building the Lexington Avenue Subway and also to the need of more school room in the Bronx. After the Niblo Garden speech he spoke in the Mercy Seat Colored Baptist Church in Harlem and at the Murray Hill Lyceum, at Thirty-fourth Street and Third Avenue.

Bursting Tire Keeps Gaynor Away.

Judge Gaynor disappointed a crowd of 1,500 laborers who had gathered at 141st Street and Locust Avenue, the Bronx, at noon yesterday to hear him make a speech. On the way to the meeting a tire on the candidate's automobile burst, and it could not be repaired in time to allow him to get there.

Denies Ivins's Bank Loan Story.

Robert R. Moore, the Tammany candidate for Controller, issued a statement yesterday denying the insinuation of William M. Ivins that an unsecured loan to Loie Fuller, the dancer, had been largely responsible for the severing of his connection with the New Amsterdam National Bank. "These men must be getting desperate if this is the kind of campaigning they are resorting to," said he.

BANNARD'S PROGRAMME

In Queens To-night—Wickersham to Speak at Durland's Meeting.

Otto T. Bannard, the Fusion nominee for Mayor, will make a tour of Queens this evening. He will speak at three meetings—one at Dauer's Hall in Richmond Hill, another at Kreuscher's Hall at Ridgewood, and the third at Jenny's Hall in Woodhaven. At noon he speaks under the auspices of the Business Men's Municipal Association at 412 Broadway.

John Claflin, President of the association, will preside at the mass meeting which is being arranged by the business men for to-morrow evening at Durland's Riding Academy. Mr. Bannard and all the candidates on the city ticket will address the meeting. The other speakers will include Attorney General Wickersham, ex-United States Senator John C. Spooner, ex-Mayor Charles S. Schieren of Brooklyn, ex-Lieut. Gov. M. Linn Bruce, ex-Senator Nathaniel M. Elsberg, and ex-Judge Charles E. Moore, President of the Southern Democratic Society.

CALLS GAYNOR LABOR'S FOE.

Circular to Street Car Men Accuses Him of Breaking Brooklyn Strike.

Circulars accusing Judge Gaynor of having caused the failure of the street railroad men's strike in Brooklyn in 1895, by his failure to issue a peremptory writ of mandamus against the company, were distributed yesterday at the various carbarns in Brooklyn. They were read eagerly.

It was set forth that Joseph Roader, a "business man and large property owner," applied to Justice Gaynor, sitting in Special Term, for a peremptory writ of mandamus to compel the railroad company to operate its lines forthwith and to man them with competent and experienced operators.

Justice Gaynor, the circular explains, pointed out the duty of the company as a public service corporation, saying that "there was no excuse for the company not running its cars regularly."

"Nevertheless," the circular adds, "he issued only an alternative writ, requiring the company to either commence regular operation of its lines immediately, with competent men, or within twenty days to appear before the court and show cause why it should not be required to do so.

"It meant that the company was to have nearly three weeks in which to try to break the strike, with 7,000 of the militia aiding the regular police force. The strike was broken. The action of Justice Gaynor had practically wiped out the organization of the street railroad men.

"It is submitted that on these facts," the circular concludes, "no friend of organized labor can vote for the election of Gaynor to be Mayor of New York City."

DRY GOODS FOLK FOR BANNARD

Polls of the Clerks in the District Show Sentiment All One Way.

On behalf of the Business Men's Municipal Association Lloyd C. Griscom said yesterday that there was no truth in reports that straw votes taken in the wholesale dry goods district had shown pluralities for Hearst. One such report had it that a straw vote with that result had been taken among the employes of the Tefft-Weller Company.

"There is no truth whatever in the report," said John Beach, a member of the company. "Our men, with few exceptions, are for Bannard. The greater number of Tammany men in our employ have signified their intention of voting that way; the Republicans and independents will vote for him to a man."

William B. Fuller of the H. B. Claflin Company said he had caused a canvass to be made among the employes of that concern, and the canvass showed that nearly every man who had intended to vote for Gaynor had changed his mind since the former jurist had begun making speeches. The Hearst men, said Mr. Fuller, had been won over by the conviction that Tammany could be beaten only by their voting for Bannard.

Clarence Whitman of Clarence Whitman & Co. said: "I have had a thorough canvass made both in our salesrooms and at our factory. Ninety per cent. of our men are going to vote for Bannard. The extent of the Bannard sentiment was a gratifying surprise. I am told that the men who supported Hearst in 1905 are wearing Bannard buttons this year."

ELECTION DISPUTES SETTLED.

Court of Appeals Gives Decisions in Six Wrangles Over the Ticket.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 27.—Arguments were heard to-day by the Court of Appeals on six election disputes in New York City. The court decided five of them without leaving the bench. The other was announced after consultation, following a recess.

The court affirmed the decision of the Appellate Division, which held that Linden Bates, Republican candidate for the Assembly in the Twenty-ninth Manhattan District; Ralph Forks, Republican candidate for Alderman in the Thirtieth District; Henry S. Goodspeed, Republican candidate for Assembly in the First District of Kings; Robert Downing, Republican candidate for Alderman in the Forty-second Kings District, and Alexander Drescher, Democratic candidate for Alderman in the Sixty-fifth Kings District, were entitled to have their names also in the Civic Alliance column.

Chief Cullen announced that the court would not review the decision of the Appellate Division, where it had reached a unanimous conclusion, upon a question of fact.

The court reversed the Appellate Division in the sixth case and held that William O. Badger, candidate for Municipal Court Justice in Brooklyn in the Civic Alliance column, was also entitled to have his name in the Republican column.

MURPHY WAITS FOR HEARST.

Says "Silence Is Consent" Regarding the Offer to Tammany in 1904.

Leader Murphy of Tammany refused yesterday to talk further about the alleged attempt of Hearst to purchase the New York delegation in the Democratic National Convention in 1904.

"Let Hearst tell his story first," said he.

"But he refuses to deny it," he was told.

"I know it, and silence is consent. He'll have to deny the story before I will talk about it."

Gaynor's Programme for To-night.

Judge Gaynor and most of the principal Tammany nominees will speak to-night at a subway mass meeting to be held under the auspices of the Taxpayers' Protective Union at Carnegie Hall. D Cady Herrick and Calvin Tomkins will be heard there, too. Messrs. Gaynor, Moore, Galvin, Battle, and Haag are to go on to speak at the Harlem Casino, the Amsterdam Opera House, in West Forty-fourth Street, and Niblo's Garden, 170th Street and Third Avenue, the Bronx. Twenty-five district meetings are scheduled for to-night.

GERMAN MINERS ON STRIKE.

Resent Discharge of Men Who Joined a Socialist Organization.

EISLEBEN, Germany, Oct. 27.—A strike has been declared here by 10,000 copper and lignite miners because the mine owners dismissed forty-five men who had joined a Socialist organization. It is expected that the strike will spread, and that at least 20,000 miners will be involved.

Troops have been guarding the mines for several days.

Dedicate New Y. M. H. A. Building.

The new building of the Young Men's Hebrew Association at 165th Street and Boston Road, the first one to be erected in the Bronx, was dedicated last evening. Secretary of State Koenig was Chairman, and he introduced these speakers: Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, Chancellor MacCracken of New York University, Rabbi Samuel Schulman, Rabbi Bernard Grachman, Madison C. Peters, and Julius Tobias.

Boston Steamers Withdrawn.

The steamships Yale and Harvard of the Metropolitan direct all the way by water route between New York and Boston will be withdrawn from service after Oct. 29. The Yale and Harvard have this season carried upward of 150,000 passengers.

HEARST DISTURBED BY GAYNOR MAN

Meeting of Independent Democrats Gets in an Uproar at That and Offender Is Put Out.

HEARST WOULD LET HIM STAY

Civic Alliance Candidate Tells Audience That Tammany Makes Tools of Unworthy Judges.

A man with a raucous voice who interrupted William R. Hearst during a speech at an independent Democratic rally at Carnegie Hall last night brought on a scene of wild disorder, and in the end was thrown out.

Mr. Hearst, after having spoken at two other meetings, was warming up to his speech to the Carnegie Hall audience, which filled every seat. He had launched upon a sharp attack of Judge Gaynor when a man sitting half way back in the auditorium cried in a voice that carried to the uppermost gallery:

"Gaynor's a better man than you."

Mr. Hearst paused, and the crowd began calling upon the police to throw the interruptor out. All over the hall men arose in their seats, and half a dozen police rushed down the aisles to find the man who had started the trouble. He was quickly pointed out and two stalwart policeman grabbed him. The man struggled, protesting that he had a right to be there.

"He has been paid by Tammany to do this," yelled a voice, and the crowd began hooting. Amid cat calls and impelled by vigorous prodding of the police the struggling patriot was hustled into the street. When the door had closed behind him Mr. Hearst, who had stood regarding the scene with a rather quizzical smile, remarked:

"My friends, I think you could have afforded to let him stay, as there is a majority here of 5,000 to 1."

The crowd yelled for Hearst, and the Civic Alliance candidate for Mayor resumed his speech.

Mr. Hearst was cheered for ten minutes immediately after he stepped to the stage at 10:15 o'clock. In every part of the hall men and women—for at least one-fourth of the gathering was made up of women—waved handkerchiefs and newspapers. The cheering, after going on for five minutes, resolved itself into the old battle cry of "Hearst! Hearst! Hearst!" Mr. Hearst beamed upon the audience, bowed, swung back and forth on his toes, raised his hands in an effort to stop the applause so he could start his speech, but all in vain. The crowd cheered until there were no more cheers left.

Tammany Men on the Stage.

It had been announced that the meeting was called at the instance of independent Democrats who believed Hearst ought to be the next Mayor, and on the stage were several former Tammany fighters who had aligned themselves with the Civic Alliance. Conspicuous among them was William Hepburn Russell, Chairman of the rally, and Major Edward Owen, former Commissioner of Accounts, who called the meeting to order. Mr. Russell made the crowd yell when he declared that the Democratic Party in this State had fallen to the depths when it had sunk from the leadership of Grover Cleveland to Charles F. Murphy.

After Mr. Russell came George McAneny, candidate for President of Manhattan Borough, who among other things discussed Mr. Gaynor's reputation.

"What has become of his reputation?" demanded a voice.

"I'm not here to solve any conundrums," replied Mr. McAneny. "I don't know where it is."

John Purroy Mitchel, candidate for President of the Board of Aldermen, was in the middle of his speech when Mr. Hearst arrived. Mr. Hearst told the audience that he felt considerably at ease "at a Democratic meeting that is not a Tammny meeting." He informed the audience that his father and grandfathers had been sound Democrats, and that they would probably approve his course in having become an Independent Democrat were they alive to know the issues of this campaign.

The Duty of the Voters.

Mr. Hearst went on to tell what he considered to be the principles of true Democracy, and declared that he believed it to be the duty of every voter to put Tammany Hall out of control of the city.

"Tammany Hall has neither patriotism nor principle, neither Democracy nor loyalty," was one of his declarations that brought vigorous applause. Then he asked:

"How can you hope to have official morality if the red-light wretches and the race-track gamblers can make their squalid tools unworthy Judges, and make unworthy Judges their squalid tools?"

He insisted that "if the evil designs of the red-light wretches and the race-track gamblers are thwarted, it is not the Republican Party nor the Democratic Party that has done it, but the independents."

When Mr. Hearst promised, if elected, to "destroy the corruption of Tammany Hall," there were loud cries.

"You're the man who can do it," exclaimed a man in the gallery.

"Who couldn't find Tammany Hall?" called out another.

"Gaynor couldn't, but Hearst will find the City Hall," came the answer.

Mr. Hearst smiled and assured the crowd the while he knew where to find Tammany Hall he was keeping away from it.

BRONX CHEERS FOR HEARST.

He Addresses One Meeting There and Another at Sulzer's Park.

Before the Carnegie Hall meeting Mr. Hearst invaded the Bronx, attacking Tammany Hall before a large crowd at the Jackson Avenue Casino. Leaving there he went to Sulzer's Harlem River Park and made the same speech before one of the largest crowds he has addressed in the present campaign. Fully 4,000 persons were jammed into the hall.

At both places Mr. Hearst was wildly cheered. Throughout his speech he referred to himself as being a lifelong Democrat. He said his father and grandfather before him were stanch Democrats, but he did not think Tammany Hall was a representative Democratic organization.

He pledged himself, while the crowd yelled itself hoarse, to devote himself to the destruction of Tammany Hall whether he was elected or not. He referred to his college days, when he was suspended from Harvard for holding a flag raising in his rooms to celebrate Grover Cleveland's election. At both meetings Mr. Hearst had the crowd with him, and they applauded him almost continuously. At the Jackson Avenue Casino, where 1,500 men were gathered, he was cheered for five minutes, and at the Harlem River Park seven minutes. He received the greatest ovation when he declared that Tammany Hall was not a political, but a piratical organization, "and not even that," he added, "because a pirate chief will divide with his crew." Stamping his foot vigorously, he declared at one point that he was wrong when he accepted the Tammany nomination for Governor three years ago. He said Tammany betrayed and slaughtered him in this city at that time as it betrayed Bryan last year. He received an ovation when he declared at the top of his voice:

"How can you have municipal morality when the red light wretches and the race track gamblers unite to make unworthy Judges squalid tools and squalid tools unworthy Judges?"

Leaving Harlem River Park, Mr. Hearst went direct in his automobile to Carnegie Hall.

McAllister Estate to Children.

By the will of Mrs. Sarah Taintor McAllister, widow of Ward McAllister, filed for probate yesterday, all her estate goes in equal parts to her children, Louise W. and Heywood Hall McAllister of 603 Madison Avenue. The value of the estate was not given.

FULTON FETE BILLS TOO HIGH.

Commission Objects to Paying Some—May Be a Deficit.

Herman Ridder said at a meeting yesterday of the trustees of the Hudson-Fulton Commission, of which he is Vice President, that some trouble might be expected over big bills against the Commission, wherein "corporations and millionaires" had put up the charges. Mr. Ridder said these bills should not be paid until it had been determined that they were just. He did not expect any trouble over the smaller bills.

In one instance, said Mr. Ridder, where the original bill was $32,000, he had forced a settlement at $25,000. He thought there would be a small deficit which had already been provided for, but intimated that if the settlement of bills were left to him there might not be a deficit.

The failure of the Redfield Bros., publishers of the official programme, to make within $20,000 of the cost of the programmes, a representative of that firm stated to the Commission, was due to the "pirates," who got out many cheap editions. He said the programmes cost about $58,000, while the receipts aggregated but $37,000. As many of the programmes had to be sold at five cents a copy wholesale, in order to get rid of them, he asked that the firm be relieved from paying the five-cent royalty, as called for by the contract. The request was tabled for further consideration.

The Committee on Decorations and Reviewing Stands of the Hudson-Fulton Commission gave a dinner in the National Arts Club, Gramercy Park, last night. Jacob A. Cantor presided. Among the speakers were Gen. Stewart L. Woodford, William Berri, G. A. Pugsley, William McCarroll, Tunis G. Bergen, Francis Lynde Stetson, and Dr. Thomas Darlington.

ACQUIT DR. J. WALTER WOOD.

Physician Will Now Press Charges Against His Assailants.

Dr. J. Walter Wood, one of the most prominent physicians on Staten Island, who was badly beaten last August by Frank Decamera, a Brooklyn printer, and Decamera's brother-in-law, William F. Lawson, a clerk, of Port Richmond, S. I., after Mrs. Decamera had denounced the physician's conduct on the occasion of a professional visit to his office, was acquitted in the Supreme Court at Richmond, S. I., of the charges of Mrs. Decamera, which had resulted in his indictment. Decamera and Lawson, who are under indictment for assault, will now be tried.

The case attracted much attention when the beating administered by the brothers-in-law made it public. The men admitted that after hearing Mrs. Decamera's story they had summoned Dr. Wood to the Lawson home and set upon him there. The physician was confined to his house for several days.

Dr. Wood was congratulated by a number of physicians when the verdict was announced. He says he will now press the charges against Decamera and Lawson.

TAXICAB UNDRESSED HIM.

Tore His Clothes Off Against Pillar—Ambulance Took Him Home.

Every stitch of clothing which Walter Keaume of 64 West 100th Street, a painter, had on his back when he left his home last night was ripped off later when a taxicab took hold of him by the coattail and threw him against an elevated pillar at 100th Street and Columbus Avenue. The pillar and the taxicab rubbed off his clothing, and he dropped on his feet in the roadway.

A J. Hood Wright Hospital ambulance was running south in Columbus Avenue on its way to the West 100th Street Station. The ambulance made good time down the avenue. As the machine approached 100th Street Keaume stepped into the roadway. The driver of the ambulance clanged his gong and Keaume, startled, jumped forward. He landed directly before the taxicab, which took half of his clothing from him.

Dr. Breglia on the ambulance saw the accident and hustled Keaume into the ambulance. The trip to the station house was finished in short order, and after a man there had been treated the police gave the painter a blanket and the ambulance took him to his home.

A GOMPERS'S BIRTHDAY.

Four Generations to Celebrate the 82d of Labor Leader's Father To-day.

Samuel Gompers, President of the American Federation of Labor, will be in the city on Saturday to preside at a birthday party, to be given by four generations of the family to his father, Solomon Gompers, in the Yorkville Casino in East Eighty-sixth Street. The latter will be 82 years old.

There will be 200 guests, representing the Gompers family and their relatives by marriage, including forty grandchildren and fifteen great-grandchildren. There will be a dinner, at which Samuel Gompers will act as toastmaster, and a dance will follow.

that the trade had practically been closed with the Steel Company to-day, and that its representatives had paid him $100,000 in cash down for an option extending several months, during which time, it is proposed to make such traffic arrangements with the Canadian Pacific and the Louisville & Nashville as will be necessary. If the arrangements go through Mr. Morgan will undoubtedly exercise his option, and Mr. Walsh will receive the stipulated sum for his interest in the roads.

For the first time since his arrest Mr. Walsh made a definite statement to-day concerning his financial affairs. The statement came through E. T. Ritcher, his personal attorney, who said:

"The interest on Mr. Walsh's note will be paid to-morrow. I cannot say where the money will come from or whether it has anything to do with a deal for the sale of the properties. The negotiations which have been going on for the last few days have been satisfactory to Mr. Walsh and his friends, and I think there will be some developments in the next day or two that can be made public."

"H. W. Seaman, former President of the Chicago, Milwaukee & Gary Railroad and still a Director, declined to confirm the statement that that road was to purchase the Walsh railroads.

"'I can say only this,' he declared: 'That if you will look at the map you will see how natural it would be for the Chicago, Milwaukee & Gary Railroad and the Walsh roads to merge. When our line is finished it will extend from Milwaukee on the north to Gary, passing through Momence and Joliet, and it would be an easy matter to connect our lines with the Southern Indiana.

The Canadian Pacific has recently bought a line into Portage, Wis., and it would not be much of a try to build an extension from Portage to Milwaukee, which would, with the Walsh railroads and the Louisville & Nashville, make a direct route from the Canadian wheatfields to the Gulf of Mexico that would be pretty strong competition for the Illinois Central. I have no doubt but that the Louisville & Nashville is very anxious to get control of the Walsh roads.

POSITIVE DENIAL MADE.

Report of Purchase of the Walsh Roads Is Called Untrue.

Stories of a prospective purchase by the Steel Corporation of the Walsh railroads have been current from time to time for many months, and have been as often denied by representatives of J. P. Morgan & Co., and of the corporation.

When dispatches from Chicago that the United States Steel Corporation had taken over the properties were referred to authoritative sources of information last night the story was denied in positive terms.

GAYNOR VOWS HE'LL ANNIHILATE GRAFT

Tammany Candidate Says It Obtains in Many of the City Bureaus.

KNOWS THE MAN HIGHER UP

Addresses Three Nationalities, Telling Them What a Mayor He Means to Be.

Judge Gaynor declared at a small but enthusiastic mass meeting at Terrace Garden last night that if he is elected he will make such a thing as graft unknown in the city. He brought the matter up in connection with his usual arraignment of Gen. Bingham and the annual Sunday closing scares. He also devoted considerable time to the white slave agitation, and attacked "the slanderers of the city."

The candidate made three speeches in Manhattan, talking to meetings of three nationalities. He began at Terrace Garden at a gathering of Germans, going from there to the Bohemian and Moravian quarter, where he talked to 600 men and boys in the Bohemian National Hall in East Seventy-third Street. He wound up his evening at an Italian mass meeting in Copper Union.

Terrace Garden was not quite half full. There were not more than 500 persons on the floor and less than seventy-five in the gallery. Those that were there seemed to like his remarks, however, and applauded him loudly and repeatedly.

"I am going to stop graft in this city," said he, "and there are many forms of graft here that have to be stopped. Many forms of it that have been going on for years in your Police Department and in other departments and in the purchase of supplies and in other ways.

"Your policeman on the block don't get any of it. I am talking of the chap higher up, the fellow who happens to be appointed Commissioner, and who is some big, strutting fellow who doesn't live in the city and comes over here and takes us all by the back of the neck and does what he sees fit. That is the kind of man I am talking about.

"Some of them have gone out of office worth $3,000,000 after one term, and you know it and I don't even mean to mention names. Year after year, graft! graft! —every house in the city of any doubt at all obliged to pay so much a week or so much a month.

"I would like to be Mayor just once during those three weeks before Coney Island opens, and I would like to see Mr. Police Commissioner come up and give out a big interview to all the papers that he was going to close Coney Island up next Sunday. His head would come off so quick that he wouldn't even be able to pronounce his name. In place of filling his pocket with graft he would walk home without any head on his shoulders, if he could walk at all, and I would try to be Police Commissioner myself for a few weeks.

"Now going to the Tenement House Department, too. That is a very valuable department. You know you can turn a law into a nuisance; you can pester people, you can annoy them, and a bad Commissioner in that office can collect $100,000 in a year without any trouble at all if he sets in to annoying people. Don't you know that? I am not saying that of the present Tenement House Commissioner; I think he is a good man.

"The Mayor might well walk down one day into the Tenement House Department and sit there a couple of days and see what is going on. And he might go the next week to the Building Department and sit there, and he might go to the Fire Department and to the Police Department in turn.

"There are people in this city who have been abusing it going on fifteen years. They talk about our morals here; that we are the most corrupt; that the vice here is something glaring and frightful; that we are rotten almost with vice and corruption.

"Those of you who go over Europe and those of you that have traveled in Europe or through the cities of this country know that this is one of the most decorous and orderly cities in the world. You see less evil here, less vice, less nastiness than in any large city that I have traveled in, and I have traveled in all those of Europe.

"I have no objection to politicians. It ought to be a word of honor in the community instead of a word of reproach to be a politician. Nor have I any objection to organization in politics. Everything has to be done by organization. I welcome it."

At the start Mr. Gaynor touched on the attempts that have been made to sell him tickets to various functions.

"I found that to-day I received in all fourteen letters with tickets for balls and all kinds of entertainments," said he; "church fairs and everything you could enumerate, and I have been receiving them ever since the campaign opened, and I suppose every one on every ticket has been receiving them. The letters have become so frequent that I thought for the benefit of all the candidates running for office I would point out not only the absolute indelicacy of people standing candidates up for money, but more than that that in this State it is made a crime."

The 1,500 Italians gathered in Cooper Union early, expecting that Mr. Gaynor would be among the first speakers. They waited until nearly 11 o'clock for the Mayoralty candidate. Those who staid until the end were entertained by several of the other Tammany candidates. Antonio Zucca presided.

Mr. Gaynor got a noisy reception when he arrived. He told the audience he would not go into the campaign issues because it was late and he had been talking all evening, but that if they were interested in what he had said they could buy the morning papers.

SENDING MAIL TO "FLOATERS."

Gresser Managers Say It Comes Back Most of the Time.

A plan to discover floaters is being operated by the Gresser Democrats in Queens. Immediately following the last day of registration it was reported from the Gresser headquarters that fully 1,500 floaters had been located in Queens. The Gresser managers say that lists of the suspected places and the names of the suspected floaters were sent to the office of Superintendent of Elections Leary. Deputies reported back that there was no foundation for the report that floaters had been colonized in Queens, the managers say.

After this the managers say they sent out batch after batch of apparently important letters with a return notice in the corner. They were sent day after day to the addresses given by the suspected floaters. In most instances the letters have been returned indorsd "address unknown," the managers say.

Managers of the Gresser campaign say they intend to submit their evidence to District Attorney De Witt and that they may even carry their complaint to Gov. Hughes.

Jerome Back to Being 'A Plain Lawyer'

District-Attorney Jerome called on George Gordon Battle, Tammany candidate for that office, at his headquarters in the Flatiron Building last night and had an hour's chat with him. Mr. Jerome would not talk of the campaign when he departed.

"I'm not a statesman. I'm just a plain lawyer," said he.

HOPE UP-STATE FOR TAMMANY'S DEFEAT

It Would Eliminate Murphy and Give a Chance for Reorganization of the Hall.

UNUSUAL DESIRE FOR THIS

Among "Regulars" as Well as Old-Line Democrats, for McCarren's Death Removes a Strong Bulwark.

According to up-State Democrats who have been in this city in the last few days, the progress of the municipal campaign now in progress is followed with as much interest by members of the party in other parts of the State as by New Yorkers. In nearly every instance, too, the Democratic visitors, when talking to their friends, have expressed the hope that Tammany would be defeated in the Mayoralty fight.

From the talk of the out-of-town Democrats, it appears that this sentiment is widespread in the Democratic Party throughout the State, and that it is not by any means confined to the element generally referred to as "old-line" Democrats. The latter have "had it in" for Tammany Hall for years.

Behind this wish for a Tammany defeat there is a mingling of Democratic hopes and Democratic fears. The old-line Democrats, particularly those allied with the Saratoga harmony movement, feel that the defeat of the Tammany ticket at this election will lead to the dethronement of Charles F. Murphy as leader of the hall, and a general readjustment within the organization which would provide an opening for the return of Democrats who as a result of latter-day Democratic leadership in the city and State have held aloof from the party councils.

The feeling that, with a Tammany victory this year, Mr. Murphy would have himself created Democratic leader of the State and that he would be in a position to dominate the next State Convention, has given rise to apprehensions extending to a much wider circle in the State organization. This fear has taken hold of the "regulars," who have been training with Democratic State Chairman William J. Conners, and is shared also by the old-liners. The dropping out of Senator Patrick H. McCarren, whose strong leadership was looked upon by the up-State Democrats as a safe buwark against Tammany control in the State, has rendered these fears acute at present. McCarren's death has come at a time, too, when an alliance had been concluded between himself and Democratic State Chairman Conners with a view to providing for the balance of power in the State organization and making it impossible for Tammany Hall to dictate in the matter of the next Gubernatorial nomination.

Chairman Conners came to this city on Monday to attend Senator McCarren's funeral. Since the attempt by Mr. Murphy to supplant Mr. Conners as State leader at the time of the Denver Convention, there has been a rupture in the friendly relations that once existed between the Tammany leader and the Democratic State Chairman. At the Waldorf-Astoria last night Mr. Conners declined to discuss his relations with Mr. Murphy except to say that there was "no trouble."

It is said, however, on good authority that Mr. Conners has had many talks with followers of the late Senator McCarren, and that as a result the understanding that existed between the up-State Democrat and the Kings County Democracy will be continued through the medium of the Provisional Committee which at present has charge of the organization in Brooklyn.

According to one of the closest friends of Mr. Conners, only one inference can be drawn from that agreement—that any future attempt by Mr. Murphy to take advantage of Senator McCarren's death by extending Tammany's sway to Brooklyn will be resisted as firmly as such attempts have been in the past.

"I suppose this is treason," said one of the up-State Democratic leaders to a TIMES reporter, "but I hope Tammany Hall will be defeated. It would greatly benefit the Democratic organization in the State, in my opinion, for it would cost Murphy his leadership, and in the reorganization that would follow the leadership undoubtedly would be placed in the hands of men who would know how to rehabilitate the party in the city and State, and to take advantage of the finest chance we have had in fifteen years to elect a Democratic Governor.

REYES CONFERS WITH DIAZ.

Slips Quietly Into Capital and Spends Day with President.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 27.—Gen. Bernardo Reyes, who recently obtained an indefinite leave of absence from the Legislature as Governor of Nuevo Leon, slipped quietly into Mexico City at midnight Monday, spent Tuesday conferring with President Diaz at Chapultepec, and took part to-day in a conference with the President and Gen. José M. Mier, Sub-Secretary, who has been named as Governor ad interim of Nuevo Leon.

Gen. Reyes refused to see any representative of the press, and declared that he would not make a statement until he had finished his conference with President Diaz.

CITY SLANDERED—McADOO.

Ex-Police Commissioner Declares the White Slave Reports Are All Fiction.

Ex-Police Commissioner William McAdoo bitterly denounced the "white slave" article last night to some 1,200 Jews who filled Yorkville Casino in East Eighty-sixth Street.

"This slander was concocted," he said, "by the publisher of a magazine for whom I have always had the greatest respect, a writer unknown to me, and certain other persons whose names I do not know but whose identity I suspect.

"I am not personally concerned in the matter, I want you to understand. The writer of the article took occasion in it to pay me the highest compliments both personally and officially. But I am not to be seduced by flattery into refraining from telling the facts as I know them.

"During my term as Police Commissioner I became disgusted at the continual exploitation of the east side by self-constituted regenerators of society, pseudo-philanthropists, and morbid curiosity seekers. Why, they treated it like a menagerie. And during that two years I never heard from any clergyman or any layman any complaint of such conditions as are pictured in McClure's.

"After my investigation last year of similar matters in London on the authority of the London police, I can say truly that New York is singularly free from this vice.

"I hold no brief for Tammany Hall or Charles F. Murphy, but I want to tell you that on the occasion of my first interview with Mr. Murphy, he said to me: 'I want you to use the whole power of the Police Department to put down the red lights and the disorderly houses.'

"Charles F. Murphy is a more honorable and virtuous man than 99 per cent. of the men who are caricaturing and maligning him.

"If there had been any such conditions in the city as are described in McClure's while I was Police Commissioner I would have borrowed the dog wagon and gone down and gathered up the cadets and dumped them off Sandy Hook.

"This is a distinct insult to a whole race. There is no more vice on the east side in proportion to the population than in any other part of the city."

Mr. McAdoo was wildly applauded, as was Judge Sanders, who presided, when he said:

"Our people have been made the football of party politics. We have suffered for twenty centuries, but no man shall dare to drag our holy religion into politics. They have insulted an entire race of people."

JOHN BIGELOW FOR BANNARD.

Ideal Man for Mayor, Says the Aged Diplomat and Writer.

From his country place, The Squirrels, in the highlands of the Hudson, where he is spending his declining years, John Bigelow, the nonogenarian diplomat and writer, who was a stanch friend of Samuel J. Tilden and Grover Cleveland, has sent a letter indorsing Otto T. Bannard, the Fusion nominee for Mayor, as the "ideal candidate for that eminence."

The letter, which was written to ex-Judge Henry E. Howland, who has taken an active part in the Bannard campaign, was made public yesterday at the Bannard headquarters, in the Fifth Avenue Building. It follows:

> My Dear Judge: Your note implies your ignorance of the fact that I have not been a citizen of or a voter in New York City for more than fifty years. Perhaps you think that opinions, like birds, do not respect boundaries of territory or even degrees of latitude or longitude.
>
> If I am permitted to act upon the latter theory, I take pleasure in saying that if either of the other candidates had no personal interest in the results of the approaching municipal election, each would unhesitatingly admit that Mr. Bannard is not only better fitted for the Mayoralty than either of them, but an ideal candidate for that eminence. I assume they would say this because, widely and well known in New York as Mr. Bannard is, I do not suppose he has an acquaintance in this world—partisanship aside—who would not promptly avow the same opinion.
>
> One of the charms of his candidature is that he will not administer the Mayoralty as a partisan office, if such a thing is possible, and I do not think Mr. Bannard could have been persuaded to accept the nomination had he had any doubt of his ability to so administer it.
>
> I sincerely hope the voters of New York may comprehend the blessing it would be to have such a Mayor as Mr. Bannard for a few years, and if as a non-resident I am at liberty to assist in lubricating his triumphal introduction to the Chief Magistracy, please appropriate the proceeds of the inclosed checklet to that end.
>
> Your city, my dear Judge, is rapidly becoming the most populous and at no distant day perhaps the wealthiest municipium in the world. It cannot safely square its municipal policy with that of the State or of the Federal Government. It must be itself an empire within the empire, and not a mere ward of the empire.
>
> If it allows its municipal policies to be so subordinated it will have sadly degenerated from the example set by its Dutch forbears in Holland, to whom you have been paying a somewhat crazy homage of late. When they had to select a chief of one of their cities the Burgomasters, upon whom the task of a selection fell, assembled around a large table upon which they bent forward and laid their respective heads.
>
> Then an insect, made more widely and justly famous by the muse of Robert Burns than the Tammany Tiger can ever aspire to be in natural or any other history, was placed in the centre of the table, and in whose hair soever it took refuge, he was pronounced their unanimous choice. This system had at least the merit of non-partisanship, so far as the electors were concerned, and in that respect was worthy of all imitation.
>
> It was open to this objection, however. It subjected the city to the capricious tastes and apetites of a boss who only selected the head to gratify his appetite, not for what there was in it, but for what there was in the hair upon it. The Burgomasters at least were strictly non-partisan. Your people will have greatly degenerated from their Dutch ancestry should they fail to support Mr. Bannard because he wears no party tag.
>
> If my purse had been longer
> My cheque had been stronger.
>
> JOHN BIGELOW.

Nicholas Murray Butler, President of Columbia University, joined yesterday in the many indorsements of Mr. Bannard's candidacy. Mr. Butler said:

"Whatever doubts as to his duty in this municipal election may have been in the mind of any intelligent and independent citizen when the campaign opened must certainly be dispelled now. The candidates have fully revealed themselves, and in dignity, sobriety of statement, straightforwardness, and accurate knowledge of our city's conditions Mr. Bannard is in a class by himself. The choice is between Mr. Bannard and the rule of Tammany Hall. Every poor man will be poorer if Tammany wins, and every taxpayer will be more heavily mulcted."

BANNARD NOT IN SUGAR TRUST

Stimson Denies Gaynor's Charge That Company Backed Fusion Candidate.

Henry L. Stimson, former United States Attorney, who initiated the criminal prosecution of the Sugar Trust, and is now special retainer by the Government to handle the cases growing out of the sugar-weighing frauds, gave emphatic denial yesterday to the assertions of Judge Gaynor that Otto T. Bannard's candidacy for Mayor was in any respect inspired by Sugar Trust influence, or that Mr. Bannard had ever had any connection with that corporation's affairs.

"In the twenty years of intimate association with Mr. Bannard, and in the four years I have spent in investigating the Sugar Trust," said Mr. Stimson, "I have never heard so much as a suggestion that any connection whatever existed until Judge Gaynor's insinuations were made in this campaign.

"I do know that Mr. Bannard never had any connection with the Sugar Trust, and that the trust was in no way concerned in bringing about his nomination. I know him as a successful lawyer, banker, and as a public-spirited citizen, and I have thought him the best-fitted man in New York for the office to which he has been nominated."

Ex-Judge Henry E. Howland, in whose office Mr. T. Bannard practically began his career as a lawyer after his graduation from Yale in '76, said yesterday that he became interested in Mr. Bannard because "he was bright and a hard-working lad."

"Before he came to me," said Mr. Howland, "he had served as Assistant Court Clerk of the United States Circuit Court, and when I took him the clerk complained that I was taking away the best assistant that he ever had. Otto Bannard made good from the start."

Ex-Judge Howland also spoke highly of Mr. Bannard's part in the reorganization of the Lake Shore Road and his subsequent return to Mr. Howland's firm in 1886 at a much larger salary. "He was one of the most dependable lawyers in the office," concluded Mr. Howland.

PRENDERGAST SAYS HIS RECORD IS CLEAR

Denies a Series of Charges Made by the Taxpayers' Union in an Advertisement.

FAILURES NOT DUE TO HIM

Malicious Effort, He Declares, to Mislead the Public and Besmirch His Business Career.

William A. Prendergast, Fusion candidate for Controller, emphatically denied last night the truth of the inferences which might be drawn from that section of the Taxpayers' Protective Union's advertisement in yesterday's papers asserting that in three instances apparently well-established business houses had gone into bankruptcy shortly after he became connected with them.

Mr. Prendergast made no attempt to conceal that he had been connected in some capacity with the business houses cited in the advertisement, or that they had subsequently failed. He did, however, indignantly deny the implication that these business houses, like Sodom's apples, had turned to dust and nothingness because of his connection with them.

"A record," said he, "is not a record unless it is complete. If the people responsible for this advertisement had wished to tell the whole truth they would have given my record from the time I started in business to this very day, and I would be grateful to them if they would set that record forth fully and honestly.

"They have extracted from the record, however, certain connections I have had from time to time and maliciously endeavored to make it appear that this represents my complete business record. I shall consider in their order the charges made by them."

In reply to the first assertion that thirteen years ago he had entered business with the millinery firm of Boyle, Conover & Ednie, the firm going into bankruptcy four months later, Mr. Prendergast said:

"I never entered business with Boyle, Conover & Ednie, and never had a moneyed interest in their business. This firm asked me, in January, 1896, to look after certain work for them. I did so under a salaried arrangement, but was in no way responsible for the conduct or control of the business. It is true that they made an assignment in May, 1896, but I had no more responsibility for the causes of their failure than did Mr. Connelly or Mr. Van Cleve of the Taxpayers' Union."

Answering the second charge that in 1898 he had become Treasurer of Lavake, Brett & Co., with sworn net assets at $125,000, and that nine months later the concern had gone into bankruptcy, the creditors charging the firm with concealing its property, Mr. Prendergast said:

"In January, 1897, the corporation of Lavake, Brett & Co. was formed, and I was elected its Secretary and Treasurer. I had a small stock interest.

"The concern was, however, undercapitalized for the amount of business done, and its expenses were too large. This is the reason it did not succeed. I was not the manager of the business. In October, 1898, it was thought best to wind up the concern, and this was done with relatively small loss to the creditors. There was no concealment of the company's property."

Turning aside from his formal statement for a moment, Mr. Prendergast said to a TIMES reporter:

"I did not have much money in that company. I went into it chiefly out of affection for one of its members. Some of the money, however, which I did put into it I borrowed. I borrowed some of it from the Hamilton Trust Company, and when the business failed I still owed the trust company $500, for which it held my note.

"When that note became due it was the darkest day of my life, I believe. My child was ill with scarlet fever, my brother was in a hospital, my income cut off through the collapse of the business, and the note staring me in the face. When I told my wife the note was due she went to the savings bank and drew out every cent of savings we had in the world.

"The next day when I took up that note the President of the trust company said to me: 'Mr. Prendergast, we did not expect to get that money at this time and were prepared to carry it longer for you, knowing that the company you were with had failed. Now we know what kind of a man you are, and from now on you can get anything you want from us.'"

Mr. Prendergast then took up the third charge, which was that in March, 1904, he was elected Vice President and General Manager of the International Mercantile Agency, with net collectable assets of more than $400,000 and with stock selling at 125, the concern going into bankruptcy four months later.

"It is true," he said, "that I became Vice President and General Manager of the International Mercantile Agency in March, 1904. William C. Lane, President of the Standard Trust Company, had just been elected its President.

"I accepted the place to which I was elected with the distinct understanding between the Directors and myself that they would raise the sum of $250,000, which I figured was essential to conduct the business for the first year of my incumbency, this being extra capital which I figured would be required. I assumed the duties of the position, but finding after some four months that the Directors were unwilling or unable to fulfill their promise, I voluntarily resigned. I was not with the concern at the time it went into bankruptcy, and had no connection with it at that time. Its failure was precipitated by personal differences and bickerings among the Directors."

COCKRAN DISGUSTED.

A Campaign of "Insanity and Indecency," and Won't Vote.

Ex-Congressman W. Bourke Cockran sailed for Liverpool yesterday on the Cunard liner Lusitania. He goes abroad to return with his wife, who has been in Paris since May. Mr. Cockran said that this campaign was one of insanity and indecency.

"I have not registered," he said, "and I have not the slightest desire to vote. There are no principles being fought for. What should be the main issue of the fight is being passed over by the candidates—the building of subways. Each of the candidates has, it is true, said a few words in favor of subways, but there isn't one who has set forth any plan for the bettering of subway conditions.

"This campaign is not even one of personal virtue. Rather is it one of personal depravity. I have been in politics thirty years and I have never seen one like it."

TELLS BRYAN TO STAND ASIDE.

Governor of Nebraska Is Determined to Write the State Platform.

Special to The New York Times.

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 27.—Gov. Shallenberger of Nebraska and William J. Bryan have had a tilt over who shal be permitted to write the next Democratic State platform in Nebraska. The Governor not only has refused to get out of the way of Mr. Bryan, but has said that since the number of votest cast for him exceeded those for Mr. Bryan in the last election, Mr. Bryan should stand aside and let him write the platform.

C. W. Bryan, brother of William J. Bryan, was the emissary between Bryan and Shallenberger, and is quoted as saying to Shallenberger that since his brother desired very much to make the Senatorial race in Nebraska, he also wished to write the platform of the party.

The Governor announced that as a candidate for Governor he would write his own platform and Bryan could do as he pleased about the Senatorial business.

AFTER McCARREN—

Tully May Be District Leader and Owen Murphy a Senator.

With Senator McCarren's funeral over, aspirants for his place in the Senate and as the leader of the Fourteenth Assembly District are coming to the front. The ambitions of some of them are not viewed seriously.

One of those talked of as likely to succeed Mr. McCarren in the district is Tax Commissioner James H. Tully, a close friend and lieutenant of the Senator. With Senator McCarren occupied with the greater work of the county leadership, Commissioner Tully has represented him in the Fourteenth.

Another candidate for the district leadership is Daniel J. Carroll, who is being put forward by the younger element. James H. Holmes, a lifelong resident of the district, is also regarded as a possible leader.

Deputy Street Cleaning Commissioner Owen J. Murphy is said to have Senatorial ambitions. He is the leader of the Thirteenth Assembly District and has a strong following in the Seventh Senate District, which Mr. McCarren so long represented. To fill the place in the Senate left vacant by the death of Mr. McCarren, a special election will be called by the Governor.

Commissioner Tully may be chosen to represent the Fourteenth in the Executive Committee until the next primaries, when, it is expected, there will be a lively fight for the leadership.

INVADES RAINES'S COUNTY.

Ex-Judge Wadhams Attacks Opponents of Direct Primary Legislation.

GENEVA, Oct. 27.—The direct primary fight was carried into the heart of the enemy's country to-night, when William H. Wadhams of New York, President of the Direct Primaries Association of the State of New York, made speeches, advocating the enactment of a direct primary law, at Canandaigua and Geneva, in Senator John Raines's county of Ontario. Ex-Judge Wadhams declared in the course of his speech that Senator Raines, with Senator Grady of Tammany Hall, led a bi-partisan combination in last Winter's Legislature to defeat the reform measures of Gov. Hughes. He said this furnished a specific example of what was possible under the convention system, and was one reason why the people of the State were demanding a direct primary law like the one the Governor advocated.

In effect, ex-Judge Wadhams declared that men like Senator Raines, State Chairman Woodruff, and other Republican politicians who had opposed the Governor on his reform measures, were not Republicans at all. The people of the State, he said, considered the Governor the true Republican and made no distinction between politicians of either party who opposed him.

WOMEN SERVE CAMPAIGN TEA.

Open a Republican Headquarters and Distribute Bannard Buttons.

The women's Republican campaign headquarters were opened yesterday in the big building, 501 Fifth Avenue, corner of Forty-second Street, where campaign literature, Bannard buttons, and tea were served to all comers. The windows were filled with Bannard and Whitney pictures, and to-day the women will fly a big banner, red and blue on a white ground, bearing the words Woman's Republican Headquarters." The Woman's State Republican Association, the Woman's Republican Club, and the West Side Woman's Republican Club are running it. They will have a ticker to receive the returns on election night, and the members of the clubs will be out in full force. Mrs. Charles C. Ruthrauff, Chairman of the Campaign Committee of the Woman's Republican Club, is in charge.

BOOM DICKINSON FOR SENATE.

War Secretary Indicates His Willingness to Become a Candidate.

Special to The New York Times.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 27.—While not formally declaring himself a candidate to succeed Senator James B. Frazier of Tennessee, Secretary of War Dickinson to-day indicated his willingness to be so regarded in the following words:

"If it should appear to me, as has been urged, that my candidacy would be the means of unifying present warring factions in the Democratic Party, I should consider it my duty to sink personal inclinations and accept the situation, though my present position of Secretary of War would prevent my making any unseemly scramble for the place."

Mr. Dickinson declared himself highly flattered by the favorable comment of the Tennessee press and the personal opinions expressed by men all over the State. That the Dickinson boom has a solid basis is indicated further by the fact that the Secretary is now building a home near Nashville with the expressed intention of maintaining a Tennessee citizenship.

HAFFEN WON'T RETIRE.

In the Four-Cornered Fight in the Bronx to the Finish, He Says.

The managers of Louis F. Haffen's campaign for the Borough Presidency of the Bronx, have been surprised in the last two days to have callers at the headquarters, 149th Street and Third Avenue, ask if it was true that Mr. Haffen was going to retire from the contest. Some of the inquierers said that such a rumor had been circulated widely.

Mr. Haffen said last night that these rumors were started by his political enemies. He said he had not the slightest intention of retiring from the contest. He was in to stick to the finish.

Complaint was made at Police Headquarters yesterday that Haffen banners in the Bronx were being torn down or mutilated. As a result orders were read in all the Bronx police stations last night that the Haffen banners must be protected.

WHITE SLAVE STORY FALSE, SAYS GUIDE

Man Who Showed Turner Through East Side Dance Halls Attacks His Veracity.

TELLS WHAT THEY SAW

Magazine Writer Reiterates His Charges and Gives Some Authorities He Based Them On.

One man who conducted George Kibbe Turner through the east side last Winter declares that the magazine writer did not find, on that trip, at least, anything to warrant him in painting in such black colors the east side dancing academies in his story, "A Plain Story of the White Slave Trade Under Tammany Rule," in the current number of McClure's.

Mr. Turner, on the other hand, complained that an effort is being made to lessen the influence of his story by attacking him. He says the evidence on which his story was based is easily accessible, and cites some of it.

The east side guide of Mr. Turner for one night, who is now attacking the Turner story, is Thomas J. Long, Secretary of the Dancing Masters' Protective Association of Greater New York. He has an academy at Third Avenue and 145th Street. His name and address were easily obtained, he says, because a committee appointed to look into the amusements and vacation resources of working girls investigated 204 dancing academies in the city, and reported that his was a model. This report was sent to Gov. Hughes, and by him was referred to the New York State Immigration Commission.

Mr. Long says in a long affidavit that on Dec. 20, 1908, Mr. Turner appeared at his academy, introduced himself as an investigator representing McClure's, and made an appointment for Mr. Long to show him around among the east side dancing academies on Saturday night, Dec. 26.

That night they met, according to appointment, at a Fourteenth Street Subway exit, and went on east. The first academy they visited, says Mr. Long, was at 36 Forsyth Street, where twenty couples were dancing.

Clothing and Morals.

"I observed," says Mr. Long, "that Mr. Turner at first seemed to mistake their poor clothes and lack of knowledge of social forms as an indication that they were immoral."

On leaving that place Mr. Turner said, according to his guide:

"These seem to be poor people enjoying themselves, and not immoral, as I thought at first. Take me some place where I can get stronger conditions."

At 106 Forsyth Street, where fifty couples were on the floor, Mr. Long says, the magazine writer seemed to be annoyed because the dancers were not moving around improperly. At 309 Grand Street, where the celebrants of a Jewish wedding were enjoying themselves, ten aged couples were dancing. This seemed to amuse Mr. Turner, the model dancing master says.

Mr. Turner fled from the academy at 319 Grand Street, where 100 couples were on the floor, because, as reported by Mr. Long, he detected an odor therein. The writer and the model dancing master then went to 345 Grand Street, where fifty couples were on the floor. Mr. Long swears that one of the proprietors of that academy told him that several days after their first visit Mr. Turner had returned and asked that some of his pupils be posed in improper postures. This was refused by the dancing master.

Mr. Turner and Mr. Long then visited six or seven more academies in the neighborhood of Grand Street, according to the affidavit, but the worst the writer saw was some young men dancing with their collars and coats off. Mr. Long talked with some of the girls, Mr. Long says, and saw from their innocence that there were no evil thoughts in their heads, in spite of their lack of fine clothes and elegant manners.

In a Dancing Academy.

The guide and the guided went to a dancing academy in East Fourth Street which runs a bar, and there Mr. Turner was introduced to the proprietor. He talked with some of the dancers also, and according to Mr. Long, remarked on leaving:

"This doesn't make good material for my story. I am learning something, however."

All through the trip Mr. Turner kept saying, declares Mr. Long, "Let's get to Tammany Hall; I am sure I will get what I want there."

But on reaching Tammany Hall, about 1 A. M., says Mr. Long, they found a thousand couples attending a masque ball in honor of a Jewish festival.

"This seems to be quite a family gathering," Mr. Long quotes Mr. Turner as saying. "I appear to have hit Tammany Hall on the wrong night."

Later, at a restaurant in Fourteenth Street, where the model dancing master and the writer had something to eat, Mr. Turner said, according to the Long affidavit:

"We seem to have had our night's work for nothing."

Outside of his affidavit, Mr. Long says the Turner article is untrue to the core, and that the writer invented the name of "Castle Gardens," as he "invented all the rest of the article."

Mr. Turner, in a statement reiterating his charges, said that the attack on him was being made to deflect attention from the facts of the case.

"If a man votes for Gaynor," he said, "he will vote for a government of philosophical platitudes set up as a mask and front for a charming structure whose foundation is laid upon a variety of crime, the choicest among which is the sale of unfortunate women."

Mr. Turner said that neither Mr. Gaynor's, Mr. Murphy's, nor his own personal character, was the important thing at this time. The only question of consequence was:

"Has or has not the present white slave trade, so called in America, developed out of Tammany's political control in New York City, as stated in my article?"

Gives His Authorities.

"Neither Mr. Murphy nor Mr. Gaynor has discussed this question," continued Mr. Turner, "consequently there is nothing for me to say in answer to them. I can only reiterate that every statement I made is easily susceptible of proof from sources of information within reach of every newspaper or of any interested individual. Here are a few of the many available sources, stated in consecutive order:

The public exposure of Tammany's connection with the red-light district in 1901.

The trials and conviction in 1903, 1904, and 1905 of the "white slave traffic" in Philadelphia, and the exposure of their connection back to New York.

The public exposures and trials of the political procurers and members of the New York Independent Benevolent Association in Newark, N. J., in 1906 and 1907, and the disclosures of their political aid to Tammany Hall at election time.

The testimony before the New York State Board of Immigration concerning this Independent Benevolent Association in 1909.

The notable trials of white slave traders by the United States Government, conducted in Chicago this year by District Attorney Sims and his assistant, Harry Parkin.

The current court trials over the white slave trade in Chicago, in which the most prominent figure has been one of the old workers in the Tammany gang in the Essex Market district.

The information obtained in the present campaign against the white slave traffic in Chicago conducted by Clifford G. Roe, as attorney for the New Association of Citizens, headed by the Hebrew Society, B'nai B'rith which has been formed to break up this traffic.

The present personnel of the district Captains or active workers in the Tammany machine in such critical political centres of New York as the Third, Eighth, and Tenth Assembly Districts or in the districts on the east side of Harlem.

"The facts from each and every one of these sources and from the investigation of the Federal Government (which will soon be available to the public) point in one direction. Taken together they trace with absolute certainty the growth of the procuring trade out of the City of New York, where it has devloped under Tammany Hall leaders; its extension from there all over this country, and beyond this country to every continent on the globe."

Jews Brand It False.

The Jewish Community of New York City, a central body of some 300 Jewish congregations and societies, at a meeting on Tuesday night, adopted resolutions protesting against the statements concerning the Jewish people contained in the recently published magazine article on the white slave traffic. The community states that an investigation of this question has been under way for some time, and, although not completed, shows that the magazine statements are "exaggerated and libellous."

"NIGGER GEORGE" A FUGITIVE.

Tammany District Captain, Involved in Registration Cases, Is Missing.

The flight of "Nigger George" Gonzales, one of Sheriff Foley's lieutenants in the Second Assembly District, at a time when he is wanted by Superintendent of Elections Leary to explain eight registrations from 305 Pearl Street in the Third Election District, where Gonzales is the Captain, and the subsequent arrest of Lena Tishler and Mamie Murray, the former proprietess, the latter a dweller in the house, was seized upon by the Citizens' Union yesterday as an incident proving that there exists an alliance between Tammany Hall and vice.

The arrest came about through the fact that Lena Tishler sent the Murray woman to Supt. Leary's office in response to the subpoena calling for her own appearance. The attempted impersonation failed because the Murray woman, after making affidavit that the eight men registered from 403 Pearl Street had lived there for periods varying from eight years to six months, apparently signed the afidavits. It was known to the Superintendent's men that the Tishler woman cannot write. The arrest of both followed. Secretary Binkerd of the Citizens' Union said:

"Yesterday morning Magistrate House held Lena Tishler and Mamie Murray, who waived examination, and were released on $3,000 bail each. This bail was furnished by an agent of Tom Foley, (Driscoll,) Tammany leader of the Second Assembly District.

"Gonzales, better known as 'Nigger George,' the Tammany Captain of the Third Election District of the Second Assembly District, in which Lena Tishler's house is located, has fled from New York. If there be nothing in the white slave story—if there be no alliance between Tammany and vice, why did Gonzales flee?"

ATTACK ON GAYNOR BY WOMAN'S LEAGUE

Moved by White Slave Reports, the Members Call on Voters to Defeat Him.

HAVE PROOF OF THE TRAFFIC

Made an Investigation Themselves and Found the Conditions Appalling, They Say.

The Woman's Municipal League, which has been a constant worker for reform movements in New York since its founding by the late Mrs. Josephine Shaw Lowell, has called a special meeting of its Directors since the appearance of the McClure article regarding the white slave traffic and passed a resolution protesting against the traffic and against the political party which has made it possible.

The meeting was held on Monday, and since then the members of the league have been working more than union hours getting the names of well-known women in the city to sign their protest. They have succeeded already in obtaining more than 100. The names are those of philanthropic workers, clergymen's wives, and wives of men prominent in different lines.

The petition begins by stating that "We the women of New York, filled with horror and indignation at the revelation of appalling and infamous traffic in girls and women, called the 'white slave traffic,' which could not exist without the connivance or acquiescence of the party in power, to which the police are responsible, appeal to the voters of New York to put a stop to a condition of affairs which is an intolerable disgrace to common decency and our American ideals." Members of the league have a first-hand knowledge, they say, of the awful condition of the white slaves. This was obtained in one of the biggest pieces of work accomplished by the league, working with the College Settlement Association, when through its efforts the Employment Agency bill was passed.

Miss Grace Dodge was Chairman of the committee which undertook the work. Men and women were found in charge of disreputable employment agencies who sold girls into houses where they were kept prisoners. They learned how these people got possession of immigrant girls in the guise of friends. When their reports were made, reputable agencies doubted the truth of the statements, but investigation proved their accuracy. The Health and Tenement House Departments both sent out and verified their testimony. The league said at that time:

"We have records and affidavits which cannot be given for publication, for they reveal an abyss of brutality which we can only face with the faith and courage that come to us through seeing life as a whole."

The present petition goes on to say:

"That some of these agencies still ply the nefarious trade was evidenced before the State Immigration Commission as well as was the general inefficiency of the bureau, and upon Tammany lies the burden of the proof that the bureau has served its purpose.

"Why," it asks, "in the notorious Dry Dock Hotel case did the owners ignore the existence of many Supreme Court Judges in New York County and cross the bridge to obtain an injunction from the present Tammany candidate for Mayor? Almost immediately thereafter the vile character and criminality of the place was proved beyond a legal doubt.

"Does the decision of Tammany's candidate for Mayor in the Drum case give promise of upholding the police in the effort for a clean city?"

In closing, the petition says that as mothers, sisters, and daughters, the signers appeal to the men as fathers, brothers, and sons for protection; appeal to every decent man to make it impossible for such a condition of affairs to exist; to "cast his vote against all Tammany candidates, and to vote for the candidate for Mayor and the men who strongly assert that they will sweep this disgrace from our city. We women," they say in conclusion, "will not rest until this is wiped out."

Members of the league signing the letter, who were sent out to get signatures, are Mrs. Richard (Margaret Chanler) Aldrich, President; Katharine S. Day, Sadie American, President of the Jewish Council of Women; M. Serena Townsend, Caroline Ames Pratt, Mary Graham Young, and Julia L. D. Longfellow. Some of the signers of the appeal are:

Mrs. Edward Hewitt, Miss Caroline L. Morgan, Mrs. William H. Schieffelin, Mrs. William Jay Schieffelin, Mrs. Hugh Birckhead, Mrs. Thomas R. French, Mrs. Frederick Nathan, Mrs. Edward E. Loomis, Mrs. Ernest H. Crosby, Mrs. Florence Kelley, Mrs. Robert Erskine Ely, Mrs. Lorillard Spencer, Mrs. William Harmon Brown, Mrs. E. Walpole Warren, Miss Clara Spence, Miss Sarah E. R. Erving, Mrs. Richard A. Dorman, Mrs. Leonard B. Opdycke, Mrs. Felix Adler, Miss Ella Marvin, Mrs. George Augustus Lung, Mrs. Camden C. Dike, Mrs. Frederick S. Lamb, Mrs. William M. Jackson, Mrs. Newell Dwight Hillis, Mrs. John S Frothingham, Miss Marianna Woodhull, Mrs. Henry Butterworth, Miss Alice H. Greenleaf, Mrs. Henry A. Stimson, Mrs. Charles B. Barkley, Mrs. W. P. Trent, Mrs. H. Clinton Backus, Mrs. Henry Monroe, Mrs. W. M. Tuttle, Mrs. A. F. MacDougall, Miss Louisa Lee Schuyler, Miss Adolphe Openhym, Mrs. George D. Pratt, Mrs. Henry Seligman, Mrs. George T. Bonner, Miss Carlotta Russell Lowell, Miss Maude E. Miner, Mrs. George B. Watts, Mrs. Edward McVickar, Mrs. Spencer Walton, Mrs. E. H. Blashfield, Mrs. Francis H. Cabot, Miss Virginia Young, and the deaconesses of St. George's Church.

Names of signers to the appeal are still coming in. Mrs. Russell Sage and Mrs. Andrew Carnegie are life members of the Woman's Municipal League.

"THERE AIN'T NO RED LIGHTS,"

Says Mr. Devery, "and I Ought to Know"—Rises to Defend City's Name.

William S. Devery, who was Chief of Police once, called reporters to his Winter home at 574 West End Avenue last night and grew so excited while talking about the so-called white slave traffic and defending the "fair name of our city" that he ended by addressing the newspaper men as "you reporteresses."

"I challenge your boss to debate the subject with me to-morrow night at Carnegie Hall," he said to a Hearst reporter, glancing from an Evening Journal cartoon showing Charles F. Murphy with a red light around his neck. "That picture is a disgrace and a shame and scurrilous, and if this was down South or across the Western line somebody 'd be dead in your building in the morning."

Above the cartoon was a quotation from The Evening Sun purporting to quote Mr. Devery at a time when he was angry with Murphy as saying that Tammany's head owned then an unsavory hotel in Lexington Avenue.

"I never said that," declared Mr. Devery. "That was just some writin' of old fellow who needed money. Mr. Murphy is a gentleman, not respectin' how he treated me, and that picture is corruptin' the young of this city. It's got to stop. From to-night on I am for Murphy. Why, he's got a wife and family. Think of it, you reporteresses, think of it, a wife and family! I'm a father and a grandfather, too, and this sort of stuff must not be brought before young children."

He intimated that George Kibbe Turner, the author of the white slave article in McClure's, was a ninny, and expressed uncomplimentary opinions about S. S. McClure himself.

"If this thing don't stop," said Mr. Devery, "I'll take the stump against all them fellows. More than that, I'm goin' to give money to that society, or whatever it is, that has that statue in Times Square. Them fellows has got the right idea. We'll get up a fund and prosecute the whole bunch—Hearst and Turner and McClure and anybody else that blackens the fair name of our city."

Asked if he knew Martin Engel, mentioned in the McClure's article, he said he did, and Mr. Engel was a gentleman. "He helps out them who are in distress an' heavy laden," said Mr. Devery. "He's a gentleman and got a family, and his heart goes out to the poor women. He wouldn't tolerate any such thing as this white slave business in the community.

"There ain't no red light district here," said Mr. Devery. "And I ought to know. I'll bet $100 to a button that you can go from Fourteenth Street to the Battery and you can't find one red light—barrin' oyster signs and danger signals for traffic obstructions. I've been keepin' my mitt out of politics, but this attack on the fair name of our city, this fly-by-night, rag-on-the-bush sort of politics makes me peevish, and I'm goin' on the stump if it don't stop right here. I give you warnin'."

PRIEST DEFENDS EAST SIDE.

Calls on Men of the Tenements to Rebuke Slanderers of the Women.

The Rev. Father James B. Curry, pastor of St. James's Church, in James Street, addressed 2,500 parishioners at an entertainment given by the girls of the parochial school in the hall of the church. He said that "an infamous slander" had been passed upon the girls and their mothers and sisters in this campaign.

"To further the interests of a certain party," he said, "the stigma of moral uncleanness is put upon our women's fair name and fame. For a number of years tenement dwellers of the downtown east side have suffered much from slurs and slander cast upon them by so-called reformers. In this campaign of abuse and mud slinging the good names of the wives, daughters, and sisters of our voters is at stake. Surely the sons, fathers, and husbands will by their vote cast the lie back into the teeth of the slanderous canting hypocrites. The girls of our tenement houses are the purest and most virtuous of New York's womanhood.

"Only cowards strike at women, and I know that when the time comes all men will avenge these cowardly blows."

Every One Has a Piano.

At least one would think so when the fact is taken into consideration that there are over 12,000,000 pianos in use in this country to-day.

This is the reason that the great majority of the piano business of to-day is the exchanging of old pianos and of pianos that have not given satisfaction.

PEASE PIANOS

were established in 1844, and there have been over 80,000 of them made and sold. Of this large number have you noticed how seldom you see a Pease advertised for sale among the many sales of second hand instruments?

Pease pianos give satisfaction; that's why they are kept by their original purchasers; our prices are moderate and we sell on a liberal three-year payment plan; used pianos from $125 up.

WOMAN SHOT DOWN BY NEGRO BURGLAR

Grapples with Him While He Struggles to Escape, and Holds on Until She Falls Unconscious.

POLICE FIRE AT FLEEING MAN

Angry Mob Joins the Pursuit and Threats of Lynching Bring Out the Reserves.

Mrs. Julia Shanda, the wife of the janitor of the apartment house at 21 West 111th Street, was shot, and, it is believed, mortally wounded, in a struggle with a burglar she surprised ransacking her apartments in the basement yesterday morning. Mrs. Shanda was shot three times, once in the head and twice in the back. Any one of the wounds is likely to cause her death. John Insbey, a burly negro, who says he is from Georgia, and who told the police he lived, while in New York, at 244 West Sixty-second Street, was identified by Mrs. Shanda as the man who shot her and is now locked up in Police Headquarters.

Mrs. Shanda is in the Harlem Hospital. The doctors there say that she will probably die.

It was about 11 o'clock in the forenoon when Mrs. Shanda came from an upstairs apartment and entered her own apartment in the basement. Gottlieb Shanda, her husband, has a small shoe shop in front, which opens into the living rooms. Mrs. Shanda went into the workshop first, and hearing somebody moving about in the dining room boldly opened the door and entered the room.

A big negro was dropping things into a bag. He saw her instantly and sprang forward, telling her to keep quiet or her life would be the forfeit. Instead of doing as she was told Mrs. Shanda screamed and caught the negro by the throat. He fought her off, and when she renewed the attack he struck her in the face with his fist. Even that did not stop Mrs. Shanda, who grappled with the intruder again, shouting for help. Then the negro drew his pistol and with the butt end of it struck her on the head and she fell to the floor.

Fought Bravely to the Last.

The burglar then started for the door, but Mrs. Shanda regained her feet and hurled an empty bottle at the burglar. Then she tried to get hold of him once more. The negro pushed her back, and, pointing his revolver at her, fired, the first bullet entering her mouth. He then fired three other shots, two of them entering her back between the shoulders.

When the burglar started for the door the wounded woman dragged herself to her feet and followed him through the areaway. She caught him on the steps leading up to the sidewalk and hung on to him for several yards. Then she dropped unconscious to the sidewalk, and the negro started on a run across 111th Street, in the direction of Fifth Avenue.

Several men and boys who saw the woman fall started in pursuit, their cries of "Stop thief!" causing a great crowd to join in the chase, which lasted across 111th Street to Park Avenue and down Park Avenue to 109th Street, where Bicycle Policeman McIsaacs of the East 104th Street Station caught the fugitive.

Policemen Reilly and Cannon had been in the running, and when McIsaacs brought the negro to a standstill with a threat to "blow his head off" the three policemen found themselves facing a mob that was threatening to lynch the prisoner.

A cool head in the crowd had anticipated just such a situation and had telephoned to the station house for the reserves. Headed by Capt. Connor, they came now on the double quick.

The negro had been shot through the hand by one of the policemen during his flight. When his safety from the mob was assured he was taken to the scene of the shooting. It was said that the police fired at least six shots at the negro during the chase.

Mrs. Shanda had recovered consciousness when Capt. Connor brought the prisoner before her.

"Is this the man, Mrs. Shanda?" Capt. Connor asked.

"Yes, that is the one who shot me," she answered.

"Take him away quick," Capt. Connor ordered, and the negro was fairly dragged through an angry crowd to a patrol wagon.

The negro was surly at the station house and would not answer a question. He said he came from Georgia, that his name was Insbey, and that he was an elevator operator. Beyond that he would say nothing. He was later taken to Police Headquarters, where his measurements were taken and he was photographed for the Rogues' Gallery.

Mrs. Shanda has lived in the neighborhood where she was shot for several years, and nearly everybody in that section is her friend. She is the mother of three young boys.

DELAWARE'S RECORD FILED.

Result of Tests of Big Battleship Pronounced Gratifying.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—The record of the new United States battleship Delaware, which was put through her preliminary acceptance tests last week off Rockland, Maine, was filed with the Navy Department to-day by the official Board of Inspection and Survey. Her average speed of 21.563 knots was pronounced to be very gratifying.

The Delaware was built by the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company.

The Board of Inspection and Survey will leave next Sunday for the New England Coast to give the North Dakota, a sister of the Delaware, her official tests.

YOAKUM GIVES A WARNING.

Says Extravagance of National Government Is Draining Its Resources.

DALLAS, Texas, Oct. 27.—B. F. Yoakum, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Frisco-Rock Island system, warned the people of Texas to-day against extravagance of the National Government. In an address at the State Fair here today, Mr. Yoakum said that the same business rules that govern railroad operations should be adopted by the Government's administrative forces.

"If these business methods," Mr. Yoakum said, "were applied to the Government, cutting off useless and constantly increasing expenses, this Government could be run as cheaply as it was at the commencement of the Spanish war, since which time the annual operating expenses of the Government have increased $300,000,000. The public Treasury is being drained until the Government is now issuing bonds to pay expenses and devising new methods of taxation.

"I believe in fair and equitable taxation, be it inheritance, income, or otherwise, but I believe in keeping our tax money at home for good roads and State purposes, rather than sending it to Washington to add to the extravagance fund of the Federal Government, the necessity for which is increasing with alarming rapidity.

"Increasing Governmental expenses and political and military extravagance are leading us to the condition of foreign nations. Every farmer is interested in correcting this, and if every farmer would write to his Representative in Congress to encourage development and discourage extravagance, no more effective or better work could be accomplished.

"The number of Government employes is increasing more than four times as rapidly as the number of farmers. If the same ratio of increase continues, it will be but a few generations until we have as many Government employes as farmers."

Mr. Yoakum appealed to the Southwest to assert itself more aggressively in National affairs and claim the consideration which it deserved. He said the farmers should conduct their business under an organized system.

"The manufacturers are organized, transportation is organized, the bankers have a systematic method of handling their business," he said. "The producers of the raw agricultural material (the annual production of which amounts to eight billion dollars, cotton alone approximating six hundred million dollars) are not working under a systematic organization through which they can co-operate to their best advantage.

CUTS DOWN A BOND ISSUE.

Utilities Board Makes Interesting Precedents in a Bronx Gas Case.

The Public Service Commission in handing down a decision yesterday on the application of the Bronx Gas and Electric Company for approval of a bond issue of $1,500,000, of which $749,000 were to be issued immediately, authorizes the issue of $624,636 out of the total amount asked, and in so doing lays down some important doctrines governing the issuance of securities by public service corporations.

The company desires to issue $500,000 bonds immediately to be sold to retire a like amount of outstanding bonds, and proposes further to issue eighty bonds to the banking house of Charles B. Barney & Co. on the theory that fifty bonds would be needed to induce the present holders to surrender their holdings, and that thirty bonds should be retained by Barney & Co. as commission for putting the transaction through.

In addition Barney & Co. were to sell 160 bonds for cash at 90, proposing to get at least 95 for these bonds, netting them 5 per cent. on $160,000, in addition to the other commissions. The last-named block of bonds at 90 would net the company $144,000, of which $30,100 was to be used to pay off three real estate mortgages, and the balance to return to the company a sum appropriated out of surplus.

The Public Service Commission finds that $23,000 of the amount proposed to refund went for taxes. The commission holds that it has no authority to authorize the issue capital to pay taxes. Its analysis of the other items leads it to reject all of them, with the exception of the three real estate mortgages and miscellaneous payments aggregating with the mortgages $59,336.

The commission assents to the issuance of the fifty bonds as a premium for the retirement of the present bond issue, but insists that this premium shall be amortized by annual payments out of the earnings within ten years. It cuts down the commission to be paid Barney & Co. from $30,000 to $15,600.

To safeguard the conditions of the sale the commission stipulates that the bonds shall be sold by public letting similar to municipal bond sales, unless a private sale shall net the company at least par for them.

BANK LOSS IS $457,000.

Investigation of Mineral Point, Wis., Failure Shows More Irregularities.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—"Every conceivable form of irregularity has been turned up," is the way Treasury officials describe the developments in the investigation of the Mineral Point, Wis., First National Bank, which closed its doors Oct. 12.

The reports reaching the office of the Controller of the Currency continue to increase the amount involved, and to show the remarkable nature of the transactions that led up to the placing of the institution in the hands of Receiver Schofield. The latest information is that the loss from forged paper and embezzlement reaches $457,000. Many deposits wert made that were never entered on the books of the bank, it is alleged.

CURTISS AIRSHIP FACTORY.

He Will Establish One Near Schenectady, It Is Said.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Oct. 27.—The Union announces to-day that Glenn H. Curtiss, the aeroplanist, contemplates the establishment of an airship factory in this city or vicinity.

He has been in close touch with the General Electric experts, and it is understood that it is his desire to place his plant near a large body of mechanical engineers such as are connected with the electric company here.

OFFICER'S WIFE FLIES WITH WILBUR WRIGHT

Mrs. Ralph H. Van Deman First Woman to Go Up in an Aeroplane in America.

SHE KNOWS WHY BIRDS SING

So She Says as She Alights—Signal Officers so Proficient Wright Will Leave Them to Experiment Alone.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—For the first time in this country a woman went up as passenger in the Wright aeroplane this morning. She was Mrs. Van Deman, wife of Capt. Ralph H. Van Deman, attached to the General Staff of the Army, and with Wilbur Wright at the tiller and her husband looking calmly on from below, she circled the field at College Park, Md., for four minutes. The only untoward incident of her adventure was one at the start, and when the final flight came to end she leaped to her feet and called to her friends that it was "delicious."

Mr. Wright before this has steadily refused to take a woman passenger on a flight. Last year at Fort Myer Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, daughter of President Roosevelt, wanted to try the experiment, but Orville Wright begged off. Miss Katherine Wright has gone up in a machine of her brothers, and so has Mrs. Hart O. Berg, wife of the Wrights' manager, but that was in France. Mrs. Van Deman has been a regular attendant at most of the big flights near Washington. She used to stand with Miss Wright at the Fort Myer tests and has taken up her interest again at College Park.

Mrs. Van Deman reached the field with her husband before 8 o'clock this morning. There were present besides her small party, the few Signal Corps officers undergoing instructions, and the enlisted men detailed as assistants. At 7:50 Mrs. Van Deman walked up to the machine in which Mr. Wright was sitting. The propeller was already whirring around, though the weight had not yet launched the ship into the air.

None of the spectators except Capt. Van Deman and the Signal Corps officers seemed to know that anything was going to happen. With a quick motion, however, Mrs. Van Deman was in the place beside the aeronaut. At the same moment Mr. Wright released the weight, and the airship was shot to the end of the monorail.

Machine at First Won't Fly.

Something was wrong, however, for without rising from the ground the areoplane came to a stop a short distance from the end of the rail. Mr. Wright jumped to the ground at once, but Mrs. Van Deman, whose skirts were bound about her ankles with twine, sat still while the privates dragged the unwieldy machine back to the starting point. This time the start was perfect, and Mr. Wright went through his aerial paces in fine style. He turned sharp corners to show Mrs. Van Deman what it was like and skimmed around gracefully at a height of sixty feet above the ground.

They came to earth easily, and Capt. Van Deman came up to thank the aeronaut.

"Oh, that's all right," said the taciturn inventor. "Put the ship on the rail, boys."

Mrs. Van Deman was enthusiastic about her adventure.

"Now I know why birds sing," she said excitedly. "It was wonderful. There is no earthly sensation I can compare with it. Afraid! Why should I be? I never thought of that, and didn't have any idea how long I was up, except that we came down too soon."

Capt. Van Deman, too, was of the opinion that no particular risk had been run. He said he thought there was no more danger in what his wife had done than in an ordinary motoring run or horseback ride.

Mr. Wright next put the aeroplane through several short flights to instruct his signal officer pupils in gliding to the earth from various heights with power shut off.

Lieuts. Lahm and Humphries had so far progressed with their mastery of the Government's aeroplane to-day that just before the closing of the afternoon's work Mr. Wright stepped to the rear and allowed the two officers to oversee all details in the management of the machine prior to their ascension. He practically retired from the field, so that the officers might not share with him the credit for the flight they were about to take. They made a successful ascension, but after being in the air thirty-one minutes the machine descended rather suddenly in a remote part of the field. One of the supporting wires had given away and upon hearing it snap, the officers had promptly pulled the lever to make a landing. The damage was trifling.

Mr. Wright is so well satisfied with the officers' proficiency that he has announced his intention of abandoning them for several days, allowing them to use the aeroplane at their discretion. The flights will continue here as usual. Five flights were made to-day.

During the afternoon Mr. Wright took Capt. Charles De Forest Chandler of the Signal Corps on a flight of six and one-half minutes, this being the first time Capt. Chandler has ascended in a heavier than air machine. He is one of the expert balloonists of the Signal Corps, having made eighteen balloon trips.

ELIOT IN CONSERVATION.

President of New Association Whose First Member Is Taft.

The National Conservation Association, with general offices here and in Washington, it is announced, will carry on a vigorous campaign under the leadership of Dr. Charles W. Eliot, President emeritus of Harvard. The general object of the association is to secure practical application through legislative and administrative measures by the States and by the Federal Government of the conservation principles adopted by the Governors of the United States at their conference with President Roosevelt in May, 1908.

President Taft has given the organization his hearty approval and is its first member. General offices were opened in the Fifth Avenue Building yesterday. Mr. Eliot is personally directing the work of the association, and the membership is open to every American citizen.

The officers of the association are: President—Dr. Charles W. Eliot of Cambridge, Mass.; Vice President—Walter L. Fisher of Chicago, and Secretary—Thomas R. Shipp of Indianapolis, Ind. Mr. Shipp was Secretary of the White House conference and Secretary of the National Conservation Commission. The Chairman of the Executive Committee is John F. Bass of Chicago, and the Executive Director is Royal L. Melendy, also of Chicago. A letter from President Taft was made public yesterday. It said:

> I am glad to hear that the National Conservation Association has been formed under such a distinguished and capable leader and with a membership open to every American citizen.
>
> Our people cannot do a more useful thing for themselves and for posterity than to give personal consideration to the great issues involved in what we have come to call the conservation movement. It is of the greatest importance that this movement should proceed both wisely and effectively, and the National Conservation Association should be a valuable instrumentality for accomplishing this result.
>
> I shall be glad to have you enroll my name in its membership.

The association advocated legislation safeguarding the grant of water power rights.

The association declares that it desires to further all legislation designed to diminish sickness, prevent accidents and premature death, and increase the comfort and joy of American life.

Christian Science Healer's Purchase.

Miss Agnes Young, the Christian Science healer connected with the Second Church of Christ in Manhattan, said yesterday that she paid $10,000 and not $800, as THE TIMES stated, for the property at Myrtle Avenue and Fleet Street, Brooklyn, which Miss Greta M. Arthur of Mamaroneck, a patient of Miss Young, deeded to her in May, 1908. Miss Arthur early this month sued Miss Young to recover the deed to the property, alleging that Miss Young had used undue influence in obtaining it from her. At the trial before Justice Marean, in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn, it was brought out that Miss Young had bought the property for $10,000 on the recommendation of several of her friends that it was worth not more than that sum. Experts on the other side placed the value at from $15,000 to $16,500. Justice Marean ordered that the parties be put back into their original possessions.

TAFT'S RIVER PARTY CHASES HIM IN VAIN

Other Boats Too Slow for the President's Ship and Much Confusion Results.

SCHEDULE GOES TO PIECES

Trip Down the Mississippi Has Demonstrated Need of Improvements and Bond Issue, Executive Says.

HELENA, Ark., Oct. 27.—President Taft's river schedule went all to pieces to-day owing to the inability of the vessels following his flagship, the Oleander, to maintain the designated speed. The President tried to remain with the fleet as far as possible, and delayed his arrival in Memphis three hours this morning in order that the boats carrying the twenty-six Governors and the 117 Congressmen, as well as other vessels carrying delegates to the Waterways Convention in New Orleans, might dock at the same time.

Leaving Memphis an hour and a half late this afternoon, the Oleander had to press forward at top sueed in order to reach Helena at 8 o'clock to-night, two hours behind the scheduled time. In making the run the Oleander left all of the other vessels far astern. Delays have wrought havoc with the schedule for the remainder of the trip. Having left Helena nearly three hours late to-night, the President will not reach Vicksburg until after dark to-morrow night, that being his next stop. Even to reach that city by 6 o'clock the President will have to leave the other vessels behind. It has been Mr. Taft's desire to ride over the battlefields at Vicksburg, and he may be unable to do that because of the delay.

Governor Too Late for Speech.

It had been intended that the President should be welcomed once more to Arkansas by Gov. Donaghey, but the Governor's boat was an hour behind the President, and the introductory speech was made by Mayor Martin.

The President spoke briefly from a stand erected in the centre of the city. The night air and the bad condition of his voice did not offer favorable circumstances for a longer address.

Mr. Taft received a noisy welcome in Memphis to-day. As his boat drew up to the levee, the place swarmed with people. The roofs of tall buildings fronting the river also were crowded. The delay of the arrival caused much confusion, and two Cabinet officers came near getting left on the return from the auditorium, the plans for carrying the visitors by automobile having gone all awry in the confusion.

The President spoke first in Memphis, at the Young Men's Christian Association Building and afterward made a waterway speech in the Auditorium, in which he declared that such commercial advantages as the Mississippi River already afforded were not taken advantage of as they should be. He also pointed out the hard work that would have to be done to start a system of commerce, even after the deep waterway was assured.

Talks at Helena.

As the steamer Oleander was nearly an hour ahead of the remainder of the fleet, only President Taft's immediate party landed at Helena. Mr. Taft referred to the flotilla jestingly as a traveling show, booked for a full performance, and regretted that one part of the show was called on to fill the entire engagement.

The trip down the river, according to the President, has amply demonstrated the inadequacy of the present river traffic to compete with railroads, as well as the need for deep waterways. Speaking of the occasion of the trip the President said:

"Some will say that the trip is merely a free junket; but those who understand that the time of the men who are making the trip is valuable, and they could not afford to spend it except to impress upon the country what is one of the most important issues of the time.

"Congress has the power to improve the riverways. It has spent much money, but has not entered into a general plan. We all realize that if we are to do anything effectively and economically it must be on a general plan. If it is proved practical I believe it ought to be done, and done quickly. We ought to treat it as we have treated the Panama Canal issue, but not in piecemeal. Let us centre on a general plan and issue bonds."

In opening the Young Men's Christian Asociation at Memphis the President used a gold trowel which he kept as a souvenir. He mentioned that he had once opened the doors of a Young Men's Christian Association building in Shanghai for Chinese. The association, he said, held out a useful and helping hand to young men from the country who move to cities, where they are exposed to temptations while away from home influences.

Is Guest of Congressmen.

As the flotilla of boats was leaving Helena shortly after 9 o'clock to-night President Taft went aboard the steamer Quincy for dinner as the guest of the 117 Congressmen on board. The Oleander remained within hailing distance of the Quincy while the dinner was in progress and took the President on board again while the boats were under way twenty miles below Helena.

As the guest at a dinner last night on board the St. Paul of the Governors of more than one-half of the States of the Union, President Taft made an address in which he sought to encourage still further the policy of the States co-operating more closely with the National Government. He expressed the belief that much good would come from a meeting of the Governors of all the States in Washington each Winter, and formally extended an invitation for them to meet in this manner.

BRIDEGROOM ARRESTED.

Another Woman Claimed Him—Bride Kept Waiting in Church.

From 7:30 until almost 11 o'clock last night, nineteen-year-old Anna Elmulger was kept waiting in St. Augustine's Chapel, in East Houston Street, while the man she was to marry was in the clutches of the police as a result of an attack on him by another woman who claimed the right to his name. But the bridegroom gained his freedom, and though there was another delay at the church because the pastor wished to ask some questions about "the other woman" the ceremony was finally performed at 12:30 o'clock this morning.

The bride is a member of the choir of St. Augustine's Church. With her in church were her bridesmaid, the "best man," and some fifty friends. All the time Miss Elmulger believed her intended husband was detained at work. She lives with an aunt at 522 Fifth Street.

Miss Elmulger is employed in the Western Electric Company, and it was there she met Charles Anderson, 35 years old, an engineer in the establishment. Anderson lives at 24 Perry Street. When he left work at 6 o'clock yesterday he hurried home to dress for the ceremony.

As he stepped into the hallway he was confronted by two irate women, who pounced upon him. Some one who heard the noise ran to the Charles Street Station, and a patrolman was sent around. Anderson and the younger of the women were arrested and locked up, charged with disorderly conduct.

In the station the woman gave her name as Emma Anderson, 34 years old. In the Night Court Anderson admitted that the woman had been known as his wife for four years, although there had never been a ceremony. Magistrate Cornell discharged Anderson and the woman.

THE GAS REBATES.

Companies Received $11,408,012 Up to 1909—$8,769,485 Given to Court.

The report of the Consolidated Gas Company and all its subsidiaries for the year ended Dec. 31, 1908, was made public yesterday by the Public Service Commission. Most of the details of this report had come out with one exception. This is a table showing the entire amount of the gas rebate fund, as distributed between the companies and the United States Circuit Court on the date of the report. The accumulation of this money in the court's hands continued until shortly before the end of 1908, when a decision of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals held that the companies had paid over an amount sufficient to meet all claims and allowed the companies to keep the other rebate allowances themselves.

The decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in the gas case did not come until well on in the present year, but the figures at the end of last year were sufficiently complete to indicate the distribution of the fund as between the companies and the court. This table shows how it stood on Dec. 31, 1908:

Company.	Amount Received.	Deposited with Court.
Astoria Light, Heat & Co	......	......
Central Union Gas Co	$734,698	$700,044
Consolidated Gas Co	7,193,973	4,823,485
New Amsterdam Gas Co	1,253,567	1,208,605
N. Y. Mutual Gas Light Co	916,530	803,865
Northern Union Gas Co	290,097	266,813
Standard Gas Light Co	1,019,145	966,670
Total	$11,408,012	$8,769,485

The balance sheet of the Consolidated Gas Company showed for the end of the year assets and liabilities of $149,544,169, including in the asset column land and plants valued at $40,835,525; stocks in other companies valued at $53,967,124, and advances to other companies amounting to $28,538,723. The liability side showed a surplus of $3,045,174.

41 LAWYERS IN ONE CASE.

The Case Is the Distribution of D. C. Kingsland's $2,000,000, Now Imminent.

Forty-one lawyers appeared yesterday before Supreme Court Justice Truax when the case of Foster vs. Jones was called. Somewhat astounded by this array of legal talent the Justice asked how many lawyers were intetrested in the motion.

"There are, I think, forty-one present this morning," responded Lawyer William R. Wilder, "but there are more of us when we foregather in force."

He explained that it was desired to obtain an order from the Justice for a distribution of the $2,000,000 estate of Daniel C. Kingsland, a real estate man, who died ten years ago. The two executors, Frederick De Puyster Foster and Daniel K. De Biexedon, have to-day the entire estate practically in cash, and deposited in a trust company, where it is drawing 3 per cent. interest.

By a judgment of the Supreme Court the estate was ordered distributed among the heirs at law, the children of Mr. Kingsland's brothers and sisters. Four appealed from the court's finding and delayed the distribution several years. An agreement has now been reached, the appeals are to be withdrawn, and the lawyers appeared for the order of distribution.

After some argument by Russell Benedict, appearing for the Trustees who wish to be safeguarded in the distribution, Justice Truax ordered the immediate distribution of the $2,000,000, provided that counsel representing the appellant heirs should execute a stipulation that such appeals were to be withdrawn.

"And I might make a further order," added the Justice with a smile, looking over the crowd of lawyers present, "that counsel in this case get their fees forthwith."

Suit Over a Stanford White Ceiling.

Edward Bradley, who bought a decorative ceiling in the Gramercy Park home of Stanford White when the house was dismantled, sued the G. E. Walter Company before Justice Erlanger in the Supreme Court yesterday. Bradley paid $3,000 for the ceiling. He contracted, it is alleged, with the Walter Company to transfer it to his home. In the transfer he contends that it was damaged to the extent of $2,000. The defendant company denied the allegations and the jury found in its favor.

FURLONG INDICTED; COLLAPSES IN COURT

Brooklyn Magistrate Accused in Bribery Case Forced to Quit Work as He Hears News.

RESULT OF A COURT CASE

Was Confident He Had Cleared Himself in Grand Jury Room—Physician Called In.

Magistrate Henry E. Furlong, whose judicial acts in the Gates Avenue Court, Brooklyn, have been the subject of an investigation by the Kings County Grand Jury, collapsed before going on the bench yesterday morning after he had read a letter handed to him by a messenger from the District Attorney's office informing him that he had been indicted. So completely overcome was the accused Magistrate that he sent for his physician, Dr. F. E. Peterson of 1,161 Bushwick Avenue. He seemed on the verge of a nervous breakdown, and sent for Magistrate Hylan of the Brownsville Court to take his place for the rest of the day. The Grand Jury will hand up the indictment to Judge Dike to-morrow.

After an investigation by the District Attorney's office into bribery charges against the Magistrate, which grew out of the Wolf pickpocket case in his court, Supreme Court Justice Crane, sitting as a Magistrate, issued a warrant for Furlong's arrest on Aug. 31, and after a week's examination of the case behind closed doors held the Magistrate for the Grand Jury. He paroled him in the custody of his counsel.

A few days ago Magistrate Furlong appeared before the Grand Jury at his own request. After he came out of the jury room he told his friends that he was convinced of having proved to the satisfaction of the Grand Jurors that he was innocent of the bribery charges. It was later learned that in the event of an indictment being found he was to be informed of the fact two days before the indictment was to be handed up. It was said yesterday that this understanding was responsible for the appearance in his court of a messenger from the District Attorney's office.

Before he left court the Magistrate was heard to say that he would not perform any more official acts until he was cleared of the charges. At his home, at 83 Sunnyside Avenue, last night the Magistrate refused to discuss his indictment. He denied that he was ill.

COUNT'S WILL IN DISPUTE.

Countess de Gasquet James Asks Court's Construction Concerning It.

Elizabeth Pratt, Countess de Gasquet James, individually and as executrix of the will of her husband, Count Amedee de Gasquet James, who at one time lived here and died in Paris in 1903, has applied to the Surrogates' Court for a construction of the will. The action is directed against the children, grandchildren, and other near relatives of the deceased, and includes George Watson Pratt, Count de Gasquet James, and Count de Lebran.

The petition states that the Count left personal property in Ulster County, N. Y., said to be worth $1,000,000. His will was dated June 10, 1903, and was probated in France. It provided that "my fortune which is in America shall be divided between my children, and I authorize my wife to put the fortune into the hands of one of the big American trust companies."

The Countess says that her husband was never legally domiciled in France, that the above provision is unlawful, and that he died intestate so far as his New York estate is concerned.

CONVICT FOUR IN FUR CASE.

Concealed $150,000 Assets of Failed Firm of H. Feinberg & Son.

Herman Feinberg, senior member of H. Feinberg & Son, furriers at 48 East Tenth Street; his son-in-law, Abraham Minsky; the latter's brother-in-law, Matthias Radin, a lawyer, and Samuel Medlin, a furrier of 15 East Eighteenth Street, were all found guilty yesterday in the Criminal Branch of the United States Circuit Court of conspiracy to defraud the creditors of H. Feinberg & Son through concealment of assets worth more than $150,000. The case has been pending through three weeks, and was drawn out by a family quarrel resulting in each of the defendants doing his best to place the blame on one of the others. The stories thus told made the work of the prosecution easy.

Indictments were found against the men and also against Mrs. Isabelle Minsky after Receiver Jesse Watson for the Feinberg firm, which failed in November last, asserted he found only $500 worth of goods in the store, and also swore that the stock had been carried next door and was being sold by "The Bell Fur Company," which, it developed, was a dummy Feinberg concern. More of the stock was traced to Montreal. The elder Feinberg went abroad. He was arrested on his return.

Dora Albert, formerly bookkeeper for the furriers, was the chief witness. Her testimony covered most of the points. The jury was out less than an hour, and Judge Hough, refusing to grant stays, committed the men to the Tombs, to be arraigned to-day for sentence.

The case against Mrs. Minsky was dropped, but she continued to attend the trial. When the verdict was announced she and Mrs. Feinberg became hysterical. Mrs. Minsky had to be carried from the room.

WOULD LEND PUBLIC SCHOOL.

Board of Education Asked to Let Catholics Use an Old Building Temporarily.

According to reports from public school Principals, submitted to the Board of Education yesterday by City Superintendent William H. Maxwell, the number of pupils on part time on Sept. 30 was 22,354 less than on Sept. 30, 1908. The total number at present is 47,565. This was declared to be the best showing in some years. It was effected by the opening of several new buildings and the consolidation of classes. The total number registered is 673,054, an increase over last year of 21,876.

Dr. Dennis J. McDonald, at the board meeting, offered a resolution providing for the turning over of Public School 49, at Thirty-eighth Street and Second Avenue, abandoned by the Board of Education, to St. Gabriel's Catholic Parochial School in Thirty-seventh Street, until May of next year, free of charge.

St. Gabriel's School, Dr. McDonald said, was greatly overcrowded, with about 1,200 pupils, being accommodated in various buildings in the neighborhood, and with about 400 children still unprovided for. St. Gabriel's new building, which is to cost about $200,000, would be ready by May.

Several Commissioners thought the proposal without precedent. Gen. George W. Wingate remarked that the by-laws of the board prohibited religions being taught in public schools. Commissioner McDonald said religion would not be taught in the building if the parochial school were permitted to use it. After a discussion which went to show that a majority of those present favored the resolution, it was sent to the By-laws Committee.

The board appointed 275 to active work from the waiting list of teachers.

Controller Metz has written to the Finance Committee to ask how much money would be required to increase teachers' pay to $900 at the end of the fourth year. The committee replied that $1,907,220 was required. This was taken as an indication that the Board of Estimate was considering better pay.

ATTITUDE OF JAPAN TO KOREA UNCHANGED

Murder of Ito Will Not Result in Annexation of That Country.

WARSHIP TAKES BODY HOME

Son of Statesman Says Assassination Will Add New Strength to His Nation's Ideals.

TOKIO, Oct. 27.—Japan's policy toward Korea will remain unchanged by the assassination of Prince Ito, who, as Resident General of Korea, worked out the plan for that kingdom's reformation. This much was made known in a statement issued by the Foreign Office to-day. The statement was called out by the appearance in some of the sensational newspapers of editorials demanding the immediate annexation of Korea to Japan.

The Foreign Office silences this clamor by formally declaring that though the death of Prince Ito, through the dastardly act of a Korean, was the greatest loss the empire could suffer, the attitude of Japan toward Korea remains the same as that inaugurated and desired by him.

There is no reason to believe that the death of Prince Ito will have the slightest effect upon Japanese policies at home or abroad. On the contrary, his known wishes will be followed probably more closely now that he is dead than when he was alive.

The death of the Prince was officially announced by the Government to-day, and it was also stated that the warship bearing the body would arrive at Yokosuka on Nov. 2, when the body will be removed immediately to the Prince's late residence in Tokio. An imperial ordinance directs that a State funeral such as with three exceptions has never been given for any but a Prince of the blood be held on Nov. 4. As a posthumous honor Prince Ito is advanced from the junior to the first grade in the Court rank.

The body of the murdered Prince Ito will be taken aboard the Japanese warship Iwato at Dairen and will be brought to Japan, accompanied by a full suite representing the entire nation. The body lay to-day in a hotel at Dairen, the coffin covered by a simple white pall. Guards surrounded the hotel and only Prince Ito's personal staff was admitted.

Throughout the day telegrams poured into Tokio from every country of the world, and the officials of the Foreign Office are busily engaged in answering them.

Those closest to the throne say the Mikado is deeply affected by the assassination of the Prince. He has asked for every detail and apparently is unable to understand why the murder was committed in view of the evident popularity of Prince Ito. But when informed of all the facts so far as they have been learned here, the Emperor ordered that there must be no change in the policy toward Korea. The Emperor of Korea has cabled his sympathy to the Emperor of Japan as well as to Princess Ito at Oiso.

The assassin probably will be tried at Dairen. Nine alleged accomplices have been arrested, and it is believed that the investigation will show that the plot was hatched at Seoul. The Japanese authorities are determined to unearth the source, because the assassination of Prince Ito is believed to have been planned by the same persons who planned the murder of Durham White Stevens, the former diplomatic adviser to the Korean Government, at San Francisco in 1908. The newspapers here comment on the escape of one of the associates of the convicted murderer of Mr. Stevens.

The leading statesmen of Japan who have been interviewed on the subject assert that the death of Prince Ito will not affect established policies at home and abroad.

While Prince Ito was powerful and popular, the general policy of the Japanese Government to-day is not dictated by the Elder Statesmen, but by the active politicians, who are determined to pursue peaceful development.

PEKING, Oct. 27.—The body of Prince Ito was brought to Darien by train today. It will be placed on the Japanese warship Iwate and carried to Yokosuka, a port near Yokohama. The body was escorted as far as Kwanchengtzo by Gen. Horvath, formerly chief of the Russian railroad administration at Harbin; M. Korotovitz, Russian Minister to China, and other Russian officials.

The assassination of Prince Ito became known in Peking at the hour that the Government received the report of the speech which the Prince recently made at Darien. In this speech the statesman emphasized the fact that it was Japan's duty and intention, as well as the duty of the Japanese in Manchuria, to respect the policy of the open door and equal opportunity for all. He said that Russian and Japanese interests in Manchuria were identical, and, moreover, that Manchuria would develop in keeping with the growth there of Russian and Japanese interests. The speech made a good impression here, where the assassination of the Prince is regarded as having removed the Japanese most likely to compose contentions in Manchuria.

GENOA, Oct. 27.—Marquis Hirkumi Ito, son of Prince Ito, declared to-day that the assassination of his father at Harbin yesterday would add new strength to Japanese ideals. Marquis Ito arrived last night from London on the steamer Atsuta Maru. He had spent a sleepless night and, still wearing a dressing gown, he gave the appearance of being more depressed than he was last night following the receipt of the news of his father's death. This intelligence came to him in a cipher telegram from the Japanese Embassy at London soon after a similar message from the Secretary of the imperial house at Tokio had been received here but not delivered to the son.

"I knew my father was at Darien," said the Marquis. "His murder was an act of Korean revenge. There is a strong party there which detests Japanese rule, and which would be disposed rather to accept a Russian régime in Korea."

He recalled the murder of Durham White Stevens, the American adviser to the Japanese in Korea, at San Francisco by Koreans in March, 1908, and said that Stevens was assassinated because he had supported the policy of Prince Ito. Marquis Hirkumi continued:

"I believe the death of my father will add new strength to Japanese ideals, but I do not think it will have other consequences so far as Korea is concerned, as he had no official position in that country."

Notwithstanding his grief and mourning the son, who is a Vice Grand Master of Ceremonies at the Court of Tokio, will continue his journey to Paris and perform the mission on which he was sent. This mission is the purchase of jewels for the trousseau of the imperial Princess. In 1905 Hirkumi visited Rome in company with Prince Arisugawa, who represented the Emperor of Japan at the wedding of Crown Prince William of Germany.

Marquis Hirkumi received a message today from Baron Hayashi, Japanese Ambassador at Rome, stating that a cable message from Tokio requested the return of Hirkumi at the earliest possible moment and by the shortest route. It is thought, however, that the Marquis will visit Paris as planned.

BERLIN, Oct. 27.—Emperor William sent the following message to the Emperor of Japan to-day:

"I have just heard of the murder of Prince Ito. I beg your Majesty to accept my sincere sympathy in the loss of so faithful and distinguished a statesman."

ROME, Oct. 27.—Ambassador Hayashi expressed a wish to-day that the press would correct what he considered a false impression regarding the purpose of Prince Ito's visit to Manchuria. The published assertion, which had even been attributed to Russian Foreign Minister Isvolsky, that the Prince had gone to Manchuria on a mission having to do with the relations of Russia and Japan, was untrue, he said. On the contrary, the trip was a private one, and the exchanges between the Prince and the Russian Minister of Finance were those of ordinary courtesy only and the meeting of the two men due to chance.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Official expression of the sympathy of President Taft and the United States Government upon the assassination of Prince Ito at Harbin will be made to the Emperor of Japan and to the Japanese Foreign Office by United States Ambassador O'Brien at Tokio, who was instructed by telegraph to-day by Acting Secretary of State Huntington Wilson to present the condolences of the President and the American Government on the great loss to Japan in the death of a statesman whose character, abilities, and achievements had for so many years been recognized throughout the world.

PRAISES ITO'S SLAYER.

Korean Patriotic League Says Prince Enslaved 20,000,000 People.

HONOLULU, Oct. 27.—The Korean Patriotic League has issued a circular expressing satisfaction at the assassination of Prince Ito. It says:

"Now is the time for our 20,000,000 of people to secure their independence. Ito is dead. He brought to our country the rule of the Japanese and enslaved the pople. His selfishness has received its reward. His crimes were unpardonable and what happened to him was a fitting reward for his trickery and just punishment from our ocuntry.

"It is not known to us who the patriotic Korean was who shot Ito, but whoever it was, he did it for the sake of his country, and his name will be written with honor in our history forever as an example of self-sacrificing patriotism before 20,000,000 of slumbering people."

PUSH CLAIM AGAINST CHILE.

State Department Making Test Case of Obligation to Alsop & Co.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Affairs between this country and Chile over an old but important claim have reached a serious pass. Although Thomas C. Dawson, the American Minister at Santiago, has been appointed chief of the new Latin-American Bureau of the State Department and arrangements had been made for leaving the legation at Santiago in the hands of a Chargé d'Affaires, Mr. Dawson has received telegraphic instructions several times recently to remain at his post temporarily and to exert himself to bring the Chilean Government to a settlement.

The claim is that of the old American firm of Alsop & Co., for more than $1,000,000 in gold advanced to the Bolivians in 1874. Since that time, in the thirty-five years that have elapsed, the debt, which Chile subsequently assumed, has more than doubled in value. Promises to pay and formal recognition of the claim have repeatedly been made by the Chilean Government, but the continued postponement of settlement has been, as described by a high official this afternoon, "a blot upon the relations of the two countries for many years."

The State Department is evidently making a test case of this claim to show the worth of Chile's credit.

TO TAX UNEARNED INCREMENT

German Bill Is Expected to Produce Annual Revenue of $5,000,000.

BERLIN, Oct. 27.—The Imperial Government has asked the Governments of the Federated States to hasten their reports concerning the introduction of the unearned increment land tax. This announcement is made to-day by the Frankfurter Zeitung, which adds that the Government will allow the municipalities a rebate for five years of the average amount raised by the unearned increment tax during the period of its operation.

The Conservatives in the Reichstag proposed such a tax as a substitute for the Government's direct taxation proposals at the last session. Although the Conservatives to a great extent represent landowning interests, they are willing that an unearned increment tax be imposed because such a tax must rest heavily upon landowners and speculators in the cities, but lightly on property owners in the country districts, where values increase slowly, or, as in some instances, depreciate.

The measure is expected to raise $5,000,000 annually, and is possible of great expansion. The Ministry of Finance rejected the suggestion of the Conservatives chiefly on the ground that more than 100 municipalities had already taxed unearned increments.

JAURES WANTS LOWER TARIFFS

Pichon Says Matter Must Await Till France Revises Her Rates.

PARIS, Oct. 27.—In the course of the tariff debate in the Chamber of Deputies to-day M. Jaurés, leader of the Socialists, demanded that the Government at once begin pourparlers with foreign Governments with a view to securing a general reduction in tariffs.

Foreign Minister Pichon replied that such a project would be impossible until France had completed the revision of her own rates.

HESTIA'S TWO BOATS ASHORE WITH DEAD

Believed That All Who Left the Wrecked Steamer In Them Have Perished.

VESSEL STRUCK MONDAY

Six Survivors, Third Mate Says, Had Been Clinging to Rigging 38 Hours When They Were Rescued.

EASTPORT, Me., Oct. 27.—The six men who, half starved and benumbed from exposure, were rescued from their perilous position in the rigging of the stranded steamer Hestia yesterday, are believed to-night to be the only survivors of the forty-one men and boys who were aboard the Donaldson liner when she struck the jagged Old Proprietor Ledge, off Seal Cove, Grand Manan Island, on Monday morning. Three bodies came ashore on the southwest shore of Nova Scotia today, two in a boat which drifted on the beach near Yarmouth, and the third in another boat which was found near Salmon River, fifteen miles further north.

There is little doubt, though the bodies have not been identified, that these are the two boats which started off from the wreck, one of which had eleven men aboard, but capsized almost immediately, then righted and was seen drifting away with one lone man, while the other, the Captain's, when last seen from the ship, had twenty-eight men aboard, including two of the other boat's company picked up from the water.

Two more men were pulled aboard the wreck and were included in the six who were rescued by the life savers. These had recovered somewhat from their experience to-day, and were able to give more definite information regarding what actually took place after the steamer went on the ledge. Third Mate Stewart said that the Hestia reached the end of her last voyage on Monday morning, instead of Tuesday morning, as had previously been supposed, and that he and his five comrades who had been unable to find places in the boats which were launched when it was decided to abandon the ship, remained lashed to the rigging for thirty-eight hours without food or water, before they were taken off by the life savers. One of their number, Seaman Keene, was in a serious condition to-day. So far as can be ascertained tonight, those on board the Hestia comprised Capt. Newman, a crew of thirty-five, three cattlemen, and two boys.

A list of the missing, made up to-day, is as follows: Capt. Newman, First Mate D. McNair, Second Mate J. M. Phelan, Boatswain J. Ganigan, Ship's Carpenter M. Colwell, Seamen John Smith, Breene, Murray, Chelson, and McCangles, Apprentice Boy McDonald, First Engineer D. Munn, Fourth Engineer Best, Storekeeper W. Warneck, a donkeyman, besides a seaman, six firemen, four trimmers, two stewards, a cook, the two boy passengers, and three cattlemen, whose names were not ascertained.

One of the survivors to-day thought there were eight instead of five passengers and cattlemen, and that three instead of two of them were boy passengers, two boys being twins, but he was not positive. If this proves to be correct, they may be Jack and Roy Galloway, for whom there is mail at the agent's office in St. John.

It was believed that the Canadian authorities would take charge of the steamer as far as possible, and prevent the looting of the craft by wreckers, especially as her general cargo includes a big consignment of Scotch whisky.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Oct. 27.—In the hope of being able to pick up some of the crew of the wrecked Donaldson Line steamer Hestia, a number of tugs, vessels, and other craft put out from this port early to-day for Seal Cove, Grand Manan Island, where the Hestia ran on to a ledge early yesterday morning, but nothing has so far come of it. The steamer Manchester Corporation, bound from St. John for Philadelphia, which, it was thought, might have picked up some of the Hestia's crew, has arrived at Philadelphia, and reports by telegraph that no sign of the Hestia's boat was seen.

It is believed that one of the missing boys was Daniel Cowan of Glasgow, 16 years of age, whom Immigration Agent Wilmot had been informed was coming here on the Hestia to take up farm work in this vicinity. Letters at the office of H. C. Schofield, local agent for the Donaldson Line, for Jack Galloway and Roy Galloway are believed to indicate the names of two others of the missing.

To Construct South American Road.

SANTIAGO DE CHILE, Oct. 27.—The Government has contracted with a London syndicate for the construction of that section of the Longitudinal Railway which will lie between Copiape and Iquique. The price is $15,250,000. When completed the road will extend from the frontier of Peru to the Straits of Magellan.

NICARAGUAN ENVOY QUITS.

Dr. Espinosa Resigns Because Brother Is Official of Revolutionists.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Dr. Rodolpho Espinosa, Minister at Washington from Nicaragua, announced to the State Department to-day that he had resigned his post and that his resignation had been accepted. The reason given for his retirement is the active part played by his brother in the Estrada revolution, now apparently on the eve of overthrowing the Zelaya administration. At the outbreak of the revolution, says Dr. Espinosa, he placed his resignation in the hands of President Zelaya, and he has just received news of its acceptance.

The resignation is taken here to mean that Dr. Espinosa believes the revolution will be successful and that he will side with his brother. The belief has been growing here that President Zelaya's position is rapidly growing desperate.

"I felt that I could not stand against my own blood as the representative of the Nicaraguan Government," said Mr. Espinosa in discussing his resignation, "and for that reason I informed President Zelaya that I could no longer conduct the affairs of the legation in Washington."

Minister Espinosa also said that he had been sent to Washington mainly for the purpose of arranging a settlement of the Emery claim, the dispute over which led to the breaking off of diplomatic relations with the United States. As this matter has been settled he said he felt that he was under no obligation to remain longer.

He will leave at once for New York, where he will transact business of a personal nature. After that he will probably return to Nicaragua.

Pio Bolaños, Nicaraguan Consul General at New York, arrived yesterday from Colon on the Royal Mail steam packet Thames. He said the revolution was wearing out, as the rebels were tired and had no money. The territory of Nicaragua up from the coast was very hilly and so intersected with rivers and railroads that the roads leading from the Atlantic to the Pacific Coasts followed the railroad very closely, he said. The revolution had been confined to the Atlantic Coast, and had not penetrated the interior at all.

Juan Valdez, the leader of the rebels, was an elder brother of Gen. Pedro Valdez, who commanded the Government forces. He was a protégé of President Zelaya twenty years ago, and was brought up by him. Juan Valdez was addicted to looking favorably on the red and whites from France, and also to the powerful white rum which is distilled in Nicaragua, he said.

Mr. Bolaños left New York on Oct. 9 to go home for a vacation and was sent back directly after his arrival in Nicaragua.

BLUEFIELDS, Nicaragua, Oct. 27, via Wireless Telegraph via Colon.)—Gen. Estrada, the leader of the revolutionists, has sent the folowing dispatch in response to telegrams received from President Zelaya's friends in the interior condemning the action of the revolutionists:

> We are sure of victory. We fight not against Nicaraguans nor Liberalists; we seek solely the solution of a deplorable situation in the country. If Zelaya resigns the power we will lay down our arms at once. Not having honor or patriotism, he will not do this, and we will arrive at Managua and force him from the Presidency, which he so discredits, at the point of the bayonet. He destroys society and menaces civilization. We will fight against brothers and fathers if the welfare of the nation so requires. This is our irrevocable decision.

This message was signed by Gen. Estrada and many other prominent Liberal leaders who have joined him in the effort to overthrow the present administration in Nicaragua.

The majority of the troops defeated at San Carlos have joined Gen. Chamorro, who is guarding the coast from attack by way of the San Juan Valley.

FERRER'S WILL PUBLISHED.

Regretted That His Body Could Not Be Cremated.

PARIS, Oct. 27.—The will of Francisco Ferrer, who was executed at Barcelona for conspiracy against the Government of Spain, as published here to-day, charges the executor to continue the publication of Ferrer's works on modern schools and education.

The testator stated that history would establish his innocence, but he adjured his friends not to bother about his memory as "in this life only acts count." He added the regret that his body could not be cremated.

COMMONS TO ADJOURN.

In Meantime Budget Will Be in Hands of the Lords.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—Premier Asquith announced in the House of Commons to-day that on Nov. 5 he would move for the rejection entire of the House of Lords amendments to the Irish Land bill.

The Premier also stated that the House of Commons would adjourn on Nov. 5 until Nov. 23. This precludes the possibility of a general election before the new year.

During the adjournment of the lower house the budget will be in the hands of the Lords.

TO PHOTOGRAPH MICROBES.

French Scientist Announces Discovery of a New Method.

PARIS, Oct. 27.—Jean Comandon announced before the Academy of Sciences to-day the discovery of a new method of photographing bacilli by the combined use of an ultra-microscope and a cinematograph.

The discovery is considered of the first importance, as opening a new field for the study of microbic action.

For Invalids

You must have food that is pure, strength building and tempting to the appetite. The superior flavor of is merely that of rich, whole milk, unusually delicious because of the favorable climatic conditions peculiar to the north Pacific coast, where Carnation Milk cows, healthy and contented, are pastured all the year. These conditions and the extreme care and promptness exercised in handling, cooling and sterilizing, combine to make Carnation Milk nutritious, safe and tempting to the delicate appetite.

Carnation Milk

Use it in preparing all foods for invalids, frail children and infants, and watch their improvement.

Talks on Teeth

By G. GORDON MARTIN
(Incorporated).

TEETH TO EAT WITH

One of the greatest features of the Martinolar Method of supplying teeth without plates is that they are instantly available to eat with.

A certain man came to us one day not over a year ago and we supplied him with a new set of Martinolar teeth.

"Now for a sirloin," he said as he left. He came back next day all smiles. "I have not enjoyed a meal so much in 20 years as the one I sat down to an hour after leaving your office," he said. "These are the real thing. They are teeth to eat with, sure enough."

This is a common occurrence in these offices. We are furnishing toothless people with teeth to eat with, so the human machine will run smoothly. False teeth on "partial" plates, or a piece of ordinary "bridge" work that is a torturesome thing to bite on, are simply "teeth for looks." They fill up gaps in the line, but won't do for hard work.

All we ask is that you have two or more teeth left in the jaws, around which we build our structure.

We make the new teeth firm and solid, so you can bite and chew your food in a natural manner.

It is a practical plan of teeth restoration, not painful at any stage of the work, and is permanent.

There is no boring into the gums, or cutting; nothing disagreeable—a comfortable piece of work from start to finish, and afterward.

447 West 43d St., New York City.
G. GORDON MARTIN, Inc.:—

Dear Sirs—I wish to say that I am well satisfied with the work you did for me. I am well able to chew and eat anything, just as though they were all natural teeth. Your method of doing work is a great improvement in dentistry, and I have shown your work to my friends, who admire it very much, and I would be glad to recommend your services to any one who may need them. I also wish to thank you for the invitation to call and have my work looked after and kept in order free of charge. Yours truly,
JAS. GARRICK.

SLEUTHS CAN'T FIND COL. EDWARD BRITTON

Brooklyn District Attorney's Men Rearrest Schroeder, but Fail to Locate Him.

BOTH ARE UNDER SENTENCE

Court of Appeals Decides Against Them in Their Efforts to Keep Out of Prison.

Following the news yesterday in Brooklyn that Justice Bartlett, of the Court of Appeals, had decided against Col. Edward E. Britton, and ex-Quarantine Commissioner Frederick H. Schroeder, the two officials of the Eagle Savings and Loan Company, who were convicted of grand larceny, for misappropriating funds of that institution, District Attorney Clarke's men took Schroeder into custody, but did not find Britton.

Before the afternoon was over, however, John T. Hill, counsel for the convicted men, made another effort to keep them out of Sing Sing. He appeared before Justice Marean, of the Supreme Court, on an application for a new trial and obtained an order staying all proceedings until the motion could be decided.

Justice Marean made the order returnable before Justice Dickey, in the Supreme Court, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. At that time District Attorney Clarke told the court that he was not ready to argue on the motion.

He requested adjournment to give him time to get affidavits he desired from some bank officials. Justice Dickey adjourned the case until next Wednesday.

Up to that time Britton had not put in an appearance, and Schroeder was waiting to hear the result of his lawyer's efforts to stay the proceedings. It was at first reported that Britton had got wind of the adverse decision of Justice Bartlett in his case, and fled from the State. But his counsel said he had every reason to believe that Britton could be found when he was wanted.

Mr. Hill tried hard to have Schroeder released from custody on bail, pending the argument on the motion for a stay in the proceedings, but District Attorney Clarke contended that as Schroeder was arrested before the motion was made by his counsel for a stay, he could not be released on bail pending the argument on the motion in the present case. Justice Dickey adjourned the argument on the question of bail until to-day. In the meanwhile Schroeder will have to stay in Raymond Street Jail.

The conviction of both accused men was affirmed by the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court on Oct. 13, and the sentence of Justice Jaycox stood. He sentenced former Colonel Britton to a minimum term of fourteen months and ex-Commissioner Schroeder to a minimum of twelve months, the maximum in both cases being four years and six months.

ALBANY, Oct. 27.—Judge Edward T. Bartlett of the Court of Appeals has denied an application for a certificate of reasonable doubt in the cases of Col. Edward E. Britton and Fred G. Schroeder, whose conviction for misapplying funds of the Eagle Savings and Loan Company was affirmed by the Appellate Division.

PITTSBURG HAS A BEAR HUNT.

Escaped Animal Rambles Over Golf Links and Frightens Automobilists.

Special to The New York Times.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 27.—The three-year-old bear which last Saturday escaped from a barn in the East End, where it had been chained since it was a cub, is still at large. The animal has the run of several hundred acres of woodland, golf links, and rifle ranges. He was seen twice to-day by mounted hunting parties who shot at him, but evidently did not hit him.

The bear clawed and badly chewed six dogs during the day in two battles which he gave to packs. Some of the injured dogs are valuable, and Herbert Moyer, who owns one of them, has offered $100 for the head of the bear. Every small boy on the east side of Pittsburg who has a dog has the animal chained in the cellar to-night or hidden somewhere else.

Last night the bear was discovered in the barn of a man named Lee near Homestead just outside the limits of Pittsburg, and three dogs who attacked him came back covered with blood. An automobile filled with young people saw the fight between the dogs and the bear, and in an effort to get to safety burst a tire. Everybody in the party, including three young women, then ran several miles until they reached a street car line.

Mrs. H. D. Taft Undergoes Operation.

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 27.—Mrs. Horace D. Taft, of Waterbury, Conn., a sister-in-law of President Taft, is a patient at Johns Hopkins Hospital, where she was operated upon last Monday, it was learned to-day. The operation, it was stated at the hospital, was successful, and it was added that she passed a fairly comfortable night last night. Her husband, who is in attendance upon her, sent word that he preferred not to talk, when efforts were made to see him in regard to Mrs. Taft's illness.

Name the New Haitian Gunboat.

With Mme. Sannon, wife of H. Pauleus Sannon, Haitian Minister to the United States, as his sponsor, the Haitian gunboat La Liberta was named yesterday at the shipyards in South Brooklyn, where the little craft, formerly the steam yacht Erl King, has been undergoing conversion into a war vessel. Minister Sannon, several prominent Haitian officials, and representatives of New York shipping and yachting interests were present at the ceremony. The gunboat will sail to-day for Port au Prince.

CITY BREVITIES.

Mrs. Cora B. Wilson, the army officer's widow, who was arrested at Broadway and Cortlandt Street last Friday afternoon in connection with two check transactions, was discharged yesterday by Magistrate House in the Tombs Court, the Magistrate ruling that there was no intent to defraud, and that no crime had been committed.

Dr. Savino de Bellis of the Swoboda liner Regina d'Italia, arrested on Oct. 19 charged with a conspiracy to smuggle gloves into the country, was released yesterday by Judge Holt in the Criminal Branch of the United States Circuit Court under $3,500 bail.

The will of Helena M. E. Carpenter of 741 East 134th Street, filed for probate yesterday, gives $1 to her sister, Joanna M. Howell, and the residue of her estate to her namesake, Helena S. M. Van Damm.

John Somers of 124 Verno Avenue, Long Island City, a porter in the express department of the Long Island Railway, was killed by an electric shock last night in one of the cars. He was sent into the car to adjust the lights, and his hands came in contact with a feed wire.

Music Notes.

G. Aldo Randegger, pianist, and Giuseppe Campanari will give a concert to-night at the Waldorf-Astoria.

"Cavalleria Rusticana" and "Pagliacci" were sung last night at the Manhattan Opera House. Miss Sylva was heard as Santuzza, and Mme. Walter-Villa as Nedda.

INKWELL FROM A MEXICAN.

Brings a Policeman Into the Phenix National Bank.

A fuss in the banking rooms of the Phenix National Bank, at the corner of Nassau and Cedar Streets, yesterday brought in Patrolman Murphy of the John Street Station. He found Elias Sayre, a clerk, pale and bleeding with a large lump on the side of his head and a lacerated ear. He blamed his injuries to Louis G. Rivero, a Mexican, who worked beside him. Rivero, the clerk said, had thrown an ink well at him after a trivial quarrel.

Rivero was taken to the Tombs Court, where he was held in $1,000 bail on a charge of felonious assault. Sayre was removed to the Hudson Street Hospital.

According to the police, the trouble had been brewing between the Mexican and his fellow-workers, who had been twitting him about his nationality.

THREE BELASCO PRODUCTIONS

One to be a Political Play by William C. de Mille Called "The Machine."

David Belasco, who is recovering from an attack of pneumonia, is to make the first of his three promised productions very soon.

These productions will be a new American play, the name of which has not yet been decided upon, in which Charlotte Walker will appear; a political play by William C. de Mille, called "The Machine," and the first play that he himself has written since "The Girl of the Golden West." The scenery for all three of these productions is ready.

Mme. Gadski to Buy a House Here.

Mme. Schumann-Heink was one of the first of the European song birds to settle in America. She bought a far min New Jersey, named one of her children George Washington, and became an American resident. Now Mme. Johanna Gadski, who, like the celebrated contralto, owes most of her success to this country, has followed suit and announces her intention of buying a house somewhere on the upper west side. When Mme. Gadski returned to America a few weeks ago she did not go to a hotel as usual, but settled herself in a large apartment at the Wyoming. In the meantime she put real estate agents on the track of a suitable house, and as soon as somebody has found what she wants she intends to buy it and spend at least half of the year there.

Mrs. Carter to Have Theatre in N. Y.

Special to The New York Times.

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 27.—Mrs. Leslie Carter is to have her own theatre in New York City, according to an announcement she made here this afternoon while turning the first spadeful of earth for the new American Theatre, for which ground was broken to-day. After handling a shovel with her white kid gloved hands, Mrs. Carter turned to the newspaper and theatrical men and said: "I'm going to do this again very soon. I am going to have a new theatre of my own in New York City very shortly, and I want to turn the first earth in the building of it." Mrs. Carter would not go into any detail of the project.

Hindoos Detained at Ellis Island.

Five Hindoos, who came here with Miss Ruth St. Denis, and who assist her in Hindoo dancing, are detained at Ellis Island. The five were held by the immigration officials pending an examination into the chances of their becoming public charges. The men had only $4 between them, and the Government wanted some assurance that they would be cared for. Miss St. Denis has offered to put up a bond, but that bond will now have to have the sanction of the Washington authorities. In the meantime the sedate five sit cross-legged in the detention room at Ellis Island.

"Joan of Arc" for Suffrage Cause.

Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont will occupy a box at the Berkeley Theatre to-night when Madeleine Rives gives a performance of "Joan of Arc," in which Miss Maude Adams appeared last June in the Stadium at Harvard. Charles Frohman has donated to the League all the scenic accessories that could be used. The State Suffrage Association and the National Association will be represented. Between the acts prominent women and a candidate in the present municipal election will make brief speeches.

Col. John D. Hopkins's Burial.

The body of Col. John D. Hopkins, the theatrical manager, who died in St. Louis on Sunday, will arrive in New York this afternoon at 5 o'clock at the West Shore Station. It will be met by S. W. Gumpertz, the general manager of Dreamland, who was long associated with Col. Hopkins. The body will be taken to Col. Hopkins's birthplace near Bridgeport, Conn., for burial.

THEATRICAL NOTES.

The box office of the New Theatre, Central Park West and Sixty-second Street, has opened for the sale of tickets, which may be bought for the first two weeks' performances. The theatre will open on Nov. 8 with "Antony and Cleopatra."

The Shuberts have engaged Clara Palmer for a leading part with William Norris in "The King of Cadonia."

Next Monday Charles Frohman will begin rehearsals for the American production of F. Anstey's farce comedy, "The Brass Bottle."

Margaret Anglin will give a special matinee this afternoon of "The Awakening of Helena Ritchie," and it is announced that hereafter Thursday matinees at this theatre will be continued indefinitely.

A special matinee of "Springtime" will be given on Election Day, but the regular Wednesday matnee will be omitted next week.

The motion pictures of the Johnson-Ketchell fight will be a feature of the bill at Hammerstein's Victoria for another week.

LETTER BOOK USED AGAINST ICE TRUST

Correspondence of Wesley M. Oler and Robert H. Scott in the Hands of the Prosecution.

HOW MORSE STOOD IN IT

Independent Ice Dealer of Maine Declares That Operations of the Combination Were Ruinous in His State.

Wesley M. Oler's correspondence was produced yesterday in the trial of the American Ice Company before Supreme Court Justice Wheeler, for attempting to create a monopoly in restraint of trade. Most of the session was taken up with matters in the letter book of the corporation, which was produced by the prosecution and Secretary John R. Bennett.

There were read letters written by Robert H. Scott, Mr. Bennett's predecessor in the Secretaryship, to various individuals holding Consolidated Ice stock, urging that the stock be exchanged, share for share, for stock in the American Ice Company, then at the beginning of its career, and for which he prophesied a brilliant future. In one of the letters Mr. Scott pointed out that Charles W. Morse, who had been President of the Consolidated, would take a similar place in the new organization. This was read by Prosecutor Osborne in support of his promise, made earlier in the trial, that he would show that Morse was the brains of the trust at the time of its inception, although he was not one of the incorporators, and never held a place in its Directorate.

The only other witness called yesterday was Charles B. Stanford, an independent ice dealer in Maine. According to Mr. Stanford's testimony, the American Ice Company holds a majority of the ice houses there, but only two are kept in use, while the rest have been allowed to sink into decay. He said that a general desolation had spread over the ice business immediately upon the advent of the American Ice Company, in 1899. This information Mr. Osborne elicited by circuitous questioning after John B. Stanchfield, counsel for the defense, had objected on the ground that the falling off was occasioned by the new improvements in ice machinery.

Other evidence offered yesterday was documentary, and consisted largely of letters from Wesley M. Oler, President of the defendant corporation to various lesser officials of the company throughout the country. One, written in 1907, stated that the American Ice Company controlled 99 per cent. of the Maine output, and from another, written at New York in 1905, Mr. Osborne read this sentence:

"A great many things are doing here in this department, all tending to increase our control of the tonnage of the river. We hope before the year is out that we will control 75 per cent. of its tonnage."

Many more cullings from Mr. Oler's correspondence covering the period between 1904 and 1907 were read by Mr. Osborne, because, he said, they point to the continuous effort to create a monopoly, which is the essence of the indictment on which the corporation is now being tried. Here are some of them:

"All reports show a steady weakening of our opponents."

"It may be necessary for the fight to go on another year to clear the atmosphere."

"The ice men are sick unto death, and are anxious to do something to better conditions. I think we are in a position where our advice and our directions will be heeded."

"I think we have the price fixed about right."

Special emphasis was laid upon a letter of 1906, which is known as the ice famine year. It was written by Mr. Oler during the Winter, while the ice was still being harvested, and in it he said:

"We do not want to inflame the public mind too much thus early in the season. Later it may be wise to do so."

BURGLARS SHOT IN BATTLE.

Caught Looting Indianapolis House, They Are Wounded by Policemen.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 27.—Caught looting a house at 507 South Harris Avenue, two burglars were shot to-day by Bicycle Policemen Mullen and Stewart in a running fight in which many shots were exchanged. Michael Foley, one of the burglars, was shot through the lungs and may die. The other burglar was shot in the leg and arm. He said he was Samuel Cardwell of Chicago and that he met Foley in Cincinnati.

The police were called by persons living near the house that the burglars were ransacking. When the policemen arrived the thieves were running into the street. Both sides at once opened fire. Mullen stopped his bicycle so quickly that he was thrown to the ground. Lying there he returned the fire of the burglars.

The robbers, running, emptied their revolves at the policemen who were in pursuit. Mullen followed Foley into a shed. Foley had been shot through the lung, but he reloaded his revolver and shot at Mullen as he entered the door. Mullen struck the man on the head with a mace and Foley fell senseless.

Patrolman Stewart chased Cardwell into a stable. He broke open the door and Cardwell threw up his hands. Both prisoners were taken to the City Hospital.

Arsène Lupin

The Literary Sensation of Paris

The Dramatic Sensation of New York

IT'S hard to write temperately about M. Leblanc's unique creation, Arsène Lupin.

He is a sort of Robin Hood of the city, preying only on the rich, with a dash, an audacity, a resourcefulness, an irony, a charming vanity which only a Frenchman and a genius could imagine.

Arsène warns his intended victims that at such an hour he will remove such a treasure—and lo! it vanishes, and the pillaged millionaire finds Lupin's card in its place! He makes official statements through the newspapers, keeps all Paris in delighted suspense, drives Detective Ganimard to desperation.

This book, Arsène Lupin is the first of several we have arranged to publish. We are glad to go on record as declaring that M. Leblanc is a great writer, and every lover of Dumas, of Hugo, of Gaboriau will bear us out after reading these superb stories.

TO BUY ARMS FOR BOLIVIA.

Government Commission Arrives on Its Way to Europe.

Col. O. de Santa Cruz of the Bolivian Army arrived yesterday on the Royal Mail Steam packet Thames, accompanied by Andrew Richter, a financial agent of the Bolivian Government. He said that Mr. Richter and himself were the members of a commission sent by the Government at La Paz to make a six months' tour through Europe to see modern weapons of warfare and buy cannon, rifles, revolvers, and ammunition.

"It is not because we expect war with Peru or any other nation," said Col. de Santa Cruz, "but it is the intention of the Government to reorganize the army and equip the artillery with the latest modern guns so that they will be prepared in the future should an emergency unfortunately arise."

MR. BANNARD'S ADVANTAGES.

Mr. GAYNOR's bearing and behavior during this campaign have been unfortunate. Because of his recent speeches and writings he has become wholly unacceptable to large numbers of independent voters and anti-Tammany Democrats, and he has even succeeded in disgusting his Tammany following.

Mr. HEARST lacks the support this year which the Republican machine gave him in 1905. Moreover, the great body of independent Republicans who voted for Mr. McCLELLAN in 1905 in order to prevent Mr. HEARST's election are satisfied with Mr. BANNARD. Mr. HEARST's programme, repeatedly declared, of costly experiment and extravagance in municipal undertakings is little calculated to win to his support these men who condemned it in 1905.

To the whole body of independent voters, to all Republicans and conservative Democrats, and to a part of the regular Democratic electorate who fear that Judge GAYNOR "would corrupt Tammany," Mr. BANNARD makes his appeal for a clean and efficient business administration. It should not be difficult for any voter who believes that Mr. BANNARD is fit and qualified above his opponents to cast his ballot with confidence that the fit and qualified candidate will be elected.

A TIMELY DECISION.

Whatever regret the public will feel that men charged with the peculiar offense for which those connected with the officers of the Sugar Trust were indicted may, if guilty, still escape punishment under the decision of United States Judge HOLT, there can be little difference of opinion as to the expediency of the law which the decision announces. Unless it should be reversed on appeal, which is extremely unlikely, the decision defines the law in a way at once wholesome and refreshing.

It involves two propositions, each of which is important. One is that the Statute of Limitations was intended not for the protection of offenders so much as for that of the interests of the public which demands prompt prosecution on the part of the Government. It is not desirable that the prosecuting officers shall take their time in following up an alleged or suspected offense, and it is with entire respect to the officers connected with this particular case that we remark a certain tendency in this direction in the last seven or eight years. During that time there has unfortunately been more denunciation of undesirable citizens and men possessed of predatory wealth than there has been of practical and persistent effort to bring to book the violators of the law. The inevitable result is to bring the law into discredit and to encourage precisely the methods and aims so freely condemned. Swift investigation and trial would undoubtedly be more deterrent than the severest criticism, accompanied by leisurely legal proceedings.

The second proposition is that the defect in meeting the requirements of the law as to time of prosecution has given rise to a device for avoiding the consequences by bringing the charge of conspiracy. There is, of course, such a crime as conspiracy, and it is a very serious one, which should be punished without mercy. But when, as found by Judge HOLT, the charge of conspiracy to commit a crime is brought because the commission of the crime itself falls within the Statute of Limitations, the courts cannot accept such a policy. Judge HOLT says:

> There seems to be a mysterious potency in the word conspiracy. Prosecutors seem to think that by this practice all statutes of limitation and many of the rules of evidence established for the protection of persons charged with crime can be disregarded. But if a conspiracy to commit a crime has been carried out and the crime committed, it cannot be made something else by calling it a conspiracy.
> The men who committed the crime are entitled to whatever protection the law affords. If the Statute of Limitations is a bar to a prosecution of the crime, that bar, in my opinion, cannot be lifted by a prosecution for a conspiracy to commit that crime.

It is possible that there will be found critics who will condemn this reasoning as that of a Judge who is not so indignant toward the Sugar Trust as he should be, and who lacks "sympathy," to use the word of a prominent publicist, with the spirit of the law against the restraint of trade. But the general rules of law as known to the courts relate not to one statute but to all statutes, to the rights of citizens under them, and to the conditions that human experience shows are apt to arise in their application. For these rules the respect of the courts is bound to be implicit.

SIGNS OF SOLID WEALTH.

Wall Street's view of the Steel Corporation's report is favorable, despite an apparent attempt to create a contrary impression by free selling upon alleged early information. Second thoughts are best, and the stock is up, not down, on the report. The increase of dividend is the least important fact. The increase of orders unfilled is prophetic, rather than historic, relating to future profits, just as dividends relate to past conditions. Even this does not exhaust the favorable augury. The trade might be in a "cutthroat" condition. Notoriously this is not so. The trust does not seek its profits over the dead bodies of competitors. The competitors are doing well, also.

The report coincides with other favorable indications. The Agricultural Department has just put out its estimate of farm values for seven principal crops as of October. Barley alone shows a decrease of $4,526,376. All other leading crops show increases to a total of $297,638,270. This allows only $723,000,000 for the cotton crop, which trade estimates based on later prices put at $875,000,000. Naturally our foreign trade began to revive in September, and can be trusted to revive to any desired extent under any stimulus of the exchange market. They gnaw a file who explain their own embarrassment by reference to this market, and seek to punish us by laying the lash over their own shoulders. Any clog in the credit machinery loses much of its dread significance when interpreted by these signs of solid wealth and prosperity. If England does not wish to do business with us, there are those who will. If England wishes to put unfavorable interpretations upon our conditions, and insists upon a cash instead of a credit business, why, then, lay on Macduff!

WHY HE IS ON THE TAMMANY TICKET.

Judge GAYNOR told the students of Columbia why he declined to pledge himself to refuse the Tammany nomination, and is thus running for Mayor as Tammany's candidate instead of against Tammany, as might have happened. With his own characteristic and elegant diction he told these young men who perhaps may be influenced to emulate or to avoid his career, that if he thus pledged himself he would have been "licked from the start."

The campaign demonstrates that Tammany is rushing toward defeat. In other words, the time-serving policy which he confessed to be without a trace of principle, and actuated by the most unblushing selfishness, is the cause of his undoing. He has defeated himself by the very means by which he sought an office, not for the good he might do, but for the good the office might do him.

He thus teaches candidates and students alike a useful lesson. It is necessary to have ideas and principles to be a leader. It is necessary at least to pretend to have them, even to be a Tammany statesman. To boast of lacking them is to invite disgrace as well as defeat.

HOPE FOR RAPID TRANSIT.

The highest court in the State yesterday decided that the Public Service Commission exceeded its powers when it undertook to revise the terms of the franchise granted to the South Shore trolley over the Queensboro Bridge. The details of the decision are not yet at hand, but the principles of it must be the same as those asserted by the courts below, which have been sustained. The Commission asserted that its approval was indispensable to the granting of any franchise by the city, and that its approval was discretionary. The court rules that whenever it finds the franchises necessary and convenient for the public accommodation approval must be given. Repeatedly the Commission has found that a franchise was necessary and convenient, and yet has undertaken to withhold its approval. It cost the Third Avenue receiver $1 to defy such a decision. It cost the Brush two-cent fare line $50 within a week. Only a few days before the New York & Queens County Railway was summoned to show cause why it should not be fined $5,000 for performing a service admittedly in the public interest, and which lacked only the arbitrarily withheld approval of the Commission to be entirely regular. There will be no more such interferences with public service accommodations in the name of the Public Service Commission.

This single case affects a city investment of $20,000,000, which is emancipated from a capricious and unwise judgment of public interests. The territory tributary to the company which now will receive its franchise is as large as all Manhattan north of Fifty-ninth Street. But this is the narrowest view of the importance of this decision. It interprets a statute applicable to every city in the State. And it applies to the terms upon which any rapid transit enterprise in this city can be authorized to do business. With much mock humility the Commission has repeatedly put the rapid transit situation "up to" the Board of Estimate, and expressed "readiness to act," in Mr. SHONTS's phrase, if only the Board of Estimate would act first. To quote Chairman WILLCOX's words: "As soon as the Commission is advised of your wishes in the premises the drafting of the invitations and the form of contracts can be commenced. If the Commission can receive such advices at an early day the work of preparing the contracts will be undertaken and pushed rapidly forward to completion." But what would be the use of the Board of Estimate preparing proposals for the Commission to tear up? Presumably when the Board of Estimate now responds to the hurry call the reply will receive more respectful attention, and the rapid transit problem be forwarded correspondingly.

Nevertheless, while the outlook is thus cleared, there are obstacles remaining. The predecessors of the Commission left nineteen routes on paper, and no one of them is any further toward completion at this day. The Commission procured an amelioration of the prohibitory laws, and we are told that now the dirt will begin to fly. This is from those who build subways on paper. It never yet has been stated that those who build and operate subways with dollars and spades are satisfied with the situation. We have been told that they are dissatisfied with the indeterminate franchise, with the city's retention of options annulling profits, with the excessive powers lodged in the Board of Estimate and the Commission, and with arbitrary methods of regulation, with diminished and obstructed rights of appeal to the courts, because they take a different view from politicians regarding vested rights. It may be that capital will now be encouraged to come forward. On the other hand, it may be that those who want rapid transit may be compelled to carry their hunger strike against capitalistic extortion a little further. It is still uncertain whether the retreat from the position of the Elsberg law is completed or only begun.

GEN. HOWARD.

During the strenuous days of the civil war Gen. HOWARD was widely known throughout the country as the "Havelock of America," on account of his strong religious convictions and the strict consistency with which he lived up to them. It is needless to say that this reputation did not tend to make life easier for him in the army, and there are numerous stories of the practical jokes that were played on him by less pious brothers in arms. But unquestionably his religious beliefs and character gave him influence that otherwise he might not have acquired, and especially it helped him in promoting enlistments in large numbers among young men of pronounced Christian sentiment. He worked in accord with the Young Men's Christian Associations and encouraged and aided their labor in the army.

Though not, perhaps, a great commander, he was a gallant and capable officer, and the range of his service was wide. Gen. SCHURZ relates in his memoirs some of the pleasantries Gen. SHERMAN was wont to indulge in at the expense of Gen. HOWARD, but in that tremendous campaign from Lookout Mountain to Atlanta, one of the most difficult aggressive movements in the history of war, it was a profound comfort to SHERMAN to know that his right wing was under the leadership of the trusted HOWARD. After the war Gen. HOWARD rendered valuable service in the extreme West in the Nez Percé and Bannock troubles, which are now but a name to the residents of the prosperous regions in which they occurred. He was, moreover, a man of culture and high intelligence and a writer of marked ability. He was the last of the soldiers of high rank in the war for the Union, and it was a source of special delight to him that he lived to see the warring sections reunited in the spirit of common patriotism and fraternal regard.

"CHRISTIE" AND THE JUDGE.

Judge GAYNOR's motto is that one Tammany candidate may be worse than another, but that there are no bad Tammany candidates. Acting on this noble sentiment, he debased himself to do the best he could for his colleague, "CHRISTIE" SULLIVAN, the Tammany candidate for Sheriff. The Judge did better by CHRISTIE than CHRISTIE could have done for the Judge. In the Judge's words:

> To tell the truth, it doesn't very much matter whom you make Sheriff, whether he is a wooden man or not, because that is about all he is when he is Sheriff; he just signs his name a few times. That is all that I know he does. There is nothing he can take and nothing he can do.

It would be quite safe to elect a Tammany Sheriff, not because he is honest and capable, but because there is nothing he can take. The Judge ought to apply for a job as a spellbinder for his opposition.

It is odd that the same backhanded certificate of character which the Judge gave CHRISTIE is furnished to the Judge by Controller METZ. Being asked for his choice among the candidates for Mayor, Mr. METZ replied: "They are all good men; but it does not cut any ice who is elected Mayor. The Board of Estimate and the Controller do the work." The point is not that it is safe to elect the Judge Mayor because he would only cut Tammany ice, but that it is necessary to be extra careful in voting for the Board of Estimate and the Controller because they cut all the ice which is cut at all—Tammany ice, or other ice. It would hardly be safe to elect Judge GAYNOR because he could do no harm, but it is very necessary to elect a good Board of Estimate if any good is to be done at all.

VOTE "YES."

"Proposition No. 1," the referendum to be voted on at this coming election, would bring the two longest "finger" lakes, Cayuga and Seneca, into the Barge Canal system of this State at a cost of $7,000,000. It is an integral part of the system. Chairman EDWARD A. BOND of the Canal Advisory Board states that it would bring the Barge Canal within forty miles of the Susquehanna River and the coal fields of Pennsylvania. It would make easy the future cheap distribution of coal east and west from the centre of the State. It would add eighty-five miles of navigable water for 1,000-ton barges, with every prospect of heavy freightage from new and existing factories, iron and salt works in that section of the State.

The voters of this city should vote "Yes" on this proposition. They should favor it if for no other reason than that it threatens the coal-carrying railroads with a competition that would inevitably bring down the price of coal to all consumers in the east.

> It is time that libelers be taught a lasting lesson in this great and enlightened city through the criminal law, and I now pledged myself to the people of this city that when elected and Mr. BATTLE comes in as District Attorney I shall teach them that lesson.—WILLIAM J. GAYNOR.

That is your only way. After the disclosures and exhibitions of this campaign, you couldn't hope to get any damages in a civil action for libel.

Men will read with wonder the published indorsement of the candidacy of Judge CHARLES H. TRUAX by members of the New York County Bar "regardless of party affiliations," and the more they read the more the wonder will grow that these distinguished practitioners have so tardily reached the conclusion that a Judge so distinguished for learning, for wide knowledge of the principles of law, and so highly qualified by experience ought to have been nominated, in compliance with established custom, by the Fusion or Republican Convention as well as by the Democrats. It is true, as these gentlemen say, that faithful judicial officers should be continued upon the bench to the end that the community may have the benefit of their service, and they chide the Fusionists for their thoughtlessness in not nominating Judge TRUAX. But why did not those distinguished Republicans, Mr. CHOATE, Mr. ROOT, Gen. TRACY, ex-Gov. BLACK, Congressman OLCOTT, ex-Judge COHEN, and Mr. LINN BRUCE, exert themselves in time to procure the nomination of Mr. TRUAX by the convention of their party? Their indorsement of Judge TRUAX is one of the most remarkable and imposing that has ever been put before the community. It bears high testimony to his merit and qualification. But certainly these gentlemen did something less than their duty in not urging the union of both parties in support of such a candidate.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

Managers Guilty, Anyway. Viewed in detail, much of the testimony as to the conditions that have existed in the Brooklyn Disciplinary Training School is of poor, not to say suspicious, quality, since it comes partly from employés whom the Superintendent had discharged and partly from those who by their own admission had made no protest against, if they had not actively helped, the perpetuation of the abuses they now belatedly reveal. The quantity of the testimony makes up for its poor quality, however, and, being cumulative in its effect, is quite enough to produce the conviction that, after all due allowance for exaggeration has been made, the institution was so badly conducted, under such improper and incompetent control, that the instant suppression of this modern Dotheboys Hall is necessary.

But severe as is the condemnation which Supt. FARRELL seems to deserve, much more blameworthy than he, in reality, even if every accusation of drunkenness and brutality that is made against him be true, are the members of the Board of Managers. It was their duty, voluntarily undertaken as self-appointed guardians of the helpless and sequestered boys, to see to it, first of all, that they did not suffer from maltreatment. Apparently they have made no slightest attempt to perform that duty. Had they done so, had they taken even a little trouble to justify their occupancy of the positions of trust and honor they had assumed, they would have been able to stop these gross and easily discoverable evils at their very beginning, or they would now be supplied with information of a kind to refute the charges by which they are even more disgraced than is the Superintendent whom they have countenanced and upheld.

Obviously their "management" was a mere pretense, such little action as they took was purely perfunctory and useless. Yet their President has the astounding—well, naïveté, to tell the investigators from the State Board of Charities that he and the other managers had a "right" to take for granted the truth and accuracy of anything the Superintendent told them! This is the spirit, all too common, though rarely, indeed, so frankly expressed, that makes possible, or rather invites, just such institutional abuses as the Grand Jury's presentment against this school brought to light. In the circumstances it is hard to see why, instead of threatening to call the Governor's attention to the derelictions of the managers if they did not at once demand the resignation of their Superintendent, that action is not taken immediately. There is more than adequate reason for doing it. The manager who does not manage, like the Director who does not direct, should be taught the measure of his responsibility.

We Are Not Alone In Our Sins. That political campaigns in the United States are conducted on a sufficiently low level—that the candidates and their lieutenants talk more about each other's faults, real or imaginary, than about the real issues of election—is sorrowfully confessed or indignantly charged by most of us. The fault is not one peculiar to ourselves, however, and there is consolation, though of a rather miserable sort, in noting the fact that like things are done in England, where politics is supposed to be distinctively the sport or the business of gentlemen.

Here, for instance, is Mr. BALFOUR, ex-Prime Minister and with some claim to the title of statesman, declaring that a member of the present Government, to keep his party in power, has been guilty of telling in his public speeches "a frigid, calculated lie." This neat and novel phrase is Mr. BALFOUR's reply to the charge of Mr. URE, the Lord Advocate for Scotland, that if the Conservatives get a parliamentary majority they will repeal the Old Age Pension bill. Not content with calling the statement false and proving it so, Mr. BALFOUR characterizes it as a lie "frigid" and "calculated," words which must mean that in his opinion Mr. URE mendicates in cold blood and with knowledge in order to win votes away from his antagonists.

In the very nature of things the accusation is practically undemonstrable, a mere ascription of a base motive the existence of which cannot be proved. Mr. URE calls it "scandalous," but for other answer, curiously enough, he contents himself with declaring that he did not say about old age pensions exactly what Mr. BALFOUR had heard or read that he said. The loosest tongued of our candidates doesn't do much worse than this. His adjectives are not so well chosen to inflict the maximum of pain, but his vituperation is no more useless or irrelevant, and all that Mr. BALFOUR could teach him is polish of diction.

But, of course, the fact that "there are others" is no excuse for any sinner.

Flight Not So Difficult. That anybody can quickly learn the management of an aeroplane is not proved by the acquirement of that fascinating art by two young army officers under the instruction of WILBUR WRIGHT. His pupils were doubtless chosen with discretion from a class more than any other likely to abound in apt scholars, and the commonalty could not hope to vie with them in this sort of learning.

Still, even their acquisition of ability sufficient for independent flight in a little more than an hour of supervised practice hints that flying is no such dreadfully difficult and delicate task as general assumption has made it, and there is excuse for hoping that in time no small part of the population may share the joys and advantages of aviation.

That flying is not beyond the courage or capacity of woman has already had demonstration by one ambitious heroine over in France, and doubtless she will have many an imitator in the future. Men will not be allowed to live three-dimensional lives alone—thanks be!

DR. COOK AND THE DANES.

Has He Treated Them Fairly After Their Reception of Him?

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Will you permit one of your subscribers, who is a native of Copenhagen, Denmark, and a resident of New York, and who saw and heard a good deal of Dr. Cook this Summer, to give some of his impressions.

I was one of a small group who received Dr. Cook when he landed in Denmark, who attended the official banquet for him at the City Hall, Copenhagen; heard his lecture at the Royal Geographic Society, and witnessed the unusual honor of his being made a Doctor of Philosophy by the conservative Copenhagen University. Naturally I have, therefore, followed Dr. Cook's steps since then with particular interest.

It was stated in your paper of Oct. 23 that Dr. Cook sent a message to the Rector of the Copenhagen University, that he hoped to send data and records in about a month. The word "hope" may create a feeling of disappointment among his loyal supporters in Denmark.

When Dr. Cook suddenly appeared in Denmark, the Danes were confronted by a rather delicate situation. There was a man they never heard of before, who announced that he had been to the north pole, and during the same hours cablegrams from America and England arrived speaking of him as an imposter. I was one of those in Copenhagen who maintained that it was most dignified for a small nation to accept an American on his word and act on the assumption that Dr. Cook was an honest man. However things turn out it will always stand to the credit of the Danes that they stood loyally by this representative of the United States in the succeeding days of attacks from outside. They treated Dr. Cook as a royal guest and he accepted all the hospitality offered.

Is it honest in Dr. Cook to take so much from the Danes and from his own countrymen, without troubling himself strenuously to prove that he has earned the distinctions and fortune he is reaping. It must be a wonder to all thinking people that he had not his data in shape when he landed in Denmark. He found time to attend to social affairs in Greenland while waiting for a steamer, and on the long voyage to Denmark there was still more time.

I have, like all my countrymen, stood faithfully by Dr. Cook. We were led by our friendly sentiments toward this nation rather than by reason. My mind is beginning to reason and to ask: "Has Dr. Cook in return acted uprightly toward the Danes?" CARL LORENTZEN.

New York, Oct. 26, 1909.

We Don't Know.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

To settle a controversy will THE TIMES please tell me what privilege Dr. Cook enjoys with the "freedom of the city" granted to him by New York's Board of Aldermen? EMIL DE GHETT.

Brooklyn, Oct. 25 1909.

THE SAD STORY OF COOK ROBBIN'.

Who caught Cook robbin'?
"I," Peary wailed,
"But I have him nailed;
I caught Cook robbin'."

Who saw the Pole?
"I did," said Cook,
"With my little look;
I saw the Pole."

Who'll have his blood?
"I will," said Bert;
"He was stealing my shirt;
I'll have his blood."

Who'll make his shroud?
I-took-a-shoo
And Ah-pe-lah, too;
They've made his shroud.

Who'll dig his grave?
"I will," said Rob,
"I long for the job;
I'll dig his grave."

Who'll be chief mourners?
"We," said the Papers;
"If he's through with his capers;
"We'll be chief mourners."

Who'll be the Parson?
"I will," said History,
"And bury this Mr. C.;
"I'll be the Parson."

Who'll toll the bell?
"I," said R. E.;
"I will ring 23;
I'll toll the bell."

All the Savants of Denmark fell to sighing and sobbin'
When they heard the sad tale how they caught poor Cook robbin'.

J. G. W.

HEARST AS A BUSINESS MAN.

His Record Urged by One of His Editors as a Reason for Voting for Him.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

I am writing to THE NEW YORK TIMES under the not unflattering impression that a very large majority of the its readers are cordially united in the desire to dethrone the Tammany iniquity and to re-establish honest government in New York.

The great number of business men who read THE TIMES have been steadily appealed to by friends of the Republican candidate for Mayor under the plea that he was "a business man," and that this city needed a business administration. The argument is a good one, and would be conclusive if it could be exclusively applied to the Republican candidate or to the other candidates.

As a matter of fact Mr. Hearst is, by the record, a greater and a far more successful "business man" than any one of the three gentlemen mentioned for the executive chair.

Judge Gaynor is a jurist and a politician. Mr. Bannard is the President of a trust company, and acts largely by and with the advice of his Directors and partners.

The business men who read THE TIMES, or the greater part of them, know that Mr. Hearst is the sole proprietor and controller of eight daily newspapers and three magazines. He is also the proprietor of certain factories and ranches and mines. Nearly every well-informed business man knows that the building up of a great daily newspaper from the beginning and against magnificent competition requires as much or more of business tact and downright business ability than almost any other business enterprise in which men engage.

This much is known among the business readers of THE TIMES, who are being eagerly appealed to in behalf of a "business Mayor and a business administration."

There are two facts with which the business men of New York are not generally acquainted, and upon these facts I am prepared to furnish information of an authentic character.

In the first place each of Mr. Hearst's eleven newspaper properties have been built up from the beginning under great and powerful competition. The San Francisco Examiner, bought when that journal was in low estate, was the first. The others have followed in succession.

It is not generally known, but it is absolutely true, that the money which Mr. Hearst controls, excepting the purchase money of The San Francisco Examiner, has been made by his own brains and energies, and is not the money of the Hearst estate.

He is really the architect of his own journalistic fortunes, and his newspaper properties are the distinct results of his own remarkable business abilities unfailingly applied to them.

Which brings me to a point of most frequent misapprehension of Mr. Hearst among business men and people generally.

There are those who in time past have been disposed to credit Mr. Hearst's remarkable success entirely to the genius and energy of his lieutenants and to deny the credit due to Mr. Hearst himself. It is a privilege to be permitted through the broad and liberal columns of THE NEW YORK TIMES to finally inform the few people who still labor under this impression.

After a three years' close and intimate association with the Hearst newspapers in the five cities in which they are published, I am able to say of my own knowledge that the proprietor absolutely dominates and directs the political and business policies of all his newspapers. Mr. Hearst has displayed one of the most remarkable qualities of leadership and business judgment in his capacity to select good lieutenants, and the able and brilliant men in his several departments vindicate the business acumen which appointed and employed them. But Mr. Hearst is the Captain of his every ship, the master of his every shop. He dominates the conferences of his lieutenants as wisely and kindly and yet as forcefully and convincingly as Lincoln dominated his Cabinet. These lieutenants regard his final judgment as well nigh infallible.

Mr. Hearst is as well the master of every detail in his every shop. George Pancoast, his master of machinery, tells me that in getting a new press Mr. Hearst's technical judgment is worth more to him than the counsel of the master mechanic of R. M. Hoe. There is not a brand or variety of type with which he is not as familiar as his foreman. He could make the pictures in the photographic department as well as Tebbs. If he could not draw the cartoons of Opper he has inspired and suggested many of the best cartoons. And there is not a writer on any of his eleven publications who does not honestly hold himself second in style and force to those clear-cut, forceful and Lincolnesque editorials which the proprietor occasionally contributes.

I respectfully submit to the highly intelligent and influential business men who read THE TIMES, that the man who has carefully mastered so many complicated details of his own business, and has learned to supervise and utilize them with such demonstrated skill to such conspicuous success, is not second in essential business capacity to any "business man" who has been a candidate for Mayor of New York within the present decade.

The executive capacity of Judge Gaynor and of the justly esteemed Mr. Bannard is at best a matter of speculation and probability.

Mr. Hearst has fully demonstrated an executive ability which has rarely been equalled among the public men of this generation.

Both President Roosevelt and President Taft have paid tribute to this ability.

And surely the sound and reasoning men of this commercial metropolis can afford after such a record and after such indorsements to trust Mr. William R. Hearst as a "business man" and as a "great executive," pledged by his own vast interests, and vindicated by his own great achievements, to administer the affairs of this great city in the interests of all classes of its people.

Just three significant straws to test the political mind.

Chairman Parsons of the Bannard campaign receives reports from his own canvassers that Hearst will carry overwhelmingly ten districts of the east side and nearly as many on the west side.

This from the Bannard camp.

Tammany leaders have taken a poll of the Eighth and Tenth Assembly Districts. Here is the official result of this poll—fairly typical of the others:

Out of 115 voters taken at random between Grand and Delancey Streets there were for Hearst, 78; for Gaynor, 23; for Bannard, 9; Socialist, 5.

In a casual poll of sixty-three on Third Street there were for Hearst, 48; for Socialist, 9; Bannard, 4; Gaynor, 2.

This from the Tammany camp.

How can any thoughtful, earnest citizen, desirous of Tammany's defeat read these typical polls—not from Hearst's friends, but from the friends of Gaynor and Bannard—and fail to see instantly and clearly that this fight is between Tammany and Hearst, and that any vote withheld from Hearst or cast against him increases by so much the chances of Tammany to win?

With all my conscience, and with all my judgment, I earnestly believe that the only possible way to beat Tammany is to vote for Hearst. JOHN TEMPLE GRAVES, Editor New York American.

As to the Frequency of Murders.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Under the caption of "Murders of Young Women" in THE TIMES of Oct. 25 "Justice" says that crimes in California in the days of Judge Lynch were not as common as they are now in the East. "Justice" is mistaken. The world is better than he'd have us believe. Murders were more common, per capita, in the days of Judge Lynch, in the days of Cromwell, of Caesar, of the Apostles, and of Moses than they are now. In some of the epochs mentioned a master could kill his slaves under the law and a father his children for offenses which he would not even whip them for to-day. The difference is that to-day there is an omnipresent, all-seeing press to report murders. In the old days murders were committed which were not even known of in the neighboring towns till months and even years had passed, often never. Law, order, and humanity are progressing, not retrogressing. TRUTH.

Warm Talk.

New York, Oct. 27, 1909.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS.

The substance of the amendments to the State Constitution and of the canal referendum, to be voted on next Tuesday, together with THE TIMES's advice to voters on these propositions, is printed below:

AMENDMENT NO. 1—VOTE "NO."

This amends Article VI., Section 12 of the Constitution by inserting this provision:

> "Each Justice of the Supreme Court shall receive from the State the sum of $10,000 per year."

It further provides that Justices assigned to the Appellate Divisions in the Third and Fourth Departments shall receive extra compensation, and that the Justices of the First and Second Departments shall receive what they now receive.

This amendment is objectionable in principle, because salaries should be fixed by law, not by the Constitution. The increase of $2,800 in the salaries of up-the-State Justices is reasonable and deserved, but it should be made by act of the Legislature, although, of course, no Judge's salary could then be increased during the term for which he was elected. It is necessary to change and readjust salaries from time to time, but it takes always two and sometimes three years to amend the Constitution. Matters subject to comparatively frequent change should be excluded from the organic law.

AMENDMENT NO. 2—VOTE "YES."

This amendment relates to debts of the State and provides that:

> "The Legislature may from time to time alter the rate of interest to be paid upon any State debt which has been or may be authorized pursuant to the provisions of this section, or upon any part of such debt, provided, however, that the rate of interest shall not be altered upon any part of such debt, or upon any bond or other evidence thereof which has been or shall be created or issued before such alteration."

This amendment would permit the State Legislature to meet the varying conditions of the money market, just as private borrowers meet it. It was found impossible to sell the 3 per cent. State Canal bonds in the months following the disturbances in 1906. Delay in public works undertaken by the State is very costly, far exceeding any increased interest charge due to the exercise of the proposed legislative authority to fix rates which would sell the bonds. The ratification of this amendment would be simple business prudence on the part of the people.

AMENDMENT NO. 3—VOTE "NO."

This amendment provides that the Legislature may confer certain powers now exercised by County Supervisors upon "county auditors or other fiscal officers authorized to audit bills, accounts, charges, claims, or demands against the county." Little or no information is forthcoming as to the reason for this amendment. It is reported that State officers at Albany know nothing about it. Unless some convincing statement of its motive and purpose is made, the people of the State would be well justified in voting against it.

AMENDMENT NO. 4—VOTE "NO."

This amendment relates to the constitutional debt limit of cities. Its intended and chief effect will be to permit the City of New York to exclude from the debt limit calculation bonds issued "for the acquisition or construction of properties to be used for rapid transit or dock purposes." Under the recent decision of the Court of Appeals it appears that New York City now has a borrowing power of approximately $100,000,000. In the present condition of the city's credit, and having in view its already excessive debt, this is quite as much as the municipal authorities under any administration should have the power to spend. If the amendment should be ratified, nobody can say in what volume bonds could be or might be issued for the construction of docks and subways. The amendment requires that the new undertaking should be self-sustaining, but a subway at first operated at a profit sufficient to pay the interest and sinking fund charges might later on be operated at a loss. The bonds then would have to be included in the 10 per cent. limit, and, if we were already near that limit, the inclusion of tens of millions of additional bonds would cause it to be exceeded. This amendment is a dangerous departure from the policy which set up the safeguard of the 10 per cent. limit, and it should be rejected by the people.

CANAL REFERENDUM—VOTE "YES."

The referendum provision, sanctioning the issue of $7,000,000 of State bonds for the Seneca and Cayuga Canal improvement, should be approved, as that is a necessary part of the barge canal construction.

MR. HEARST'S RECORD.

Everett P. Wheeler Answers John Temple Graves's Letter to The Times.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Mr. John Temple Graves's letter is really too much. He must think New Yorkers have short memories. Let me recall a few facts.

Four years ago Hearst was a candidate for Mayor. In the course of the campaign he attacked Tammany vehemently. He was not elected. The next year he made an alliance with Tammany and obtained thereby the nomination for Governor. To get this he resorted to every fraudulent trick that the worst politician can devise. He excluded delegations that had been elected and admitted those that had not been elected. He obtained thereby a majority in the convention and got, of course, the regular party vote, but he could not get the votes of the independent Democrats. Both in country and city he ran behind his ticket (with a few trifling exceptions) and he was defeated.

Unfortunately he had succeeded in getting on the ticket a personal friend as Attorney General. This gentleman certainly was not selected from among the leaders of the Bar. He reversed the decision of his predecessor, and commenced a suit to oust Mayor McClellan from office. In order to avoid liability for costs, he did not join Hearst as a party, which he might have done. In this litigation Hearst claimed that he had been elected Mayor. If this were true it would be equally true that his associates on the ticket were elected to the offices of Controller and President of the Board of Aldermen. They all received about the same vote. Hearst showed himself in his true light, and uttered never a word in their favor. His present associates may learn from this that if he ever should get into power he would throw them overboard as promptly as he did his associates on the tickets four years ago, and as quickly effect a new alliance with the worst elements in Tammany.

In making up his ticket on which he ran for Governor he showed the character of men whom he likes to put into office. I have already spoken of the Attorney General. In making up the judicial ticket for this county he turned down Mr. Whitney, one of the few lawyers of character and distinction who had been associated with him in his Independence League. For reasons of purely personal spite he objected to the nomination of Mr. Conolly, a man of great experience and of the highest character. Both these men were on the law-years' ticket, and they ought to have had the nomination of both sides. This Mr. Hearst prevented.

Now let us turn from Hearst the politician to Hearst the journalist. His newspapers constantly stir up envy, hatred, and malice in the breasts of the poor. The Outlook has aptly described Hearst as the "political quack," whose nostrums are plausibly recommended and generally harm the patient.

Why Not?

The hats are now so very large
I really think we might
Just put a motor on behind,
And fly like Wilbur Wright.

MINNA IRVING.

GREENWICH WOMEN ASK MRS. PANKHURST

Exclusive Equal Suffragists Invite Militant Propagandist to Speak in Town Hall.

MUCH ARGUMENT PRECEDES

The Body Is Made Up Largely of New York Women Prominent in Many Spheres of Activity.

Special to The New York Times.

GREENWICH, Conn., Oct. 27.—It was announced here to-day that the Greenwich Equal Franchise League, which is composed largely of New York women who live here a part of the year and who claim residence here, and which is at once the youngest and largest local organization in the State league, had, after considerable discussion, invited Mrs. Pankhurst to speak in the Town Hall on the evening of Nov. 10.

It is understood that on the afternoon of the day on which Mrs. Pankhurst is to speak a reception under the league's auspices will be held in her honor at Rosemary Hall, one of the most fashionable girls' fitting schools in the country, whose head, Miss Reese, is Vice President of the league. To this will be invited many of the people prominent socially and otherwise in Fairfield County.

It was only after argument extending over most of a two-hour meeting that Mrs. Pankhurst was asked to come here. There is a strong anti-suffragette element in the league and it was feared that Mrs. Pankhurst's presence here might cause a misunderstanding in the minds of the public. The matter was finally left in the hands of the Executive Committee, consisting of Miss Adelaide B. Hyde, Mrs. E. N. Chapman, Mrs. Henry L. Cammann, Mrs. O. E. Parker, Mrs. Norman Talcott, Mrs. William Barrie Bracken, Miss Reese, and Miss Elizabeth Ely. This committee, with many friends, went to hear Mrs. Pankhurst Monday evening. The members of the Greenwich league are very enthusiastic workers, and already, led by Mrs. Charles B. Reed, have made themselves felt to the extent of securing school consolidation for Greenwich, though for several years prominent men had worked unsuccessfully to the same end.

Among the members are Mrs. Grace Gallatin Seton, wife of Ernest Thompson-Seton, whose work as a writer and artist, both in collaboration with her husband and by herself, is well known; Misses Mary and Elizabeth Ely, proprietors of the Misses Elys' School for Girls; Mrs. Frederick Gotthold, prominent in society and an artist of merit; Mrs. Emily Wakeman Hartley, wife of Randolph Hartley, a librettist, and herself a Shakespearean actress; Mrs. Howard Hinton, a sculptress, and Mrs. Emma Erskine Hahn, a sociologist and writer who was manager of Upton Sinclair's Helicon Hall; Mrs. Frederick Nathan, Mrs. Charles B. Reed, prominent in women's clubs in New York, a physician and a writer of political and sociological questions; Mrs. Ada Hilt Street, wife of Julian Street, the author; Mrs. Seager, wife of H. H. Seager, Professor of Ethics in Columbia University, and Mrs. Harriet Baker Hyde, wife of Dr. Fritz Carlton Hyde, head of the Greenwich Hospital, and herself a doctor of medicine.

BLUE RIBBONERS FOR BALLOT.

W. C. T. U. Unanimous for It as a Weapon to Achieve Reform.

OMAHA, Oct. 27.—The thirty-sixth annual convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union on this the closing day of its sessions, heard a report from the Rev. Mecca Marie Varney of Michigan, who, as Superintendent of the Franchise Department, declared that while blue ribboners are unanimous in demanding the ballot, it is not from a desire for political aggrandizement, but in the belief that it will furnish a way for carrying the other reforms for which they stand.

At the suggestion of Mrs. Varney, the convention then adopted for suffrage work the motto, "Woman's Ballot for the King's Business."

Besides the franchise, work among the soldiers and sailors and the importance of physical education were subjects of addresses by the Superintendents of the departments having those matters in charge.

Feb. 17, the anniversary of the death of Miss Frances Willard, was established as a special memorial day at which contributions to the Frances Willard Memorial Fund are to be made.

Among the important actions taken by this convention have been the decision to establish a printing plant where the organization may do its own printing, and the abolition, for sanitary reasons, of the Chautauqua salute—the waving of handkerchiefs to express applause.

ADDRESS AT SPRINGFIELD.

Suffragette Leader Addresses 500 Women in Massachusetts City.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Oct. 27.—Mrs. Emmeline G. Pankhurst, the noted English suffragette, addressed an audience of about 500 women in this city this afternoon. She outlined the history of the militant woman's suffrage movement in England, declaring it to be in truth a revolution, though so far without bloodshed. She said that American women, though apparently better cared for than their British sisters, were no less vitally concerned in gaining the vote, and counseled steps to that end.

Many availed themselves of the opportunity to meet the speaker at the close of her address.

The clerical force of the Department of Street Cleaning last night tendered to their chief, Street Commissioner William Hanford Edwards, an informal dinner at Reisenweber's as a token of their appreciation of his efficiecy and his conduct toward them at all times, but especially during the Hudson-Fulton Celebration. Seventy clerks sat down to the repast. John J. O'Brien proposed the health of the Commissioner, and Thomas F. Gorey presented him with an engrossed set of resolutions.

Miss Montague Weds Count Rasponi.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Oct. 27.—At noon to-day was celebrated the marriage of Miss Carolyn Montague of this city, to Count Nerino Rasponi, of Ravenna, Italy. Miss Montague is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Preston Montague, her father being a wealthy manufacturer of Chattanooga. She is the second daughter of the family to wed an Italian nobleman, her sister, Miss Mildred Montague, having married Count Passolini Pasolino, a cousin of Count Rasponi, two years ago. Among the guests were Count Rasponi, father of the bridegroom.

WHITE—PRITCHARD.

Mrs. Pansy Belvin Pritchard, daughter of the late John A. Belvin, was married yesterday in St. Thomas's Protestant Episcopal Church to Frederick Wheeler White of New York. The Rev. Dr. Wasson officiated. Julius Chambers, the bride's brother-in-law, gave the bride in marriage. The recent death of Mrs. Pritchard's sister, Mrs. Howard Walton Mesnard, necessitated the restriction of invitations to the two families and immediate friends of the couple. There was an informal reception in the chancel of the church, after which Mr. and Mrs. White left at once on a bridal tour to the Pacific Coast. They will return in five weeks and make their home at 12 West Fifty-fourth Street.

The Count and Countess J. Bernstorff of Germany arrived yesterday on the Kronprinz and are staying at the St. Regis until to-morrow, when they leave for Washington. The Count is the Ambassador from Germany.

MASSENET FAVORED AT THE MANHATTAN

Three Operas by French Composer to be Presented During First Two Weeks of Season.

CAVALIERI IN "HERODIADE"

Mary Garden to Appear in "Sapho" and "Thais," and Tetrazzini in "La Traviata"—McCormack's Debut.

Massenet is to be more than usually favored at the Manhattan Opera House this season, as was learned last evening, when Oscar Hammerstein divulged the répertoire for the first two weeks at that theatre. It had already been announced that the French composer's "Herodiade" would be sung on the opening night of the season, Nov. 8, and now the impresario announces that he will present Miss Garden in Massenet's "Sapho" during the second week of the season. It is the first time that either of these works have been heard in New York. To add to Mr. Massenet's cup of bliss, a third opera of his, "Thais," is to be immediately revived.

Following is a detailed account of the bills which Mr. Hammerstein will put on during the first two weeks of his regular season: Monday, Nov. 8, "Herodiade," with Mme. Cavalieri in the rôle of Salome, Mme. Gerville-Reache as Herodias, Mr. Dalmorès as Jean, Mr. Renaud as Herod, Mr. Crabbé as Vittelius, and the new French bass, Vallier, as Phanuel. Henriquez de la Fuente, the new conductor, will make his début on this occasion.

Mme. Tetrazzini will make her reappearance on Wednesday in "La Traviata." John McCormack, the young Irish tenor, will make his American début as Alfredo. Mr. Sammarco will be the Germont. This opera will serve to introduce Mr. Hammerstein's new Italian conductor, Oscar Anselmi.

Mme. Mariette Mazarin, who created the rôle of Salome when Richard Strauss's opera was produced in Brussels, will make her American début on Friday evening in the title rôle of "Aïda." Mme. d'Alvarez will be the Amneris; Mr. Zenatello, the Rhadames; Mr. Sammarco, the Amonasro; Mr. Vallier, the Ramfis. Mr. Anselmi will conduct.

Miss Mary Garden will make her reappearance in "Thais" at the Saturday matinée. Miss Trentini will again sing the part of Crobyle, and Mme. Duchene will be heard in the parts of Myrtale and Albine. Mr. Renaud will be the Athanael; Mr. Lucas, the Nicias, and Mr. Scott the Palemon. Mr. de la Fuente will conduct.

On Saturday night "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "Pagliacci" will be sung. In the first opera, Miss Sylva, Mme. Duchene and Messrs. Dalmorès and Crabbe will appear. Mme. Cavalieri will sing the role of Nedda in "Pagliacci;" Mr. Zenatello will be the Canio, Mr. Sammarco the Tonio, Mr. Crabbe the Sylvio, and Mr. Venturini the Beppo. Mr. Anselmi will conduct both operas.

The second week, beginning Monday, Nov. 15, will open with Mme. Tetrazzini in "Lucia," with John McCormack as Edgardo, and Mr. Sammarco as Ashton.

On Wednesday evening Mr. Hammerstein will produce "Sappho" for the first time in New York. Miss Garden will sing the title rôle, and Mr. Dalmorès will be the Jean, Mme. d'Alvarez will be the Divonne; Mr. Laskin, Caesaire; Mr. Dufranne, Caoudal; Mr. Valles, La Borderie, and Mr. Villa the innkeeper. Mr. de la Fuente will conduct.

On Friday evening, Nov. 19, Donizetti's "Daughter of the Regiment" will be given for the first time at the Manhattan, with Mme. Tetrazzini in the title part, Mr. McCormack as Tonio, Mr. Gilibert as the Sergeant, Mme. Duchene as the Marquise, and Mme. Severina as the Duchess. Mr. Anselmi will conduct.

"Herodiade" will be repeated at the Saturday matinée.

Mr. Hammerstein has deferred the opening of his season of the lighter operas until the second week of the season. On Tuesday, Nov. 16, Lecocq's "La Fille du Madame Angot" will be presented, with Mlle. Henriette Delorme. The second performance of this series will take place on Saturday night of the same week, when Audran's opera bouffe, "La Mascotte," will be given, also with Mlle. Delorme. The twenty-seven principals and the chorus engaged for this special series of light operas arrive next week on the Savoie, and the complete casts of these operas will be announced later.

The preliminary season of opera at the Manhattan will end Sunday night with a concert in which nearly all the singers engaged in the current season will take part.

JOKE ON BRIDAL COUPLE.

Dragged Through Long Branch in Sleigh Decorated with Tin Pans.

LONG BRANCH, N. J., Oct. 27.—At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel R. Clark, 420 Tabor Street, to-day their daughter, Kate, was married to Raymond P. Kline, also of Long Branch. Over 100 guests assembled at the Clark home to witness the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. John G. Lovell.

While the guests were seated about the tables each one was handed an English walnut shell tied with pink ribbon inside of which contained a printed slip stating Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Kline announce the engagement of their daughter, Leah M., to Benjamin F. Sprague of West Brighton.

The going away of the newly married couple was made an event of much noise. A big sleigh had been mounted upon a truck, and the outfit decorated with placards and tin cans. The friends of the couple substituted this for the coach, and dragged it through the principal streets with Mr. and Mrs. Kline seated in the sleigh and accompanied by a marching party of a hundred or more noise makers. The procession brought out the whole town and caused much merriment.

ANDREW B. PADDOCK DEAD.

Former Business Manager of The Sun Dies at Chappaqua.

Andrew Billings Paddock, for many years business manager of The Sun, died yesterday at his home, Rock Ledge, Chappaqua, Westchester Country. Mr. Paddock was 51 years of age. He was a stepson of the late Isaac W. England, for many years publisher of The Sun.

Mr. Paddock was born in Remsen, Oneida County. He was educated in a private school in Tarrytown. He went to work in the business office of The Sun as an office boy and he left there while business manager after thirty-one years of service. He left the employ of the paper to become Secretary and Treasurer of the National Roller Company at 307 Pearl Street. He was with the Roller Company at the time of his death.

Mr. Paddock was twice married. His first wife was Cornelia Haviland, a daughter of Stephan Haviland of Brooklyn. By her he had a son, Edward Hopkins Paddock, and a daughter, Mrs. E. R. Thomas of Charleston, S. C. Both survive him, as do his second wife, who was Miss Gertrude Haviland, sister of his first wife, and their son, Andrew Billings Paddock.

The funeral will be held to-morrow from the Church of St. Mary the Virgin, Chappaqua, at noon.

Edmund Hendricks.

Edmund Hendricks, a veteran of the Seventh Regiment, New York Volunteers in the civil war, died yesterday afternoon at his residence, 10 East Forty-fourth Street, after a short illness. He was in his seventy-fifth year. Mr. Hendricks was a member of the firm of Hendricks Brothers, a copper business which was being conducted by the fourth generation of the Hendricks family. He was a member of the Union, Lotus, and New York Clubs, the Chamber of Commerce, the Metropolitan Museum of Art, and the Museum of Natural History. He is seurvived by two brothers, Francis Hendricks and Harmon W. Hendricks, and six sisters.

P. N. WELCH DIES IN BERLIN.

President of First National Bank of New Haven and Donor to Yale.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BERLIN, Oct. 27.—Pierce N. Welch, President of the First National Bank of New Haven, Conn., died suddenly in a hospital in Berlin last night from pneumonia. His wife and a daughter, who accompanied him to Berlin, arranged to-day, with the co-operation of the American Embassy, to take the body to New York next Tuesday on the George Washington.

Pierce N. Welch was born in Plainville, Conn., June 27, 1841. He was educated at Yale, and soon after graduation in 1862 he went to Germany. After having spent some months in Berlin, studying German, he went to Heidelberg, coming back to this country in 1864. In 1867 he engaged in the wholesale grocery business in New York. In 1870 he returned to New Haven, and in 1871 was chosen Treasurer of the New Haven Rolling Mill Company, and he later became President.

In 1880 Mr. Welch's father died, and under his father's will Mr. Welch became heir to a large estate. He was chosen his father's successor in the Presidency of the First National Bank in 1889. He was the donor to Yale of the dormitory Welch Hall.

He was President and a Director in the Bristol Brass Company, a Director in the Bristol Manufacturing Company, Vice President and a Director in the New Haven Gas Light Company, trustee in the New Haven Trust Company, trustee in the National Savings Bank, and Director in the New Haven Clock Company. He was President of the New Haven Young Men's Christian Association for years.

Mr. Welch was one of the most prominent members of the Baptist Church in Connecticut. He is survived by his wife and five children. They are Mrs. John M. Gaines of Bronxville, N. Y.; Mrs. Charles W. Gross of Hartford, Mrs. Henry H. Graves, Miss Cora Welch, and Pierce N. Welch, Jr., of New Haven. A sister is Mrs. Grace W. Davies of Prospect Street, New Haven.

Mrs. James Henry Hackett.

Mrs. James Henry Hackett, the mother of James K. Hackett, the actor, died yesterday morning at her home, 262 West Ninety-fourth Street. Mr. Hackett returns from Chicago to attend the funeral, which will be held privately at the old Hackett plot, in Jamaica, L. I., to-day. The news of his mother's death had been expected by Mr. Hackett, as she had been ill for some time. Mrs. Hackett is the widow of James Henry Hackett, a celebrated portrayer of Falstaff. He was born in 1800, and was famous in England and America in the early part of the century. James K. Hackett was born when his father was 69 years of age. Following the death of her husband, the panic of 1873 dissipated the competency which Mr. Hackett had accumulated and threw the young widow, with her young son upon her own resources. She went on the stage and appeared in "Leah the Forsaken" and "Macbeth." The strain, however, proved too much for her shattered nerves, and she became seriously ill. Afterward, however, she regained her forces and succeedd in snding her son through college.

Benjamin Harrison Kidder.

EDGARTOWN, Mass., Oct. 27.—Medical Director Benjamin Harrison Kidder, U. S. N. retired, of Malden, Mass., died at his Summer home here last night. Dr. Kidder was a native of Massachusetts and entered the United States Navy from that State as an Assistant Surgeon in September, 1861. He was first attached to the gunboat Marblehead in the South Atlantic Blockading Squadron from 1862 to 1864, and then went to the frigate Colorado, the flagship of the North Atlantic Squadron, on which he served throughout the remainder of the civil war. He afterward served on the De Soto, Terror, Ossipee, New Hampshire, Wyoming, Wabash, and the Powhatan. He was promoted to the rank of Surgeon in 1868 and became a Medical Director of the Navy in 1893. Five years later he was placed on the retired list with the rank of Rear Admiral.

JOHN R. VAN WORMER DIES OF PARALYSIS

General Manager of Lincoln Safe Deposit Company Since Its Organization in 1881.

A STUDENT OF POLITICS

Chief Clerk of Post Office Department Under Postmaster General James—Prominent in Clubs.

John R. Van Wormer, who had been General Manager of the Lincoln Safe Deposit and Warehouse Company, 32 East Forty-second Street, from its organization in 1881 and also filled the offices of Secretary and in recent years that of Vice President, died yesterday at his home, 344 West Fifty-seventh Street, from paralysis. Mr. Van Wormer attended the big Hudson-Fulton dinner at the Hotel Astor on Sept. 27 and appeared to be in his customary health. The next morning he was stricken with paralysis, and although he was under the constant attendance of three physicians, no hope of recovery was held out.

President Thomas L. James was in Europe at the time, but he returned about a week ago, and Mr. Van Wormer rallied sufficiently to recognize his old friend, with whom he had been connected so many years.

Mr. Van Wormer was in his sixty-first year. He never married, and the only immediate members of his family are two sisters, Mrs. Bayard Taylor, who lives at the old homestead at Adams, N. Y., and Mrs. Walter C. Wood of Stamford, Conn. The funeral services will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Church of the Heavenly Rest, the Rev. Dr. D. Parker Morgan officiating, and the interment will be at Mr. Van Wormer's boyhood home in Adams.

John Rufus Van Wormer was born in Adams, Jefferson County, N. Y., March 14, 1849. He was educated in the military academy of his native town, and Colgate University conferred upon him, several years ago, the honorery degree of Master of Arts.

Mr. Van Wormer began his life activities as a telegraph operator at the age of fourteen years. Later he became a newspaper reporter and the correspondent for THE NEW YORK TIMES in 1872, representing the northern and central portions of New York State during the Presidential campaign between Gen. Grant and Horace Greeley. While engaged in newspaper work he attained prominence as a forceful speaker and writer on the principles and aims of the Republican party, and "stumped" the upper part of the State for Gen. Grant during the 1872 campaign.

Removing to Albany about this time he spent four years in newspaper work; in 1887 he was appointed private secretary to George B. Sloan, Speaker of the Assembly, after which he occupied a similar position to Senator Roscoe Conkling in Washington, and was also clerk of the Senate Committee on Commerce. During the later years that Thomas L. James was Postmaster of New York, Mr. Van Wormer was his confidential associate and chief clerk of correspondence.

When Gen. James was made Postmaster General under President Garfield in 1881, he took Mr. Van Wormer to Washington as his privae secretary and afterward he was promoted to be chief clerk and executive officer of the Post Office Department. In this connection he participated in the arduous work of ferreting out the "Star Route" frauds. In 1882 Mr. Van Wormer retired from public service and became teller of the Lincoln National Bank, of which Gen. James had been made President. Soon after, when Gen. James assumed the Presidency of the Lincoln Safe Deposit and Warehouse Company, Mr. Van Wormer was made Secretary and General Manager, holding the latter position up to the time of his death in addition to the Vice Presidency. He was also President of the Brooklyn Warehouse Company.

Outside of his banking and business interests Mr. Van Wormer was prominently identified in the club life of the city, particularly with that of the Union League Club, of which he was one of the most active members for more than twenty years. He was Secretary of the club for two years, in 1892 and 1893. He was President of the Holland Society in 1906, President of the New York Athletic Club for several years from 1890, and held the Presidency of the Jefferson County Society of New York Clubs. He was also a member of the New York Yacht Club, New England Society, St. Nicholas Society, and Sons of the American Revolution.

Mr. Van Wormer was an indefatigable student of National politics. He was a firm believer in the protective tariff policy, in reciprocity, and sound money, and his speeches and writings on these subjects, bearing the impress of discriminating study, carried wide influence. Mr. Van Wormer's home for many years was at the Union League Club.

Assemblyman Theodore B. Gibbs.

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 27.—Assemblyman Theodore B. Gibbs, the "Father of the House," died this morning at his home in Clementon. Mr. Gibbs was born near Mount Holly, Oct. 17, 1838. He was a miller. During the civil war he was Corporal of Company D, Twenty-ninth New Jersey Volunteers. He was appointed Postmaster at White Horse, now Kirkwood, Camden County, in 1866, and resigned in 1872. He was elected a member of the Board of Directors of the Atlantic City Railroad in 1876, and held that position at the time of his death. He held many local offices, including Sheriff of Camden County and Postmaster at Clementon. In 1892 he was elected to the Assembly, and was re-elected every year thereafter. In 1908 he was elected for the seventh consecutive term by a plurality of 7,671 over the Democratic candidate.

Obituary Notes.

GEORGE O. LINES, 52 years old, who formerly owned the street railway line between Bridgeport and Stratford, Conn., died on Tuesday at Stratford.

CHARLES A. HOYT, 67 years old, for twenty-eight years principal of School 8 in Newark, died on Tuesday at his home, 426 Sumner Avenue, in that city. Too close application brought on an attack of brain fever, from which he failed to rally. He left a widow and several children.

The Rev. BERNARD QUINN, pastor of the Catholic Church in Deerfield, N. Y., died in a hospital in Utica yesterday. He had been a priest for forty-five years, and was the author of several text books. When the larger churches in this city drew his congregation away, Father Quinn served without salary and acted as his own janitor, sexton, organist, and choirmaster as long as his health permitted.

BENJAMIN F. CHRISTIE, a brother-in-law of Freeholders counsel, Luther A. Campbell, died Tuesday night in Hackensack, N. J., from blood poisoning. A week ago he was seized with severe pains in the nose after scratching a pimple. His face and body swelled and his suffering was intense. Mr. Christie was a collector of rents, and it is believed that while handling dirty paper money he contracted a germ. He was 51 years old, and left a widow and one son.

JOHN S. BUDD one of the oldest farmers in Sussex County, died yesterday at his home in Fredon, N. J. His death resulted from paralysis. He was 82 years of age.

WILLIAM L. SAVAGE, for many years one of the leading builders in Bridgeport, Conn., fell down stairs at his home last evening and died instantly. An examination showed that his neck was broken. For the last three weeks he had been subject to fits of vertigo. He was 67 years old and leaves two daughters.

MICHAEL M'MANUS an old resident of Williamsburg, where he settled nearly sixty years ago and remained until recently, when he moved to Englewood, N. J., died there yesterday in his eighty-eight year. He bore a striking resemblance to Abraham Lincoln, and because of it he was known as "Honest Abe." He was the father of John J. McManus, who for several years was the active anti-McCarren man in the Fourteenth Assembly District. He is survived by a widow, two sons and two daughters.

The Ills We Have.

Hundreds of improvements exist in the minds of property owners to-day.

Many will have crystallized before the world is much older, and we shall be responsible for some.

Others will remain in embryo.

Many an owner hesitates to improve his property because of the traditional risks in the wake of a building enterprise.

He prefers the ills he has to those he knows not of.

But if an owner could be sure:

That he could get his improvement for a legitimate, previously determined cost;

That his building would conform to requirements and be finished on time; and

That an adequate rental return on investment in land and building would be forthcoming at a given date;

There would be fewer stillborn projects and greater building activity.

JUSTICE PECKHAM BURIED.

Justices of United States Supreme Court the Honorary Pallbearers.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 27.—The funeral of Justice Rufus W. Peckham of the United States Supreme Court was held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon from St. Peter's Episcopal Church, the Rev. W. W. Battershall officiating. There was no eulogy, simply the reading of the Episcopal service for the dead. Interment was in the family plot at Rural Cemetery.

The honorary pallbearers included Chief Justice Melville W. Fuller and Associate Justices of the United States Supreme Court, Chief Judge Cullen and Associate Judges of the Court of Appeals, former Chief Judges Alton B. Parker and Charles Andrews of the same court, former United States Circuit Judge William J. Wallace, and several prominent Albanians.

Gov. and Mrs. Hughes, former United States Senator David B. Hill, the Supreme Court Justices of the Third Judicial District, several Federal Judges, and members of the Albany County Bar were among those who attended.

The body of the dead jurist was brought this morning from Altamont, where he died, and, attended by relatives and friends and a delegation of Judges, including Justices White of the United States Supreme Court, was conveyed to the tower room of St. Peter's Church, where it remained until the funeral hour.

The members of the United States Supreme Court proceeded in a body from the Ten Eyck Hotel to the church to attend the services. Before leaving the hotel Chief Justice Fuller said:

"I am in a condition of mind that John Bright was when he rose in the House of Commons to speak in reference to the death of Mr. Cobden. He exclaimed: 'I never knew how much I loved him until I lost him.'"

Marriage and death notices intended for insertion in the New York Times may be telephoned to 1000 Bryant.

AUTOISTS GUESTS OF W. K. VANDERBILT, JR.

Donor of Famous Auto Cup Explains Plans for Blue Ribbon Event Saturday.

EXPECTS NEW RECORD RACE

Seventeen Cars Will Face Starter—Drivers Make Fast Time Over Course—To Draw for Positions.

William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., entertained a party of men interested in automobiling yesterday on the course which bears his name and for whose cup, the blue ribbon automobile prize of America, seventeen high-class cars will contest on Saturday. Among Mr. Vanderbilt's guests were many newspaper men, some who had never seen the course and were never before close to a racing car. Several of the drivers generously offered to whirl them around the course, and those who accepted the invitations were treated to the fastest rides recorded in the present practice period. Leland A. Mitchell, in a Simplex, with one of Mr. Vanderbilt's guests, did the 12.64-mile circuit in a little better than 10:45, and this in spite of the heavy fog that hung over the course.

Twenty-one drivers were out for practice. Jack Aiken made four consecutive laps, a distance of 51 miles, in 42:31. Lee Lorimer and Bert Dingley of the Chalmers-Detroit team and Harry Stillman of the Marmon team shared the morning honors with Mitchell and Aiken.

Hugh Harding made two rounds of the course in his Apperson car, but he said he did not care to risk wrecking his machine by trying for fast time in the dense fog. If the weather is clear this morning he will endeavor to learn how fast his "Jack Rabbit" can travel.

Other drivers on the course yesterday were "Joe" Matson, winner of the Indiana Trophy, in his Chalmers-Detroit; "Billy" Knipper, also in a Chalmers; Harry Grant in an Alco, E. H. Parker in a Fiat, "Eddie" Hearne in a Fiat, Charlie Merz in a National, Ray Harroun in a Marmon, the Columbia entry, Mitchell in his Simplex, Charlie Stutz in a Marion, Joe Seymour in Clifford V. Brokaw's Isotta, Louis Chevrolet in a Buick, and the three little Maxwells that performed so creditably in the Riverhead-Mattituck contest.

From the course the Vanderbilt party were carried in automobiles to the Garden City Hotel, where Mr. Vanderbilt entertained them with an informal breakfast. In addition to Manager A. R. Pardington his guests included A. L. McMurtry, Chairman of the Technical Committee; Starter Fred J. Wagner, and E. M. Durant, and Asa Candler, Jr., two prominent movers in the Atlanta auto track.

While there was no formal speechmaking Mr. Pardington welcomed the visitors and introduced Mr. Vanderbilt, who in part said:

Judging by the character of the cars and drivers entered in this year's contest, next Saturday's race for the cup I offered for competition five years ago should be the best, fastest, and safest road race ever held in this country, as with favorable weather conditions I believe a new American road record will be made by the winner. The fact that the conditions of the race have been so altered that only stock cars will compete this year is in my opinion a distinct change for the better, as duplicates of the cars that compete in the race can be purchased by any one who cares to buy them, and the contest will also prove, I trust, that American-built cars can now compete on even terms with the imported machines and possibly defeat them.

I am firmly convinced that competition is not only the life of the trade, but absolutely essential to the future of automobile industry. Competition not only stimulates trade, but arouses the interest of the buying public, and last but not least, these severe tests on the road result in the production of vastly better cars than would be possible by any other means. For years France led the world in the production of automobiles largely on the result of the information their manufacturers gained through road races. Last year they abandoned their Grand Prize Race, and as a result their makers had one of the worst seasons in the history of the industry.

Last year, owing to some misunderstandings between the organizations governing racing in this country, the Vanderbilt Cup was hardly up to its former standard, but this year all these differences have been adjusted, and in the future the Motor Cups Holding Company will handle both the Vanderbilt Cup and the Grand Prize Cup of the Automobile Club of America.

Whatever success the Vanderbilt Cup races have had in the past has been largely due to the efficient management and co-operation of A. R. Pardington, who handled the first race, in 1904, and who will have charge of this year's race; Robert Lee Morrell, who was in charge in 1905, and Jefferson De Mont Thompson, who officiated in 1906 and 1908.

While at breakfast, Manager Pardington received a formal telegraphic entry of a Mercedes car by James B. Ryall, who, it was thought, had abandoned all idea of taking part in the contest. This makes a field of seventeen cars, the same number as last year in the Vanderbilt, with ten cars additional in the two small classes.

At 8:30 o'clock to-night at the Garden City Hotel, the contestants will draw for their positions at the start, after which the racing crews will receive their final instructions from Referee W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., Manager A. R. Pardington, and Starter Fred J. Wagner.

AUTO TOURISTS IN PERIL.

Fred Weis's Car Wrecked and Occupants Narrowly Escape Injury.

WINCHESTER, Va., Oct. 27.—While running fifty miles an hour through the village of Middletown, this county, Automobile No. 53 in the New York-Atlanta tour, driven by Fred Weis of New York, was wrecked and its occupants narrowly escaped injury. The collapse of a rear wheel caused Weis to lose control of his machine and the car dashed into another automobile standing in the road. The Weis machine was badly wrecked and put out of the race. The autoists escaped with a severe shaking up.

STAUNTON, Va., Oct. 27.—The New York to Atlanta automobile touring party arrived here this evening, having left Gettysburg early this morning. They stopped in Winchester for luncheon, and from there to Staunton had fine roads and made excellent time. All along the line they were greeted with cheers. A number of Staunton autoists went to Harrisonburg to meet the party. "Ty" Cobb, the Detroit baseball player, is the lion of the party, and has been surrounded with admirers.

To-night the autoists were entertained at a concert by the Stonewall Brigade Band. Staunton is dry, but the citizens filled the former barroom at the hotel with everything to quench the thirst, and turned the keys over to the visitors. There are 46 cars and 152 persons in the party. They leave in the morning for Roanoke.

JEFFRIES DENIES BIG OFFER.

Jack Johnson on His Way to New York to Meet Old Champion.

The report telegraphed from California last night that N. S. Needham of Coalinga, Cal., had offered $100,000 for the forthcoming Jeffries-Johnson fight could find no confirmation here yesterday. At the Jeffries headquarters Sam Berger, speaking for the fighter, was inclined to cast doubt upon the story.

"No telegram or communication of any kind has been received from Mr. Needham or any one from Coalinga or elsewhere offering $100,000 for the fight. We would be pleased to consider such an offer, but it has not been made," said Berger.

Jeffries himself laughed at the story and said: "Perhaps the wires got crossed."

Jeffries was out early yesterday morning and took a brisk walk through Central Park and on Riverside Drive. In the afternoon he paid a second visit to the surgeon, who removed a growth in the right nostril Tuesday, to have his left nostril cleared in similar fashion.

Berger would not comment on Johnson's telegram asking for an appointment with Jeffries here to-day further than to say that the two men would not meet to-night.

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—Jack Johnson, who expects to sign articles for a championship battle with J. J. Jeffries, left Chicago on the Twentieth Century Limited of the Lake Shore Road to-day for New York to meet Jeffries.

Jeffries Sees Fight Pictures.

Jim Jeffries last night had a private view of the moving pictures of the Johnson-Ketchel fight at Hammerstein's Theatre. The retired champion watched the films intently, and after the display said he was disappointed, as he expected to see a good fast fight. He did not think Johnson a clever man, and said he was inferior to Jim Corbett as a boxer. The strongest point in Johnson's favor was his blocking, which Jeffries characterized as very good. He said Ketchel was very poor, and if the colored fighter had been good he would have cut him to ribbons.

Monte Attell Defeats Carroll.

OAKLAND, Cal., Oct. 27.—Monte Attell, bantam weight, received the decision over Jimmy Carroll in a ten-round fight here last night. Attell won all the way, and in the fifth round the bell saved Carroll, who had been knocked down from a knockout.

"Cyclone Johnny" Not Injured.

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—"Cyclone Johnny" Thompson, whose match with "Packey" McFarland at Kansas City is said to have been indefinitely postponed "because Thompson sprained an ankle," declared to-day he had suffered no injury whatsoever, and was ready to fight.

WITHDRAW FENCING TEAMS.

Annapolis and West Point Will Not Compete in College Tourney.

West Point and Annapolis have reconsidered their decision to withdraw from the Intercollegiate Fencing Association and will retain their memberships in the association. They will not send teams to the intercollegiate fencing tourney here, but confine their competitions to dual meets which will be held at West Point and Annapolis.

There has been for some time past a feeling among a certain element of the college fencing clubs that young swordsmen from the United States academies had an undue advantage in that fencing is an important branch of their instruction, but the fact that the army and navy cadets competed in the championship tourney proved one of the most interesting features and made their membership a desirable one.

Poteat Beaten in Columbia Tennis.

By defeating Poteat, Southern intercollegiate champion two years ago, Fleischman reached the finals yesterday in the Columbia team's tournament. Results of yesterday's competition:

H. M. Poteat, Pg., defeated K. Potter, '10, 6—10, 6—2; L. Fleischman, '10, defeated M. Tishman, '12, 6—2, 6—3; A. S. Moses, Pg., defeated S. B. Johnson, '10, 6—2, 6—4; F. S. Harvey, Pg., defeated K. M. Boorman, Pg., 6—4, 7—5.

Semi-Final Round.—L. Fleischman, '10, defeated H. M. Poteat, Pg., 6—2, 2—6, 6—3. Moses and Harvey match still to be played.

Three Riders Follow Hounds.

Special to The New York Times.

LONG BRANCH, N. J., Oct. 27.—Business and social engagements reduced the number of riders in the mid-week drag of the Rumson Country Club to-day to three. With the hounds of the Monmouth County Hunt Club, Howard Borden, Arthur Jones and Perry Beadleston followed the aniseed trail this afternoon from Red Bank station across country to the farm of T. Henry Grant, near Brookdale, a distance of eight miles. Mr. Borden, who acted as master, fell in making a high jump, but was not injured.

Indians in Fairly Good Form.

Special to The New York Times.

CARLISLE, Penn., Oct. 27.—Although a practice scrimmage had been arranged for the Carlisle Indians and the Dickinson College 'Varsity eleven to take place on Indian Field here this afternoon, the play was abandoned late this afternoon because of the possibility of injuries to the men, who will play in important games on Saturday. Coach Warner's Indians went through a drill in the fundamentals, followed by thirty minutes' signal practice and a fifteen-minute scrimmage between the 'Varsity and scrub teams, which was satisfactory to the officials. The Indians are showing fairly good form and have made fair progress with Coach Warner's new tricks. Houser's placement kicking was remarkably accurate.

DEAD HEAT SPLITS SELLING STAKES

Wise Mason and Beaucoup, the Only Runners, Divide the Stonybrook Prize.

HUCK WINS IN A FAST MILE

Earl's Court Winner at 20 to 1, the Only Upset in a Day of Close Racing at Aqueduct Track.

A dead heat in a two-horse race and the division of the Stonybrook Selling stakes was one freakish result of the racing at Aqueduct yesterday in a programme where the winner was in doubt even after the horses had passed the winning post in three events. Partisans of Wise Mason were as sure he had won as the backers of the Beaucoup were that the Montpelier Stable colt was first, but the decision making it a dead heat was entirely satisfactory, though there was loss for Wise Mason's backers in the division of bets and no profit for the backers of Beaucoup. Huck and Responseful got first money in their close races, but there was more or less expectation that both horses would be disqualified for foul riding.

The fields were small through the card, and leaving out the dead heat, post favorites were fairly successful, as three were first. The one real upset started the day, when the Keene cast-off, Earl's Court, at odds of 20 to 1, got home in front for the selling six and a half furlongs, first on the programme. Earl's Court, with Butwell, somehow was overlooked by the betting men, as the field of ten horses was practically made up of good things, with Casque and Enfield the two choices. Earl's Court broke out of the crowd in the first few strides, and was not headed again, though he was hard ridden at the end, and was stopping when he passed the post two lengths in front of Seymour Beutler.

Eleven horses were named for the Stonybrook Stakes, a mile and a sixteenth selling, but when the trainers got through scratching, only Beaucoup and Wise Mason were left, Wise Mason starting as a slight favorite over Beaucoup. The race was run with Wise Mason out in front, just clear of Beaucoup, and both horses going well into the last furlong. There Beaucoup closed and the real race was through the last sixteenth, the two, both hard ridden, passing the finish line on even terms and the judges declaring it a dead heat. There was prompt agreement by the owners to divide the stakes, and as it was a selling stake, both horses were offered without a bid.

Huck carried the top weight in the mile handicap, and starting as an odds-on favorite, ran a singularly fast mile, for the present condition of the Aqueduct track, when he got home in 1.40 2-5. Angelus made the early pace, but stopped at the half mile, Sir Cleges succeeding him in the lead, until Huck and Nimbus went on. Huck bore over on Nimbus as the horses finished, both under the whip, with Huck the winner by a head, but the interference was ignored by the stewards and the horses were placed as they finished.

Responseful, in the fifth race, closed on the favorite and pacemaker, Huda's Sister, in the last quarter, and crowded her back. Responseful then winning, hustled out, by three parts of a length. Garner, rider of Huda's Sister, made a claim, but his protest was dismissed.

J. E. Madden won his third maiden race in the week, when Hampton Court, well-up all the way, handily took the mile race for maidens of all ages, two-year-olds running first and second. Charlie Hargrave, as an odds-on favorite, easily won the second race, after waiting on Billiard Ball into the last furlong. The summaries:

FIRST RACE.—For three-year-olds and upward; selling allowances; six and a half furlongs.
J. P. Mayberry's Earl's Court, blk. g., 4, by Kingston-Dominoes, 104, (Butwell,) 20 to 1 and 8 to 1 ....1¹³

Injured Middy Worse, Then Rallies.

Special to The New York Times.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 27.—Midshipman Earl D. Wilson, who had a vertebrae of his neck broken during a football game last Saturday a week ago against Villanova College, was decidedly worse this morning, and for a while his condition was very grave. However, he rallied somewhat during the day. Among other unfavorable symptoms, Wilson suffered from an attack of hiccoughs. It was stated by the attending surgeons that there has been no diminution of the paralysis, or the slightest hopeful indication as yet. Pulmonary complications are feared by the surgeons.

AMERICAN HORSES BEATEN.

Sir Martin Third, Ballot and Priscillian Unplaced in Cambridgeshire.

NEWMARKET, Oct. 27.—The last of this year's handicap events, the Cambridgeshire Stakes, a handicap of 25 sovereigns each, with 500 sovereigns added, for three-year-olds and upward, distance one mile and a furlong, was won to-day by Christmas Daisy. Mustapha was second, and Louis Winan's Sir Martin, an American horse, third. There were nineteen horses entered, no less than four being American, and included J. R. Keene's Ballot, August Belmont's Priscillian, and Charles Carroll's Wheatear, none of which secured a place.

Christmas Daisy was a rank outsider, as up to within a few days ago the American horse, Sir Martin, ridden by "Skeets" Martin, the American jockey, was the favorite in the betting, but was displaced by Mustaphai. Another strong contender was Mr. Carroll's Wheatear, while J. R. Keene's Ballot had many supporters.

The ground was sodden and decidedly against such heavily weighted horses like Sir Martin, with 116 pounds up; Ballot, 131, and Priscillian, 122.

The winner early took the lead and romped in with the easiest kind of a victory by five lengths. Sir Martin was three lengths behind Mustapha. The betting on Christmas Daisy was 100 to 7 against, on Mustapha 11 to 2 against, and on Sir Martin 7 to 1 against.

WHO KNOWS WINS AGAIN.

Defeats Coast Marie After They Trot a Dead Heat on Speedway.

The duel for Speedway honors between James A. Murphy's Coast Marie, the former queen of the Speedway, and Christopher Hackett's Who Knows was continued yesterday at the third Fall matinée of the Road Drivers' Association, and again the decision was in favor of the Hackett entry. For three heats the horses fought it out, and the close finishes in all with one exception, a dead heat, made the event, which was an exhibition race, the best of the afternoon.

There were not many spectators, but those present were keenly interested in the contest between the two horses.

The first heat showed a nip and tuck struggle all the way down the half-mile course. For the first part of the distance Who Knows seemed to have a trifle the better of the argument, but Coast Marie came on even terms nearing the finish, and held it to the end, and the judges declared it a dead heat.

The second heat was of nearly the same order, Who Knows pulling ahead to win by the smallest margin and so close was it that many spectators thought there had been another dead heat. Who Knows was stronger in the third heat than Coast Marie and won by a neck.

Hiram Abiff, driven by William J. Minor, won a clean-cut victory in the race for Class A pacers. J. J. Corkery's Dandy C. O. and Americus, owned by William Stoeltzing, were the other starters. Dandy C. O. took the first heat, but the succeeding two went to Hiram Abiff. The summary:

ORCAGNA WINS AT 40 TO 1.

Nethermost and Hiacko Outrun in Rennert Purse Race.

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 27.—The fourth day of the Pimlico meeting had cloudy weather, a fast track, and good attendance. The Elkridge Steeplechase was won by Southwest after Peter Young fell and Clover Croft and Picket both lost their riders Peter Young and Picket were remounted and finished within the time limit, the former taking second place.

The Rennert purse, the feature of the day's racing, was won by Orcagna at 40 to 1, in a hard drive. The summaries:

FIRST RACE.—Selling, six furlongs; purse, $500. Lothario, 105 pounds, (Davenport,) 5 to 1, 2 to 1, even, won; Compton, 110, (Goldstein,) 12 to 1, 4 to 1, 2 to 1, second; Acumen, 107, (J. Reid,) 9 to 2, 8 to 5, 4 to 5, third. Time—1:13 4-5. The Speaker, Kid, Oppar, Rebellion, Louise Welles, also ran.

Morningstar's Double Victory.

Ora Morningstar scored a double victory yesterday in exhibition 18-2-inch balkline billiard matches at the Knickerbocker Billiard rooms, Brooklyn. In the afternoon he defeated H. H. Smith by the score of 300 to 130. Morningstar was not in very good form and required thirty-five innings to run out the game, his best run being sixty-two, while Smith's highest contribution was sixteen. With an unfinished run of 158 Morningstar last night completed his string of 300 against J. M. Millett, whose total was seventy-four.

Bryon Gillett of Buffalo defeated E. J. Mack at three cushion carrom billiards yesterday at Maurice Daly's billiard room, 1,616 Broadway, by the score of 50 to 45. Gillett, who is the champion of Buffalo at the three cushion game, finished with a run of five, all of which were difficult bank shots.

Albert Cutler of Boston and John Daly of Chicago, who are giving a series of exhibition games at three-cushion billiards this week at Doyle's Academy, Broadway and Forty-second Street, played two games yesterday, both of which were won by Daly. In the afternoon [illegible] out his score of [illegible] in the evening [illegible] against Cutler's [illegible] games to-day.

FOOTBALL TEAMS IN HARD DAY'S GRIND

Twelve Coaches Put Yale Squad Through Severest Drill of the Season.

HARVARD AWAITS CAMPBELL

Former Head Coach Coming from New Mexico to Help Prepare Crimson Eleven—Navy Cripples Out.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 27.—Enough coaches were at Yale Field to-day to make up for the deficiency of the past fortnight. Twelve turned out, more than one for each 'varsity player. The number included "Kid" Wallace, who has not been on Yale Field in five years; Burr Chamberlin, Morris Ely, Guy Hutchinson, DeWitt Cochrane, Ray Townsend, Frank Butterworth, George Adee, Ray Biglow, and the regular staff, Walter Camp, Henry Wheaton, and Howard Jones.

Drastic new rules were put into effect regarding the quarter backs, whose play continues loose. As fast as one fumbled he was deposed and sent off the field. Howe was tried first and he was banished in five minutes. Johnson worked only five minutes before he became tangled in his passing efforts, and Pop Corey finished the session in triumph.

A forty-minute scrimmage was ordered and fought through in the liveliest drill of the season. The regulars were kept driving at high speed throughout. Logan figured in the most sensational run of the practice. After the scrubs had made three tries to break through the 'varsity defense at their five-yard line, Logan seized the ball on a fumble and sprinted fifty yards to midfield before he was thrown by Brooks, the sprinting end rush of the scrubs.

Cornell's Defense and Attack Stronger

Special to The New York Times.

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 27.—The Cornell 'Varsity showed marked improvement both in defense and attack in to-day's games with the second team and freshmen, defeating the scrubs by two touchdowns in a fifteen-minute half and outplaying the freshmen, though not being able to score on account of penalties, fumbling, and the good punting of Butler, the freshman quarter back.

Two important shifts were made in the 'Varsity line, K. Hale and Delano of the scrubs taking O'Connor's place at right guard, the latter going to the second team, while Hoffman, who played a dashing game against Vermont last week, played at right half back, Krutsch going to the scrubs. It was evident that the coaches felt that the two regulars had not been up to the standard lately and plan to make them hustle harder. Both O'Connor and Krutsch played hard football to-day, however, and will not give up their places without a bitter struggle.

Capt. Tydeman gave his best exhibition of the year, making one fifty-yard run on a forward pass, and making a number of shorter gains on tackle plays and through the line. He brought the ball within striking distance for the first touchdown, Simson taking it over on a plunge through centre.

Campbell to Join Harvard Coaches.

Special to The New York Times.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 27.—The practice at the Harvard Stadium this afternoon was hard and fast, lasting forty minutes. The 'Varsity scored four times—three touchdowns and a field goal by O'Flaherty from the thirty-yard line. The forward pass and onside kick received considerable attention. The "toss" invariably gained its distance, but the second team frustrated every attempt at the onside play and twice obtained the ball and brought it dangerously near the regulars' crossbars. Perkins, candidate for centre, was tried out at right guard in place of L. Withington, and showed himself more at home in his new position. He broke through the opposition's line repeatedly, and one time blocked an attempted punt of Tryon's; securing the ball himself and crossing the goal line. Frothingham found the "subs" ends easy to elude, and most of the regulars' gains came that way, excellent interference by Smith and O'Flaherty assisting. O'Flaherty ran his team excellently. He picked vulnerable parts in his opponents' line for good gains and kicked cleverly. All the invalids were in togs. McKay running through signals. Corbett, Long, and Brown took light exercise on the side lines, and are all confident of facing West Point Saturday.

Dave Campbell is expected to join the coaching squad next week, coming from New Mexico.

Army Scrubs Beat 'Varsity, 6 to 0.

Special to The New York Times.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Oct. 27.—The Cadets' scrimmage to-day was not an encouraging one, the scrubs winning for the first time this season by the score of 6 to 0. Brown broke through the 'Varsity line and blocked Surles's punt on the fifteen-yard mark and scored a touchdown. Getting the ball in midfield, the 'Varsity, by straight football and using Walmsley to bore through the line, carried the ball twice to the twenty-five-yard mark, where the scrubs held. Later DeVore recovered a forward pass, and placed the 'Varsity on the scrubs' ten-yard mark, but the first team after a short gain lacked the power to gain the distance, and Brown once more punted out of danger. Just before time was called the 'Varsity again had the ball on the scrubs' fifteen-yard mark and Keyes attempted a drop kick from the twenty-five-yard mark, but it fell short. Brown, who was shifted from half back on the 'Varsity, was a tower of strength to the scrubs. Wood again received a kick in the head and had to retire. Pullen did not play to-day and DeVore was shifted from left guard to right tackle and Burr placed at guard. Dean and Chamberlain were on the side lines and the backs were Surles, Walmsley, and MacDonald.

Fordham Plays N. Y. U. in Practice.

Fordham's football men lined up against New York University's eleven on Ohio Field yesterday afternoon for a practice game. Neither team used their entire 'Varsity strength, Fordham substitutes taking the places of "Dad" White, Gargan, and Barrett, who are suffering from injuries received last Saturday. Kelleher was also out of the game on account of an examination. New York University's missing regulars were Mackay, Vesseley, and Nixon, but the latter appeared on the field toward the end of the game and played for a short time.

The practice continued for more than an hour, neither team being allowed to score. At the opening of the game the Violet players appeared to be afraid of Gargan's men and easily gave way before their violent plunges. A forty-yard run by Gorsch, however, gave them confidence and they showed up much better than was expected. Fordham tried the forward pass repeatedly, but with very poor success. New York University was also unsuccessful at this play, although they only attempted it twice. The onside kick was used with more success by both sides. George Walsch made some beautiful punts for Fordham, and Yule kicked well for New York. "Bull" McCaffrey's tackling was exceptionally fine.

Two men were injured during the progress of the game. R. Elliffe's ankle was slightly sprained and George Walsch's hand severely bruised.

Tigers Score Seven Touchdowns.

Special to The New York Times.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 27.—The 'varsity had the longest scrimmage practice of the season to-day. For forty minutes they opposed the scrubs and made seven touchdowns, Hart making three, Garrett two, Sparks and Cunningham each one. The scrubs were once within three yards of the 'varsity goal line, but they fumbled the ball and Sparks carried it the length of the field for a touchdown. The coaches were well pleased with the work to-day and particularly with the forward pass, which was used for the first time with fair success. Ballin again showed up well at end, and Jackson, a new man, did good work for the scrubs in that position.

The open field tackling is still weak, although Bamman made some clever stops. The latter also showed improvement in passing the ball. The 'varsity forwards played a better offensive game than usual, and MacGregor, who was sent in after McCrohan went out, did some fast work.

Crippled Stars Rejoin Navy Eleven.

Special to The New York Times.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 27.—Reifsnider, the fast end, and Richardson, the big full back of the Naval Academy team, who have been laid up since the Villanova game a week ago last Saturday, delighted the local contingent by appearing on the field this afternoon. Reifsnider ran through signals and some special plays without showing any bad effect from his weak ankle, and Richardson got in part of the line-up. It now looks as if both men may be used against Princeton next Saturday. Battle played quarter back this afternoon and is doing well in most of the requirements of the position, except in running back kicks. A large portion of the time this afternoon was devoted to practicing variations of the forward pass plays, in which the midshipmen have had little success so far.

Football Player Not a "Ringer."

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 27.—W. R. Calfee, who played left guard in the Virginia-Navy football game, last Saturday, and who was charged with being a "ringer," is a matriculate upon the roll books of the Medical College of Virginia here. Officials of that institution stated this morning that he was in college at present, and also up to a short time before the Virginia-Navy game. Four university men were present when the statement that Calfee was a "ringer" was made, and they at once wrote a letter to Manager Carrington asking for information, and demanding that, if their information was true, Calfee be put off the team. A telegram from Manager Carrington of the university football team, received here to-day, stated that Calfee had in no sense violated any rules of athletic eligibility in the university.

Columbia Juniors Victorious.

Although the Columbia freshmen put up a plucky football fight yesterday, the juniors were too strong for them, and they were decisively defeated in the third game of the interclass football series by a score of 21 to 0.

The junior team has shown remarkable strength and quickness, and is the most probable winner of the series. Much of this power may be attributed to the coaching of L. H. Bigelow, Captain of the Yale eleven in 1907, who worked with them early in the season, and C. B. Whitwell, who played on the Columbia 'Varsity team in 1905. The line-up:

Schlottmann	Centre	Witherby
Winderman	Right guard	Klein
Grimm	Right tackle	Kohlbusch
Cook	Right end	Melitzer
Donaldson	Quarter back	Wheeler
Lowe	Left half back	Shaw
Melitzer	Right half back	Malloy
Lommell	Full back	Latenser

Touchdowns—Lommell (2,) Klugescheid, Herbert. Goal from touchdown—Winderman. Substitutes—Braender for Kinney, Rockwell for Grimm, Whitlock for Cook, Klugescheid for Donaldson, Herbert for Lowe, Pitt for Melitzer. Referee—Mr. R. M. Keator. Umpire—Mr. F. H. Sainders. Every bit of our Motor Wear that goes to the Cup Race will represent a dollar's worth of value and a little more for every dollar it cost.

The generally accepted policy of "soaking the man with a machine" is foreign to all our ideas of good business.

Motor greatcoats of heavy woolens, fur coats, weatherproofs, Thermos bottles and everything needed for night and day motoring.

Some suits of Donegals and other rough cheviots just added to our stock make specially suitable suits for wear on sporting occasions.

The latest "Stars" to loom over the horizon are two "Star" dress shirts—"Juno" and "Vesta."

"Juno" with plain bosom for full dress, "Vesta" with narrow plaits for dinner wear.

Both with turnback French cuffs.

A glove man says it's no trick to sell a $2 glove for $1.50.

POWERS HOLDS ON TO THE PRESIDENCY

Eastern League Leader Is Re-elected Following a Caucus at the Waldorf.

TWO OPPONENTS WITHDRAW

Season Next Year Will Begin April 20 and Close Sept. 25—154 Games to be Played.

Without another name being mentioned Patrick T. Powers was re-elected President of the Eastern League at the second day's session of the annual meeting of the organization at the Hotel Victoria yesterday. It was expected that the opposition of James R. Price, the sporting editor of The Press, and Edward Barrows, the old Detroit and Toronto manager, would cause much trouble to the President of the league, but at a caucus held at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel on Tuesday night the opposition to Mr. Powers decided to withdraw their candidates after it was found they were hopelessly beaten. There was no surprise, therefore, when Walter O'Mara of the Jersey City Club nominated Mr. Powers for the Presidency yesterday, which was seconded by Hugh Duffy of Providence. When Jacob J. Stein of Buffalo, who was in the chair at the time, announced if there were any further nominations there was complete silence in the meeting room. Mr. Stein, therefore, placed the name of P. T. Powers to a vote, and all the delegates, including President Chapin, whose proxy was held by Mr. Stein of Buffalo, voted for Mr. Powers. When the decision was reached, J. J. McCaffrey of Toronto and Hugh Duffy of Providence were appointed a committee to apprise Mr. Powers of his re-election.

Besides the election of Mr. Powers, it was decided that the new Board of Directors should consist of representatives from Providence, Montreal, Newark, and Jersey City. There will be another member, but his identity will not be known until after changes in the constitution have been made.

The question as to how many men a club may carry will also be decided at a meeting to be held at the Windsor Hotel, Montreal, on Feb. 4. Besides this meeting, another confab of the delegates of the league may be held in this city in conjunction with the meetings of the National and American Leagues.

The schedule, which will be prepared by President Powers, was the only other matter which the delegates had to contend with. It was decided that 154 games should be played, the same as last year. The season will begin at Baltimore on Wednesday, April 20, and at Providence, Newark, and Jersey City on April 21. The closing games will be on Sept. 25, two days earlier than last year. The full schedule must be in the hands of the eight clubs by Jan. 15, and it will be ratified at a meeting at Montreal Feb. 4.

DAHLEN BROOKLYN'S MANAGER

Old Short Stop Engaged to Handle Superbas Next Year.

President Ebbets announced yesterday that he had signed Bill Dahlen, the Giants' old short stop, and who has for the past two seasons filled the same position for the Boston National League team, as manager of the Brooklyn team in place of Harry Lumley, next year.

Dahlen is a Glens Falls, N. Y., boy, but his first professional baseball experience with with the Albany Club. Joe Battin, the old third baseman of the Athletics, and afterward an umpire, highly recommended Dahlen to "Cap" Anson, of the Chicago team, and "Bill" was engaged. He remained with Anson for a number of years and was then traded to Brooklyn. After playing five years at Washington Park, Dahlen was traded to the New York Club, the latter giving up Shortstop Babb, Pitcher Cronen and a cash consideration. Dahlen's playing became a big factor in the success of the Giants. In 1907, as the result of a trade, Dahlen, Ferguson, Bowerman, McGann, and Browne were traded to the Boston Club for Tenney, Bridwell, and Needham, and Dahlen was still a member of the Boston Club when President Ebbets secured him.

In addition to Dahlen the Brooklyn Club has received contracts for next year from E. E. Dent, R. E. Erwin, John J. King, Lee Meyer, H. H. Myers, H. J. Redmond, James H. Teujes, Zack D. Teujes are twenty years old and live in Teupes are twenty years old and live in Brooklyn. They have been playing semi-professional baseball, King being a catcher and Teujes a lefthanded pitcher.

Catcher Gibson Honored at Home.

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 27.—Catcher "Mooney" Gibson of the Pittsburg baseball team received a royal welcome on his return home last night. He was escorted by a procession nearly half a mile long to Victoria Park, where he was presented with a magnificent case of silver by his admirers. An address was read by Mayor Stevely, and after the ceremony he was escorted to his home on Charles Street by hundreds of enthusiastic friends headed by a band.

Pitcher Donovan Signs for 1910.

DETROIT, Oct. 27.—Pitcher "Bill" Donovan of the Detroit American League champion team, to-day signed a contract with the local club for the 1910 season. Nearly every member of the team has now been signed for next season.

Tigers Beat Jacksonville, 4 to 2.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 27.—Chapple and Willet both pitched brilliant ball this afternoon, Detroit winning 4 to 2. A feature was the fielding and batting of Kennedy, who played left field for the locals. Score:

										R.	H.	E.
Jacksonville	0	0	0	1	1	0	0	0	0	2	7	3

Last Subway Injunction Dissolved.

The injunction obtained by Jefferson Levy, at the instigation of Controller Metz, against the Board of Estimate proceeding with the appropriation of money for the construction of the Fourth Avenue Subway, Brooklyn, has been dissolved as a result of the decision of the Court of Appeals as to the debt limit. There is nothing consequently to prevent the board from taking the matter up to-morrow.

GOOD VAULTERS AT YALE.

Gardner Does 11 Feet 3 Inches in Annual Fall Inter-Class Games.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 27.—That Yale will be strong in the pole vault the coming year was demonstrated in the annual Fall track meet for men who have not won their Y's held to-day, when R. A. Gardner, a sophomore, won the event with 11 feet 3 inches, with N. Byers second with 11 feet, and four men tied for third place with ten feet. The best performance of the meet was the winning of the 100-yard dash by H. K. Sherwood, a freshman, in 10 1-5 seconds. E. P. Seymour, a second year man, did 220 yards in 22 1-5 seconds.

The hammer throw went to S. Peabody, with 122 feet 9 inches, and the shot-put to E. Mersereau, with 36 feet 6 inches. No records were broken. The summaries:

One-Mile Run.—Won by S. S. Southgate, '12; W. C. Douglas, '10, second; O. H. Tilson, '11, third. Time—4:52.

440-Yard Run.—Won by R. F. Decker, '13; L. N. Meeker, '11, second; L. Kirjasoff, '11, third. Time—0:52 3-5.

CUSTOM HOUSE OPEN SUNDAY

To Give French Importers a Chance to Save the New Tariff.

Collector Loeb announced yesterday that the Custom House would be kept open next Sunday to permit the entry of French importations before the expiration of commercial treaties, and the taking effect of the new tariff law. On Nov. 1 the duty on champagnes from France will be increased from $6 per case to $9.60. Hundreds of cases are now on steamships coming to this port, and the decision to keep the Custom House open on Sunday was to give importers a chance to save the additional duties.

The Custom House will be open until 4:30 P. M., on Saturday to allow the Touraine, from Havre; the St. Paul, from Southampton, and the Louisiane, from Havre, which are expected then, to declare their cargoes before nightfall. Vessels arriving at Quarantine will be permitted to make preliminary entries to cargoes which may be landed later.

CAN'T INCORPORATE LLOYD'S.

Name Misleading, Says Secretary of State Koenig—Court Upholds Him.

Supreme Court Justice Amend denied yesterday the application of counsel for Wendell P. Parker, M. V. Benton, and Louis Horence for a mandamus compelling Secretary of State Koenig to file a certificate of incorporation for "Lloyd's, New York, Inc.," on the ground that William Hotchkiss, State Superintendent of Insurance, is making inquiry into the operation of the insurance associations known as "Lloyds, New York."

On behalf of the incorporators of "Lloyds, New York, Inc." it was stated that the various "Lloyds, New York," were unincorporated, and that the object of the new company was to transact business for them as their agent.

Secretary Koenig refused to file the certificate of incorporation sent to him because he considered the name was misleading, and tended to deceive the public, as there were other associations and firms doing business under the title "Lloyds." The incorporation certificate and fee were subsequently returned.

JURY FRAUDS ARE CHARGED.

Members of Chicago Commission Accused of Using Illegal Methods.

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—Violation of the law governing the drawing of grand and petit jurors is charged against the Jury Commission of Cook County in an official report made by the October Grand Jury before Judge Richard S. Tuthill to-day.

The system of jury drawing in the office of the Jury Commission is characterized in the report as "fraught with fraud and irregularities," and the charge is made that the selection of jurors has not been in accordance with the law, but rested on the personal choice of the Jury Commissioners and their employers. A system of false cards and lists is pointed out in the report.

Cook County Judges are to investigate the charges. Indictments already have been voted in connection with the case and defendants to specific charges are awaiting trial.

"OH, YOU KID!" AN INSULT.

Magistrate Frees Man Who Whipped Husband for Shouting at Wife.

Special to The New York Times.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 27.—Magistrate James D. Walker this morning decided in the case of Norman Bradley, a young business man, who had sued George B. Stacy for assault and battery, that any man who shouts "Oh, you kid!" at a woman on the street, even though she should be his own wife, should be whipped. The Magistrate said he would not fine any man who administered the whipping.

Bradley some time ago was on the street with his wife in the evening. Meeting an acquaintance he stopped to chat with him while Mrs. Bradley strolled a few steps further on. "Oh, you kid! Wait!" Bradley shouted to his wife, waving his hand at her.

Stacy, who was near by, thinking the man was trying to flirt with the young woman, knocked Bradley down. There was a hard fight in which both men were badly used up.

RECORD ORDERS FOR ROLLING STOCK

Central Lets Contracts for 17,850 Freight Cars, 197 Passenger Cars, and 325 Locomotives.

CAR SHORTAGE IS FEARED

Nearly $5,000,000 Going Into New Rails, Which Makes an Expenditure for Equipment of About $30,000,000.

The largest order for railroad equipment since the slump of 1907 was announced by the New York Central Railroad yesterday. The system, according to the information made public yesterday afternoon, has placed within the last few days contracts for 17,850 freight cars, 325 locomotives, and 197 passenger cars. The distribution of the orders has not been disclosed, but it is understood that the company has divided them among a number of concerns, of which the American Car and Foundry Company and the American Locomotive Company are believed to have received the largest portions of the car and locomotive orders, respectively.

It is stated that the expenditure involves about $25,000,000. It follows a recent statement by President Brown that the road's business had been breaking the records established at the height of the 1907 boom, and that a car shortage was already making itself felt. In this connection it was stated yesterday that the New York Central lines had handled a total of 1,505,414 car loads during the first twenty-five days of the current month, a total which exceeds all records of car movements in the company's history, and is 183,345 loads greater than the business done during the same period in 1907, and 63,000 loads above the record for the first twenty-five days of October, 1907.

The New York Central is also arranging the final details for letting contracts for steel rails for 1910 delivery. These orders will total 165,000 tons and will cost about $4,620,000. The rails are for the lines both east and west of Buffalo, among which the steel is to be equally divided. Following the usual custom, it is expected that the rail order will be divided between the Steel Corporation, the Lackawanna Steel Company, and other rail-making concerns from which the road gets traffic.

The New York Central car order is the high water mark of the equipment orders which have been coming in in increasing volume since early in the Summer. The Harriman, Hill, and Rock Island systems have already announced large orders, as have the Baltimore & Ohio and others of the smaller lines. The Pennsylvania's car orders, placed over a month ago, were the largest so far this year, and made the record up to the time of the New York Central's announcement yesterday.

COAST LINE ISSUE NOT NEAR.

The $200,000,000 Bonds to be Authorized May Chiefly Refund Debt.

The Atlantic Coast Line, it was learned yesterday, does not purpose issuing in the near future any of the bonds totaling $200,000,000, which, as was made known on Tuesday, the stockholders will be asked to authorize at their meeting to be held on Nov. 16. The general purpose of this new authorization, it was stated, is to provide for the future requirements of the company, including the refunding of existing obligations. This move places the Atlantic Coast Line in a position to unify its debt as refunding opportunities offer themselves, but does not reflect, it is said, a purpose to resort to any financing just at this time.

The new bonds will carry interest at the rate of 4 per cent. Included in the general purpose of the proposed issue is the retirement by exchange of the company's certificates of indebtedness, but in respect to this particular obligation it is proposed to provide an alternative method of retirement in the form of 4 per cent. debenture bonds. The latter it is proposed to make convertible into the company's stock, and for this purpose the stockholders will act on a proposal to increase the outstanding stock of the company by such amount as may be necessary to provide for the conversion of any such bonds into stock.

GAIN IN COAL OUTPUT.

Increase in Amount Mined in West Virginia Shown by Report.

CHARLESTON, West Va., Oct. 27.—The output of coal in West Virginia for the year ended June 30, 1909, was almost two and one half million tons greater than for the preceding year, according to the statistics compiled by the Department of Mines in this State. The output for the twelve months ended June 30, 1908, was 39,387,010 tons of 2,240 pounds, while for the year ended June 30, 1909, the output was 41,851,403 tons.

The coke manufactured totaled 3,125,451.

KEEPING DOWN STEEL ORDERS

Corporation Averse to Making Contracts at Present Prices.

The unfilled tonnage on the books of the United States Steel Corporation on Sept. 30, reported at 4,796,833 tons at Tuesday's meeting of the directors, was 738,894 tons larger than that reported at the end of the previous quarter. Much comment on this fact was heard in Wall Street yesterday.

The fact that the Steel Corporation, like many of the independents, has been refusing to book business for any considerable time ahead at the low prices which prevailed during the summer, was lost sight of by the analysts of the report, and the explanation was made in brokerage circles that the Corporation officials at a conference held at the office of J. P. Morgan & Co., before the meeting on Tuesday, it had been decided to change the system of reporting orders, so as to take account of only those contracts against which specification had actually been made.

Before the slump of two years ago when the steel mills were running under force draught, and prices were at top notch, the steel makers were loaded up with contracts for long periods ahead, which helped to swell the reports of unfilled business reported. It was explained by an official of the Steel Corporation yesterday that because of the low current prices and the rapidly increasing demand, the Corporation, as well as the independents, had been consistently refusing to accept orders for delivery into the new year, and in this sense the reported tonnage was correspondingly curtailed.

Practically the only contracts for delivery through next year which are counted in the unfilled orders reported by the Steel Corporation, are those for steel rails which at $28 per ton are considered to be selling at a standard price, since this rate has prevailed unchanged for several years.

The Iron Age in to-day's issue, after commenting on the tonnage showing of the Steel Corporation, says:

> Bookings continue heavy in the aggregate. As an instance, our Pittsburg correspondent notes that during the week ending Oct. 23 the Carnegie Steel Company entered specifications against contracts and booked new orders for sheets, plates, axles, car wheels, and bar mills products aggregating 126,000 tons. This enormous tonnage does not include orders for rails, billets, sheet, and tin plate bars, and other semi-finished products of the company.

MORE CARS FOR B. & O.

Contracts Are Placed for 4,400 Completing Addition to Equipment.

Special to The New York Times.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 27.—The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company placed orders to-day with the Standard Steel Car Company of Butler, Penn., for 2,400 steel hopper coal cars; with the Cambria Steel Company of Cambria, Penn., for 1,000 steel hopper coal cars, and with the American Car and Foundry Company of St. Louis for 1,000 steel under-frame box cars.

These orders call for $4,500,000 and complete the recently decided upon addition of 10,000 cars of the largest capacity to the coal and general freight equipment of the Baltimore & Ohio.

Glue Pays Extra Dividend.

The American Glue Company has declared its first extra dividend since 1908 in announcing an extra disbursement of $1 a share on the common stock in addition to the semi-annual dividend of $2 per share. The company began making extra payments of $1 per share in May, 1907, and continued to do so at every semi-annual period until at this time a year ago.

Stock Exchange's New Treasurer.

The Governing Committee of the Stock Exchange elected at their regular meeting yesterday Henry C. Swords to the office of Treasurer to succeed the late F. W. Gilley, who died during the Summer. Mr. Swords has been a member of the Exchange since 1877. His election to this office left a vacancy in the Governing Committee, since the Treasurership carries with it an ex-officio membership in that body, and William H. Remick was elected to fill the vacancy. Mr. Remick, who is a member of the firm of R. L. Day & Co., has been a member of the Exchange since 1906.

MELLEN SAYS ROAD MAINTAINS NO LOBBY

$450,000 LOST BY RAILWAY

Sale of Massachusetts Trolley Lines as Ordered by the Courts Made at a Sacrifice.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 27.—"Not one dollar of the charge for legal expenses in the annual report was expended for lobby, for use of the so-called third house, or as payments to politicians," was the declaration of President Charles S. Mellen at the annual meeting of the stockholders of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company today.

Mr. Mellen made this statement in reply to a question of A. Marcy Hiller of this city, a stockholder, as to the reports current in Hartford that the road had maintained a lobby at the last session of the General Assembly. Mr. Hiller had pointed out an item of $205,000 "law expenses."

"Not one dollar ever will be expended for lobbying so long as I am President of this road," Mr. Mellen continued. "There is nothing mysterious about that charge. It was for the legal expenses legitimately required by this company. I can add that not a dollar even has been expended by a subordinate company for work of the third house or for payments to politicians."

The meeting was the largest in some years, virtually all the Board of Directors being present, including J. Pierpont Morgan.

The present Board of Directors was re-elected by unanimous stock vote, and the new Director added to the board is John L. Billard of Meriden, who takes the place of the late F. W. Cheney.

The reports were accepted and also an amendment to the by-laws making the annual meeting the fourth Wednesday in October. Somewhat of a stir was created when Mr. Hiller put several questions to Mr. Mellen concerning the action of the Board of Directors on several points in the annual report. In addition to inquiring about lobbying, Mr. Hiller pointed out in the profit and loss account an item of loss of about $450,000. This Mr. Mellen explained was due to the sale of two trolley roads in Massachusetts, which was compelled in that State by a decision of the Supreme Court. The roads were disposed of at the best figure obtainable and the loss was charged off.

At a special meeting later it was voted to issue $50,000,000 of new stock, bringing the total capitalization to $171,000,000. The resolution was offered by Mr. Morgan.

SEABOARD DIRECTORS MEET.

New Officers to Have Charge on Nov. 4 Not Yet Elected.

After a long meeting of the Directors of the Seaboard Air Line in this city yesterday it was said that only routine business had been considered. John Skelton Williams, former President and since the receivership again prominent in the counsels of the company, is expected in some quarters to be again President of the system. So far, the new officers of the company, to whom the property will be turned over on Nov. 4 on conclusion of the receivership, have not been elected.

FINANCIAL MARKETS

Stocks Close Strong — Call Money Rates, 4@4½ Per Cent.

ASPECTS OF STEEL REPORT

Explanation That Unfilled Tonnage Eliminated Speculative Orders—Money and Cotton Market Factors.

An upward movement which gained in strength as the day advanced carried most of the active stocks 1 to 2 points above Tuesday's final quotations. Increased activity accompanied the final rise in prices, and the total for the day, notwithstanding the relative quiet which the market showed during the early hours of the session was slightly in excess of the previous day's transactions. United States Steel contributed its recent large quota to the aggregate sales, and it was largely about the movements of this issue that the interest of traders centred yesterday, owing to the importance which they attached to the interpretation which the stock market would put upon the quarterly showing published after the close of the market on Tuesday. Excellent as was that showing, there was a disposition in some quarters to look upon it as not fully bearing out previous expectations, but that this view was not influential in shaping the course of the stock yesterday was indicated by the fact that it closed with a net gain of 1¼ points. In other parts of the list such gains were recorded as 2⅛ points in Union Pacific, 1¼ in Southern Pacific and Reading, 1⅛ in Pennsylvania, 1½ in Atchison, while the Interborough Metropolitan issues, which developed considerable activity, showed an advance of 2⅛ points in the common stock and 1⅝ in the preferred. Attention was drawn yesterday to the fact that the United States Steel Corporation has been rejecting orders described as speculative orders the acceptance of which would have served materially to increase the volume of unfilled business shown by the corporation at the close of the quarter. This is a fact which bears interestingly upon any comparison of present unfilled tonnage with that reported during the last period of activity in the steel trade.

Apart from the consideration given yesterday to the various phases of the Steel Corporation's showing the day's factors bearing upon the stock market had to do chiefly with monetary matters if exception be made of the continued activity in advancing prices in the cotton market which were, however, without influence upon yesterday's Stock Exchange movements. Here, despite further takings of gold for export to South America, amounting to $750,000, the time money market showed an easier tone for some maturities, but abroad discounts were higher both in London and Berlin, and the securities markets at both these centres and in Paris closed lower for the day. The advance in the London discount rate left it one-half per cent. under the Bank of England's rate, in which there is no reason to expect any change to-day. The month-end settlement, which begins in London to-day, will have interest as bearing on the position of open accounts in American stocks in the London market.

PHILADELPHIA PRICES.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 27.—A larger speculative demand for Philadelphia Rapid Transit shares, which lifted the price development above 26, for a gain of nearly a point, was the most noticeable development in the local stock market to-day. The market was very dull outside of the trading in United States Steel, about 15,000 shares of which changed hands. The recovery in Rapid Transit braced Union Traction, United Gas Improvement, and Philadelphia Electric a little also. Quiet buying of Lehigh Valley stock was resumed on moderate scale and the price advanced across 98 for a large fractional gain.

CHICAGO STOCK MARKET.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—Sears-Roebuck continued its climb again toward its former high level, and sold at 142 before midday, compared with 137½ last night. Subway was weak and dull, and Pneumatic Tool shares advanced to 35⅝, a gain of 1⅝ points for the day. Illinois Brick was a feature of the late trading, and on a stiff demand advanced from 60½ to 64¼, closing at the top.

THE COTTON MARKET.

Boom Sustained by Low Crop Estimates Closes 3 to 20 Points Up.

Cotton was again strong and excited yesterday upon sensationally low estimates of the crop and reports of increasing strength on the part of interior holders. Slight late reactions occurred, but the close was very steady at a net advance of 3@20 points. It is noted that four of the six estimates so far issued by prominent authorities, make the crop less than 11,000,000 bales.

The market had an irregular opening, first prices being 6 points lower to 5 points higher, some months being influenced by disappointing cables and other by overnight buying orders. The early trade was unsettled, with heavy selling by arbitrage houses against purchases in Liverpool.

Contract prices were as follows:

Spot cotton was quiet, 10 points higher, at 14.65, for middling upland, and 14.90c. for middling Gulf. Sales, 70 bales; delivered on contract, 2,500 barrels. Southern spot markets were telegraphed as follows: Savannah firm, 3-16c higher, at 13⅞c; sales, 7,590 bales. Norfolk steady, ¼c higher, at 14¼c; sales, 620 bales. Augusta, steady, ⅝c higher, at 14⅝c; sales, 899 bales. St. Louis firm, ⅛c higher, at 14¼c; sales, 543 bales. Mobile firm, ⅛c higher, at 14c; sales, 1,500 bales. Galveston steady, 3-16c higher, at 14¼c; sales, 4,850 bales. Memphis firm, ⅛c higher, at 14¼c; sales, 2,000 bales. Houston steady, 1-16c higher, at 14⅛c; sales, 500 bales.

Recovery on Stock Exchange Reflected in Strength Among Many Issues on Curb.

SOME COPPERS HIGHER

Nevada Consolidated Up ¼ and Other Issues in This Department Show Gains at Close—Nipissing Sells Off.

The recovery on the Stock Exchange had its effect on the Curb yesterday in a stronger tendency, though price movements were narrow. In the mining list there were a number of fractional losses, though the general movement was upward. The activity in La Rose Consolidated, which was marked at the opening of the week on the downward scale, petered out yesterday, and transactions of only 8,500 shares were reported, the close at 6, being 1-16 above the opening. Nipissing, however, was weak, selling down from 11⅛ to 10¾. The close after transactions of 6,000 shares was at 10⅞. Among the coppers strength was shown in Greene-Cananea, Miami, Ray Central, Ray Consolidated, and Nevada Consolidated, the last named rising from 23⅞ to 24⅛. Sears, Roebuck rose from 138¼ to 143.

⁂

METAL MARKET REPORTS.

On the Metal Exchange yesterday trading continued extremely dull. Although there was a somewhat firmer tone in copper, no business was transacted. Tin was easier, in sympathy with London, easing off nearly ¼ for spot. Spelter continued strong, at an improvement of 10 points in the bid price, while the asking price was reduced 5 points. Lead was unchanged.

On the Metal Exchange in London yesterday copper, for both spot and future deliveries, remained unchanged from the initial prices yesterday, but suffered a decline of 6s 3d from the final figures of Tuesday for both commodities. The market finished steady, closing quotations ruling at: Spot, £56 10s; futures, £57 12s 6d. Pig tin ended easy, with spot deliveries unchanged, at £138 5s and future deliveries off 10s, to £140 2s 6d. Spanish pig lead was steady and unchanged at £13 2s 6d. Spelter was quiet and down 2s 6d, to £23 2s 6d. Cleveland warrants were quoted at 51s.

The closing bid and asked prices for copper and other metals for spot deliveries on the New York Metal Exchange yesterday compare as follows with those of Tuesday:

TOPICS IN WALL STREET.

Discontent Over the Steel Report.

Nothing puzzles the outsider so sorely as the wisdom of Wall Street in big things, and its apparent stupidity in little things. The case in point is the professed disappointment among professional speculators and the bystanders in commission houses over the Steel Corporation's earnings, and its tonnage of unfilled orders, as disclosed in Tuesday's report. Without the least sanction of authority, and apparently by dint of repetition only, estimates of $40,000,000 for earnings and $6,000,000 for the tonnage of unfilled orders had been accepted by the Street as the showing for the September quarter. Earnings proved to be one and one-quarter millions less than this arbitrary estimate, while tonnage is under the equally arbitrary forecasts of unfilled orders. United States Steel sells down a point or so on the morning following the publication of the real figures and the disappointed say at once that it is only too clear that the liquidation from above 94 to 85½ came from sources informed on this "disappointing" showing. If the Steel Corporation undertook to deny or to correct the myriad preliminary estimates of its earnings, which appear through the fortnight preceding each quarterly report, it would have to abandon steel-making entirely for that period.

Keeping the Market Quiet.

There is obviously an unusual degree of harmony among the larger interests who are often concerned with stock market movements. Everybody seems to be doing his best to keep the market quiet, and so successful is the effort that before long we may look for a word of condescending approval from London, which informed us yesterday through the medium of the cables that what was best for us was absolute rest until the Christmas holidays. It does not appear to be a difficult matter to keep the market in hand. Traders have been fairly successful in selling on the bulges for ten days or so, and this encourages the short interest, which can be made to cover and thus steady prices at any time desired. The market in this shape is about as near mechanical as it is possible for it to be. The only thing which can raise it out of its groove is an entirely unexpected happening.

***

Rock Island's Set Income.

The Rock Island Company has $150,000,000 of capital stock authorized and more than $128,000,000 outstanding. It is somewhat surprising to find a corporation of this magnitude submitting an annual report showing as a result of the year's operations not a single change either in the way of loss, decrease, or increase in its income account exceeding $12,000. The actual difference in the final surplus amounted to a gain of $501. The explanation, of course, is that while the company controls roads which earned gross nearly $112,000,000 last year, its own income is in the form of dividends and its controlling stock in these subsidiary properties.

Heavy Borrowing on Time.

The bankers explain the recent continued strength in time money in the face of easier conditions in the call money market by the unusually heavy borrowing on time which brokers are doing. Apparently commission houses have come to the conclusion that an average of 5 per cent. on call money is the best that can be looked for, and that the easiest way to insure nothing higher is to pay exactly that amount for loans carrying over the end of the year. This automatically eases the call money position, while it strengthens certain time maturities. Incidentally, it may be said that commission houses are carrying much smaller lines of stock for customers than they were a month ago. A big house which obtains a great deal of its money from London, in going over its stocks yesterday found that it had reduced the load it was carrying by more than 40 per cent.

Prospect of Treasury Certificates.

Figures of the receipts and expenditures of the Government just at this time are under close observation in the financial district, owing to the uncertainty which exists regarding the necessity for an issue of Treasury certificates. Nobody wants to see the certificates come out if this can be avoided. So far the Treasury has run considerably behind the actual deficit, exceeding $7,000,000. As a result the working balance of the department has been reduced some $10,000,000, standing at $35,000,000. A comfortable balance is about $50,000,000, and this fact, together with the continued gain of expenditures over receipts, keeps the prospect of a resort to an issue of certificates open.

BOSTON STOCK MARKET.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, Oct. 27.—Copper shares in general were very quiet to-day, and traders were not inclined to do much, preferring to await developments. Parrot, Royale, Lake, North Lake, United States Smelting, and Greene-Cananea were the features, showing the greatest amount of activity. North Butte, Lake, and Isle Royale each gained a point, while Greene-Cananea became active and strong just before the closing. The market closed quiet, but strong.

FINANCIAL NOTES.

Thirteen shares of Bank of Commerce sold on the Stock Exchange yesterday at 190.

J. Arthur Smith of Liverpool has applied for membership in the Cotton Exchange.

James Shannon, formerly with F. W. Perry & Co., has become manager of the bond and inactive securities department of O. J. Brand & Co., 74 Broadway.

THE EUROPEAN MARKETS.

Trading in London Quiet Pending To-day's Settlement.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—Money was scarce and dear on the market to-day, and discounts were firmer in sympathy. The Bank of England appears to be making its bank rate effective and caused Continental checks to move favorably.

Trading on the Stock Exchange continues quiet pending the outcome of the settlement to-morrow. Home rails and gilt-edged securities received moderate support, while foreign bonds and Kaffirs hardened a fraction. But support slackened later and caused an easy close. Grand Trunk was weak.

American securities opened irregular, but soon strengthened on small buying orders attracted by the lower level of yesterday's New York closing. United States Steel was easy on the quarterly statement of the company. New York offered stock in the afternoon, and, although some recovery occurred in the late trading, the market closed uncertain.

Bar silver steady at 25 3-16d per ounce.

Money, 4@4½ per cent. Rate of discount in the open market, for short bills, 4¾@4⅞ per cent.; for three months' bills, 4⅝ per cent.

PARIS, Oct. 27.—Prices on the Bourse to-day opened firm, but closed heavy.

Three per cent. rentes, 98f 77½c for the account.

Exchange on London, 25f 22c for checks

BERLIN, Oct. 27.—The tendency of prices on the Boerse to-day was lower.

FOREIGN TRADE OPPORTUNITIES.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—The Daily Consular and Trade Reports notes the following trade opportunities. Further information regarding these may be obtained by addressing the Bureau of Manufactures, care of Department of Commerce and Labor, Washington, D. C., giving the number of the item referred to.

4,033.—PANAMA CANAL SUPPLIES—Sealed proposals in triplicate will be received at the office of the general purchasing officer of the Isthmian Canal Commission, Washington, D. C., for furnishing the following supplies: (1) Tenders will be received until Nov. 8 next for steel castings, body bolsters, spur wheels, steel angles, sheet steel, bar iron, sheet iron, pipe fittings, bolts, lubricators, furnaces, oar locks, bellows, copper tubing, copper wire, gongs, insulators, saw handles, soup bowls, stocks and dies, gages, tube expanders, packing, plumbago blacking, cotton drillings, ship felt, crank case oil, lumber, &c. (2) Bids are invited until Nov. 15 for supplying lumber wagon parts, tire steel, mule shoes, horseshoe nails, harness buckles, mule collars, traces, hamestraps, saddle covers, and blankets, black enameled duck, thread, &c. (Circular No. 540.)

4,034.—PUBLIC WORKS OF VARIOUS KINDS.—A Russian city has applied for power to arrange for a loan to be used in constructing municipal works. This includes $1,250,000 for a sewerage system, $750,000 for the enlargement of the drinking water system, and the construction of a new reservoir; $500,000 for the establishment of a new street car line, and $250,000 for the erection of an electric station for lighting and power purposes. An American Consular officer states that he is in communication with the Mayor of the city in regard to these works, and any information relating to the same will be cheerfully imparted to Americans who are interested.

4,035.—MACHINES FOR WRAPPING AND SECURING PACKAGES—An American business man writes that he is in the market for all kinds of machines designed to replace human labor in packing, wrapping, weighing, and sealing with a string or label boxes and bags. He is anxious to secure the names of manufacturers of such articles, more particularly those used for packing biscuits, candy, coffee, tea, cereals, pharmaceutical and druggists' goods, such as pills, tablets, &c.

4,036.—POWER PLANT AND MACHINERY—An American Consul in Mexico reports that work will shortly be commenced on a dam to be constructed in that country. It is expected the work will be finished within two years, and upon its completion hydroelectric power machinery will be installed for the transmission of light and power to neighboring cities.

4,037. WOOL—Consul E. S. Cunningham of Durban, Natal, South Africa, reports that inquiries have been received from local firms for the names of American importers of wool, with a view to forming connections for the purchase of wool at that port. The Consul states that any wool buyers, who desire to forward their names to his office, will have them filed, so that it will be for the information of any local buyers seeking a connection in the United States.

4,038. PAPER MILK BOTTLES—A report has been received from an American Consul in Scotland, in which he states that a local business man desires to purchase paper bottles to be used in the milk trade. The party advises the Consul that he is in haste in the matter, and would like to be placed in immediate touch with manufacturers of these goods.

4,039.—LUMBER FOR AUSTRALIA—An Australian business man, who at present is doing an extensive business in Oregon redwood, yellow pine, and door stock, which trade he thinks can be considerably increased, advises an American Consul that he would like to enter into direct communication with timber mills or shippers desirous of extending their timber and lumber trade in Australia. He is prepared to deal on his own account or as agent, and offers should be made accordingly.

4,040.—AGRICULTURAL MACHINERY—A business man, in Turkey, advises an American Consul that he is desirous of securing the representation of American manufacturers of agricultural machinery. The Consul states he is in a position to further their sales greatly, as he has agents throughout the surrounding country.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

WHEAT.—Early operations showed moderate gains yesterday on firm cables from both the United Kingdom and the Continent by reports that locusts are still doing damage in Argentine and predictions that Russian shipments are likely to fall off soon. A general softening in the cash markets and reports that mills were less active buyers and that the demand for flour had slackened perceptibly were factors in an afternoon decline. At the principal interior markets receipts were 1,650,000, against 923,000 a year ago. Exporters took about 20 loads of durum and Manitoba wheat at outports. Cash wheat in New York closed steady with No. 2 red $1.25 nominal in elevator and $1.21¼ asked free on board afloat to arrive; No. 1 Northern Duluth, $1.15¼, and No. 2 hard Winter, $1.21½, free on board afloat, both nominal.

CORN.—Steadiness was shown at the opening yesterday in sympathy with firmness in wheat and an advance of ½d in Liverpool. Receipts were moderate in the West. Later values gave way almost a cent a bushel under Western selling. Reports of reduced freight rates to Gulf ports attracted attention on the theory that this would attract corn from the leading speculative centres. At leading interior markets receipts of 437,000 bushels, compared with 193,000 last year. Cash corn in New York was easy, No. 2, 69c elevator; 69¼c delivered, and 69½c, free on board afloat, all nominal. No. 2 yellow, 70¼c, nominal.

CUSTOMERS LOSE HEAVILY.

W. B. Smith & Co., Consolidated Exchange Bankrupts, Have Big Liabilities

The failed Consolidated Exchange house of W. B. Smith & Co., which went into bankruptcy on June 16, filed schedules yesterday showing liabilities of $641,700, of which $16,405 are secured, $360,461 unsecured, and $263,976 disputed, besides charges of $868 for wages. Nominal assets are $159,486, of which $4,000 is represented in two seats on the Consolidated Exchange and one on the Chicago Board of Trade. The principal assets include cash in banks totaling $9,486 and surplus in stock loans of $19,014. Accounts due aggregate $117,845.

There are 800 creditors, the chief of whom are out-of-town customers. The disputed accounts arose out of the business done in the firm's branch office at Allentown, Penn., conducted by a former partner, John G. Stuart, who filed a petition in bankruptcy himself yesterday, with liabilities of $264,431, and assets of $20 cash. All but $851 of his liabilities were incurred at Allentown as the resident partner of the firm, and it is these claims which are disputed by the brokers. Among these claims are the estate of Abraham S. Grim, $98,687; Dr. Charles H. Martin, $41,027; C. M. W. Keck, $7,600; Bella D. Grim, $8,559; Dr. H. D. Kurtz, $5,297, all of Allentown, Penn.; James J. & Charles S. Gessinger, Centre Valley, Penn., $27,316; Mary T. Haight, $17,000; Harry E. Desh, Coopersburg, Penn., $78,381, and J. M. Winters, Reading, Penn., $4,311.

PRESSED STEEL QUITS CANADA

Company Sells Its Montreal Plant to Canadian Interests Forming a Merger.

Announcement was made yesterday that the Pressed Steel Car Company has withdrawn from the Canadian field by the sale of its plant at Montreal operated by the Canada Car Company, Ltd. This concern, which the Pressed Steel Car Company controlled through stock ownership, had a capacity of 6,000 freight cars and 150 steel passenger cars a year, and in the last annual report of the holding company attention was called to the fact that while the American plants were practically at a standstill for the greater part of the time the Montreal plant had been in operation during the entire year, helped out by the orders of Government supervised Canadian roads. It is capitalized at $3,000,000, of which $1,000,000 is 7 per cent. cumulative preferred stock.

The purchase price, it was said at the offices of the Pressed Steel Car Company yesterday, was $1,700,000 in cash, no interest being retained in the company or in the merger of Canadian car manufacturing companies which effected the purchase. The common stock of the Canadian company was carried by the Pressed Steel Car Company without valuation. Dividends on the preferred were begun in December last year, when a full 7 per cent. was paid. The plant was put in operation in the Fall of 1905.

The purchasers are about to incorporate the Canadian Car and Foundry Company, which will have a capitalization of $5,000,000 7 per cent. preferred stock and $3,000,000 common stock and $3,500,000 6 per cent. bonds. It will be a consolidation of the Canada Car Company, Ltd.; the Dominion Car and Foundry Company, and the Rhodes-Curry Company. The Dominion Car and Foundry Company has a capitalization of $3,510,000 common stock, and the Rhodes-Curry Company $1,850,000 preferred and $1,000,000 common stock. The stockholders of the two last named companies are to receive securities in the new company in exchange for their stock. The officers of the new company will be former officers of the Rhodes-Curry Company and of the Dominion Car and Foundry Company, and the Directors will include a number of prominent Canadian bankers and manufacturing interests.

At a meeting of the Directors of the Amalgamated Copper Company a dividend of ONE-HALF OF ONE PER CENT. (½ of 1%) was declared payable November 29th, 1909, to stockholders of record on the books of the Company as of three o'clock P. M. October 28th, 1909. A. H. MELIN, Secretary & Treasurer.

CONSOLIDATED EXCHANGE.

Wednesday.

A very large proportion of trading attention on the Consolidated Stock Exchange naturally concentrated upon United States Steel common, with that stock accounting for nearly one-half of the total business in all issues. A heavy short interest in steel had been carried over from the night before, and active covering took place in the early dealings. The low price for the stock was 86¼, compared with 86⅛ on the New York Stock Exchange, and throughout the forenoon it ruled about an eighth of a point above the other board. The highest level reached, however, was 88⅝, compared with a top price of 88¾ on the other Exchange.

IN THE REAL ESTATE FIELD

Furniss Estate Sells Riverside Drive Block—Resale of Fifth Avenue Property—New Building Operations on the Heights.

The Furniss property at Riverside Drive, Ninety-ninth and 100th Streets toward the easterly end of which stands the old Furniss mansion, has been sold by Sophia R. C. Furniss, Margaret E. Zimmerman and Clementina Furniss to Benjamin Mordecal, G. Richard Davis, Emanuel Heilner and Moses J. Wolf. The property has been held at $1,000,000. The Cruikshank Company negotiated the deal.

This plot, which is one of the largest vacant parcels on the west side, consists of about twenty-three lots, with frontages of 207 feet on the drive, 262.1 feet on Ninety-ninth Street, and 300 feet on 100th Street. The buyers will subdivide the property into plots suitable for apartment house improvement and resell it to builders. On the West End Avenue front of this block the A. C. & H. M. Hall Realty Company is building two twelve-story apartment houses. This property, too, was formerly owned by the Furnisses. After the Halls had bought it some of the owners of private dwellings on the north side of 100th Street sought to enforce a verbal restriction, said to have been placed on the Ninety-ninth to 100th Street block by the Misses Furniss. These owners said that they had been led to believe, and they showed letters in support of their claim, that the homestead block, as it was called, would be restricted to private dwellings and that they bought the houses on the opposite side of the street with this understanding. The courts, however, failed to uphold their contention, not only making it possible for the Hall project to be carried forward, but also opening the way for the sale of the rest of the block for apartment house improvement.

The Furnisses originally owned the greater part of the region from Ninety-ninth to 104th Street, and from Broadway over to the river. The house, a three-story structure of Colonial design, was put up in the early part of the last century by William P. Furniss. This was long before the Hudson River Railroad had been thought of, and the lawns of the place sloped down to the water's edge. The entrance was through a gateway from the Bloomingdale Road, at what is now 104th Street. Hither the Furnisses moved every Spring from their "town house" in the lower part of the city. As the years passed, marriages and deaths thinned the home circle, and for years the remaining members of the family did not occupy the house. Later it was taken by the Russell Clarks, who made it their home for more than twenty years, up to the early nineties.

Fifth Avenue Building Resold.

The McVickar-Gaillard Realty Company has resold 537 Fifth Avenue, a five-story business building on lot 30 by 100, which was purchased last Summer by a client of that concern from the heirs of Theodore A. Havemeyer. The buyers in the present deal are Charles Hoffman and Edward S. Rothchild of the wholesale clothing firm of Hoffman, Rothchild & Co. of New York and San Francisco. Mr. Rothchild owns several million dollars' worth of property in San Francisco, but, so far as is known, this is his first real estate investment in this city. Mr. Hoffman, however, is already a large owner here. The Fifth Avenue parcel adjoins the Hotel Lorraine, at the southeast corner of Forty-fifth Street, and is just north of Delmonico's.

Builder Buys 163d Street Plot.

George Backer has sold to B. House the plot, 110 by 100, on the north side of 163d Street, 100 feet east of Broadway. The new owner will erect a six-story apartment house on the site.

Edward D. Haggerty is reported to have sold the plot, 50 by 99.11, on the north side of 138th Street, 132.6 feet east of Riverside Drive, to a builder for improvement.

Plans have been filed for a six-story apartment house to be erected from plans by Young & Gronenberg, at a cost of $175,000, on 139th Street, west of Broadway, by the 139th Street Realty Company, of which Joseph Freedman is President.

Jacob Hirsh has made a building loan of $110,000 to the Helene Realty and Construction Company on the property, 125 by 92.8, at the northwest corner of Pinehurst Avenue and 177th Street.

Emilie Schulz is the buyer of 506 West 143d Street, recently sold through Daniel Renton & Son.

More Apartments for 79th Street.

A. & C. Levis have sold for various owners 152 to 158 West Seventy-ninth Street, four three-story houses, on plot 67 by 102.2, between Columbus and Amsterdam Avenues. The buyer is Edgar A. Levy, who has been identified with several large enterprises on the upper west side, and who intends to erect a twelve-story apartment house on the site.

The same brokers recently sold the four dwellings on the opposite side of the street, at 147 to 153, to the firm of Weschler & Noel. This site, which measures 63 by 102.2, will be similiarly improved. These two operations mark the first invasion by apartment house builders of this block, which, with the exception of small areas around the Columbus and Amsterdam Avenue corners, is occupied by private residences.

Annie Gold has sold 308 West 102d Street, a three-story-and-basement dwelling, on lot 19 by 100.11, between West End Avenue and Riverside Drive.

Seventh Avenue Corner Leased.

The Amory estate of Boston has leased the southeast corner of Seventh Avenue and Fiftieth Street, a plot 100 by 100, now occupied by four fourstory buildings and two small dwellings, to J. Arthur Fischer and S. May. The lease is for twenty-one years at an annual rental of $12,000 for ten years and $15,000 for the remainder of the term.

Upper Seventh Avenue Purchases.

Max Gomprecht has sold for John Boniot to a client 2,361 Seventh Avenue, northeast corner of 138th Street, a five-story triple flat, on plot 25 by 100.

J. L. Patten & Van Sant have sold to Dr. Albert F. Brugman, Milton Court, at the southwest corner of Seventh Avenue and 148th Street, a five-story structure, on plot 60 by 100. N. A. Berwin & Co. were the brokers.

A. W. Miller & Co., have sold for the estate of Herman Oeters, the southwest corner of 141st Street and Edgecombe Avenue, a five-story triple flat, with stores, on lot 25 by 100.

Dwelling Sold on East 80th Street.

John J. Kavanagh has sold for Andrew Brice, 169 East 80th Street, a three-story dwelling, on lot 16.8 by 100, to a client for occupancy.

The Harlem Property Owners' Association will meet this evening in the Twelfth Ward Bank Building, 147 East 125th Street. The annual theatre party of the association is scheduled for the evening of Thursday, Nov. 18.

Deal on West Thirteenth Street.

Gibbons & Young have sold to C. A. Wingert for the McDougall estate, 337 West Thirteenth Street, a four-story dwelling, on lot 18.9 by 80. The property adjoins the Newton Building at the northeast corner of Hudson Street and abuts in the rear of St. Bernard's Catholic Church. The same brokers recently sold to the D. A. Cushman Realty Corporation the two dwellings adjoining, 333 and 335.

The Duross Company has leased to Charles Meyer, the dwelling 242 West Twenty-second Street, for four and a half years; also, the dwelling 148 West Thirteenth Street, to Philip Hess, for three years.

Justice Bischoff has appointed Jacob Katz receiver of the rents of the tenements 326 and 328 East 126th Street, pending a suit brought by the Metropolitan Trust Company of the City of New York against Rosalia Meli and others to foreclose a mortgage of $34,000.

Albert Sanders has been appointed receiver of the rents of the tenement 215 East 125th Street, in a suit brought by Henry H. Jackson against Tony Wolf and others to foreclose a mortgage of $9,500.

Leases Near Columbus Circle.

The Gross & Gross Company has leased for Maxwell-Briscoe to Frank D. Homan the building 315 and 317 West Fifty-ninth Street; also, for John G. Wendel to Edward C. Griffith the building 1,625 Broadway; also, for W. L. Nichols, the rear half of the fourth floor in the building 250 West Forty-ninth Street to the Jackson Motor Company.

McKee, Hayward & Co. have leased for William N. Cohen the store at 2,629 Broadway, to Anthony Mott for a term of years. This completes the renting of the two-story "taxpayer" recently erected by Mr. Cohen.

Ogden & Clarkson lease for Andrew C. Zabriskie the building 12 East Thirtieth Street, which will be converted into a store, with bachelor apartments on the upper floors.

The same brokers have also leased for E. M. Knox to the Duntley Manufacturing Company the store and basement at 204 Fifth Avenue, extending through to 1,124 Broadway.

Pocher & Co. have leased the dwelling 211 East Thirty-fourth Street for L. N. Levy to George Ferd; also, the second floor in 1,416 Broadway for Harris & Vaughn to M. Kilpatrick.

Another Model Tenement Planned.

Plans have been filed for a six-story model tenement to be built from plans by Ernest Flagg for the Model Fireproof Tenement Company, (Shepard K. De Forest, President,) at 601 and 603 West Forty-seventh Street. The building will have a frontage of 92.10 feet, and will cost $120,000.

Investor Buys Bronx Apartments.

Edward N. Crosby & Co. have sold for the R. & W. Realty Company (Joseph Reiss, President,) the three apartment houses at the northeast corner of Union Avenue and East 167th Street, known as 1,126 to 1,130 Union Avenue and 815 East 167th Street, on plot 125 by 100. The buyer is an investor.

Shaw & Co. have sold for James M. Scofield to a builder the plot, 50 by 100, on the east side of Vyse Avenue, 75 feet north of 173d Street.

Ernst & Cahn have sold, in conjunction with Marvin D. Stokem, for Wendel Weindors 3,888 Third Avenue, a four-story flat, with stores, on plot 27 by 125. The same brokers have also sold the plot, 100 by 106, at the southeast corner of Magenta Street and Rosewood Avenue.

Max Cohen & Son have bought a plot, 75 by 97, on the north side of 147th Street, between Robbins and Wales Avenues, for improvement.

The Freedman Construction Company has secured a building loan of $135,000 from the Lawyers Title Insurance and Trust Company on the property on the southeast corner of West Farms Road, 147.8 feet northeast of Hoe Street, 100 by 96.9 and irregular.

Richard R. Maslen has sold to a builder, through Paul Boltmann, the southeast corner of Fourth Avenue and 233d Street, a plot 57 by 100.

Verdict in Suit for Commission.

In a suit tried yesterday before Justice Donnelly, in the City Court, that of Harris M. Fischer against Francis Conlon to recover $350 commissions in securing purchasers for the property 507 West Twenty-seventh Street, the defendant claimed that he could not have sold the property, because his brother who had a half interest therein refused to consent to sell. The court, at the request of Jacob Friedman, attorney for the plaintiff, charged the jury that if the defendant employed the broker to procure a purchaser at $35,000 and the broker did procure parties who were ready, willing, and able to pay that price for the property and upon the terms demanded by the defendant, that it was immaterial whether the defendant's brother had any interest in the property or not, and that plaintiff was entitled to a commission. The jury rendered a verdict for the plaintiff for $350 and interest.

Fennell, and J. H. Hankin.

New Residence at Irvington.

Frank B. Gilbreth has just secured the contract for the construction of the new residence for Frederick C. Sayles at Irvington, N. Y. The building will be 45 by 90 feet, three stories in height. The work is to be started at once. The architects are Rowe & Keyes of Boston.

Builder Buys at Ozone Park, L. I.

Koppel Friedland has sold twenty lots at Woodhaven and Chester Avenues, Ozone Park, Borough of Queens. The purchasers will start the erection of buildings immediately after taking title.

Bronx Lots at Auction.

Bryan L. Kennelly conducted yesterday, in the Vesey Street Salesroom, two successful offerings of lots in the Wakefield section of the Bronx, involving, respectively, sixty-one and thirty-two lots.

The first sale covered property within the acre bounded by Kingsbridge Road, 233d Street, and Digney Avenue. At the southeast corner of Kingsbridge Road and 233d Street, a plot of about four lots, with a two-story dwelling, was bought by Mrs. J. Lauer for $8,750, and an adjoining plot of three lots, with a stable, was sold to J. Egan on a bid of $2,625. The northeast corner of 233d Street and Bronxwood Avenue brought out a bid of $1,150. The same price was paid for the northwest corner of Digney Avenue and 233d Street, and for inside lots on 233d Street prices ranged from $825 to $925. At Kingsbridge Road and Bronxwood Road an irregular plot of about a lot and a half was sold for $1,875. Other lots on Kingsbridge Road brought about $900 each.

In the other sale, that involving thirty-one lots, a plot of three lots at the southwest corner of 233d Street and Doon Avenue was struck down for $2,100. The opposite corner, the southeast, went for $1,050, and adjoining lots on 233d Street for $650 each. At the rear, along Doon and Jones Avenues, prices ranged from $370 to $485 a lot.

Mountland

(Elevation 600 feet.)

The New Suburban Town

In the RAMAPO MOUNTAINS, between Suffern and Tuxedo (to be established on a Co-operative basis).

THE success of this novel enterprise is already assured. The announcement in last Saturday's and Sunday's newspapers of the purpose of a number of prominent New York business men to build a model suburban town on a strictly co-operative basis has aroused such widespread interest that the commencement of operations for the development of the Ideal Mountain town will be begun at once.

The following is the financial plan of the Colony Association:

Every member of the Association will get one and a quarter acres of land on Seidler Hill near the new railroad station for $1,000, and with it one thousand dollars' worth of stock in the Mountland Colony Company. This company will own two thousand acres of land, the electric light plant, the water and sewerage system, the store buildings, and every other public utility of the town.

The rock with which to build a home will be given free to every member.

A title guarantee policy will be furnished with every plot of ground.

It is the purpose and aim of the promoters of the colony to get together a congenial and sociable class of people, who will appreciate high-class surroundings amid ideal conditions. Persons of substantial business and good social standing are invited to become members of the association.

Maps of the property, a prospectus and more detailed information may be had by mail or upon personal application to

OUR APARTMENTS ARE ALWAYS IN DEMAND.

Last Spring we had several hundred suites of

6 and 7 Rooms at $30 to $42,

but people came from every section—from Manhattan, Brooklyn, the Bronx, New Jersey—and now we have comparatively few left. But those remaining are just the same as those which have rented so fast and proved so popular this Fall; electric lights, hardwood floors. Hill clothes dryers, wall safes, large closet space, modern refrigerators, steam heat, hot water, and above all, larger rooms than you are accustomed to. We really cannot tell you in type of all the superior points of these houses. But we are sure that should you once look into them you would be our tenant.

Suppose you just jump on a Lenox Avenue express Subway train and ride to Simpson Street Station in the Bronx. There you will find our 'bus, which in two minutes will have you at the prettiest apartment houses you have seen. As you approach the houses notice our PRIVATE PARKS for the exclusive use of tenants and their friends, with their tennis and croquet courts, swings, seesaws, sand piles, &c., where grown folk can have healthful recreation and children be free from street dangers.

OUR PRIVATE 'BUS SERVICE takes tenants to and from the Subway station from 7 A. M. to 1 A. M. and takes the children to the district schools.

LATEST CUSTOMS RULINGS.

Women's Robes and Jackets Are Found to be Heavily Undervalued.

In a decision by W. B. Howell, the Board of United States General Appraisers yesterday held that expensive lines of women's wearing apparel from Alfred Meyer of Paris are greatly undervalued. The articles composing the importations consist, for the most part, of satin and velvet robes and jackets of elaborate designs.

Collector Loeb took the position that the articles were greatly undervalued, and acting on a report from the Appraiser of the Port, demanded duty on a much higher basis than the invoiced prices called for. General Appraiser Howell, to whom the importer appealed for a review of the Collector's action, fails to agree that the articles were entered at their proper value, and as a result, affirms in the main, the Collector's advances.

Some of the advances made by Collector Loeb are as follows: Silk robes and jackets, entered at 800, advanced to 1,050 francs each; velvet robes entered at 550, advanced to 850 francs each; robes, entered at 600, advanced to 900 francs each; traveling wraps entered at 400, advanced to 600 francs each; wraps entered at 600, advanced to 800 francs apiece; blue and black lace liberty robes, entered at 600, advanced to 900 francs each. Other robes invoiced at 700 are advanced to 1,000 francs apiece. The representative of the foreign maker will appeal to a sub-board of three general appraisers to review Mr. Howell's decision.

BUSINESS TROUBLES.

DAVIS CANTOR.—Davis Cantor, a tailor, 118 Eldridge Street, has filed a petition in bankruptcy, with liabilities of $4,415 and no assets.

KAMELMAN & CO.—Harry Kamelman, Barnet Laskowitz, Julius Duchin, and Ike Levy, who compose the firm of Kamelman & Co., manufacturers of store and office fixtures, of 233 Grand Street, have made an assignment to Joseph Hahn.

FRAZIN & OPPENHEIM.—William H. Willis, referee in bankruptcy, has made a report recommending an allowance of $15,000 each to Payson Merrill and Joseph H. Wichert for services as receivers of Frazin & Oppenheim, shoe dealers of Sixth Avenue, in bankruptcy proceedings.

BRANDT ROOFING AND SHEET METAL COMPANY.—Frederick and William H. Brandt, who did business as the Brandt Roofing and Sheet Metal Company at 258 East 135th Street, the Bronx, have filed a petition in bankruptcy, with liabilities of $2,966 and assets of $505, in accounts. The business was started in 1881 by Frederick Brandt. William H. Brandt, a roofer of 546 East 143d Street, went through bankruptcy in 1906.

MILLINGTON COMPANY. — Schedules in bankruptcy of the Millington Company, dealer in men's furnishing goods at 63 West Forty-second Street, and 126 West 125th Street, show liabilities of $22,231 and assets of $5,063, consisting of stock, $4,800, and cash, $263. Among the creditors are Van Zandt, Jacobs & Co., $3,295; Vanderhoef & Co., $2,439; Charles Simon's Sons, $1,191; Cluett, Peabody & Co., $1,167; Paragon Company, $1,113, and Charles Falkenberg, $972.

WILLIAM BRAUMAN & CO.—William Brauman and David Orently, who compose the firm of William Brauman & Co., wholesale dealers in cloakings and woolens, 125 Greene Street, have filed a petition in bankruptcy, with liabilities of $20,600 and no assets. Mr. Orently has individual liabilities of $4,080. A petition in bankruptcy was filed against them on Sept. 4, 1908, when their liabilities were $106,713, and it was dismissed on Dec. 31 on a settlement at 50 cents on the dollar.

L. F. HIGENBOTHAM COMPANY.—A petition in bankruptcy has been filed against the L. F. Higenbotham Company, dealer in artist materials at 61 West Thirty-seventh Street, by these creditors: Charles C. Egerton, $600; Leopold Archer Company, $14, and Miller & Baker, $8. It was alleged that the company is insolvent, made preferential payments of $1,000, and transferred merchandise and accounts of $1,000. The business was started in April, 1903, by Louis F. Higenbotham, who incorporated it on March 21, 1904, with a capital stock of $5,000, and he became President.

CHARLES J. ANDERSON COMPANY.—A petition in bankruptcy has been filed against the Charles J. Anderson Company, carpentry and cabinet making at 172d Street and Webster Avenue, by these creditors: Jack Anthony, $200; William J. Cox, $100, and Charles F. Fischer Lumber Company, $353. It was alleged that the company is insolvent, and transferred accounts, merchandise, and cash to various creditors to prefer them. The company was incorporated Feb. 13, with a capital stock of $10,000, and Charles J. Anderson was President.

NAJEEB NAJA.—Najeeb Naja, manufacturer of embroidery at 80 West Street, has filed a petition in bankruptcy with liabilities of $7,284, and nominal assets of $15,144, consisting of machinery, $1,000; accounts, $5,182, and notes of other Syrians, $8,962. Among the creditors are Salim Elias and T. Abdoo, $2,375; Market and Fulton National Bank, $858, and Sawonna Hayeck, $1,000, on thirteen accommodation notes. Mr. Naja came here from Syria in 1895, and started in business soon after. This is the tenth bankruptcy in the Syrian colony in the last few months.

CHARLES K. SUMMERHAYES.—Charles K. Summerhays, a salesman, of 144 West 105th Street, has filed a petition in bankruptcy, with liabilities of $14,472 and no assets. The debts were contracted between 1891 and 1909 in this city, Buffalo, and Rochester. There are forty-four creditors, among whom are The Hotel Marseilles, $90, and Edward F. Keating, $478, of this city; Amsden Brothers, Rochester, $5,000, and the German Bank of Buffalo, $878; German-American Bank, $183; Third National Bank, $445; New York Life Insurance Company, $2,000; Mutual Life Insurance Company, $1,000, and Edison Grant Electric Company, $1,195, all of Buffalo.

J. MALANCON & BROTHER.—A petition in bankruptcy has been filed against Joseph Jules Malancon and Constant Malancon, who composed the firm of J. Malancon & Brother, dealers in women's and children's wearing apparel at 1,723 Amsterdam Avenue, by these creditors: Samstag & Hilder Brothers, $805; S. Steinfeld & Co., $471, and William Mayer & Co., $507. It was alleged that they are insolvent, made preferential payments to S. Citron & Co., Fashion Comb Company, Frisbie, Cooh & Co., and M. Schiff & Co. on Oct. 13 and 14. Judge Hough appointed C. S. Cooke receiver with a bond of $8,000. The liabilities are $26,000, and the assets, $20,000. It was stated that Joseph J. Malancon had not been at the store any day this week, that Constant had not been there in five weeks, and the store was in charge of the stenographer, and that the partners have removed from this city and are at Palisades, N. J. They have been resident buyers for out of town houses for several years, with an office at 434 Broadway, and started the retail store at 1,723 Amsterdam Avenue on June 1.

THE WEATHER.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Light scattered showers fell Wednesday afternoon and evening in New England, the Middle Atlantic States, and along the lower Lakes, due to a trough of moderately low pressure between one high area over the Middle Atlantic region and another over the Northwest.

Over the remainder of the country fair weather prevailed, except for light showers in Michigan.

Temperatures from the Lake region to the Dakotas have fallen from six to eighteen degrees below seasonable. In New England and the extreme Northwest they are comparatively high, but elsewhere they are nearly normal.

Winds along the New England Coast will be moderate west to northwest, becoming variable Friday; Middle Atlantic Coast, light to moderate northwest, becoming variable; South Atlantic Coast, light west, becoming variable.

Steamships departing Thursday for European ports will have moderate west winds, with fair weather, to the Grand Banks.

FORECAST FOR TO-DAY AND FRIDAY.

Eastern New York—Fair, cooler Thursday; Friday fair; light to moderate northwest to north winds.

New Jersey and Eastern Pennsylvania—Fair, cooler Thursday; Friday fair; light to moderate northwest to northeast winds.

New England—Fair, cooler Thursday; Friday fair; light to moderate west to north winds.

The temperature record for the twenty-four hours ended at midnight, taken from the thermometer at the local office of the United States Weather Bureau, is as follows:

	1908.	1909.		1908.	1909.
3 A. M.	60	50	4 P. M.	64	64
6 A. M.	60	47	6 P. M.	63	62
9 A. M.	63	50	9 P. M.	62	55
12 M.	63	61	12 P. M.	61	55

This thermometer is 108 feet above the street level. The average temprature yesterday was 55; for the corresponding date last year it was 62; average on the corresponding date for the last thirty-three years, 51.

The temperature at 8 A. M. yesterday was 47; at 8 P. M. it was 57. Maximum temperature, 64 degrees at 2:05 P. M.; minimum, 47 at 7:20 A. M.

Humidity, 81 per cent. at 8 A. M.; 72 per cent. at 8 P. M.

PUBLIC NOTICES.

Application for Appointment of Commissioners.

SUPREME COURT, APPELLATE DIVISION, First Department.—In the matter of the Application of the PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION FOR THE FIRST DISTRICT for the appointment of Three Commissioners to determine and report whether a Rapid Transit Railway or Railways for the Conveyance and Transportation of Persons and Property, as determined by the Commission, ought to be constructed and operated.—Modification of Lexington Avenue Route and General Plan.—Double decking.

Public notice is hereby given that pursuant to the provisions of the Rapid Transit Act, being Chapter 4 of the Laws of 1891, as amended the Public Service Commission for the First District will apply to the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, in and for the First Judicial Department, at a term thereof to be held at the Appellate Division Court House, Madison Avenue and East 25th Street, Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the 5th day of November, 1909, at 10:30 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard, for the appointment of three commissioners in the above entitled matter to determine and report, after due hearing, whether the modified portions of the railway in the said city for the conveyance and transportation of persons and property, known as the Lexington Avenue Route, ought to be constructed and operated in accordance with the modification adopted by the said Commission to the routes and general plan of construction of said railway on May 21, 1909. The papers upon which the aforesaid application will be made are the petition of the said Commission, dated the 7th day of October, 1909, and the affidavits and papers accompanying the same, all which were filed in the office of the Clerk of the said Appellate Division on the 8th day of October 1909, and in addition thereto such other papers as shall be presented to the Court by the said Commission. A description of the modification of the routes and general plan of construction of the said railway or railways forms a part of the papers filed as aforesaid with the said Clerk of the said Appellate Division. The following is a brief and substantial synopsis of the modification of the said route and general plan of construction: The tracks upon the portion of the routes beginning at or near Houston Street and thence extending northerly under Broadway to a point near East Ninth Street, thence in a general northeasterly direction through several cross streets and private property to Irving Place, and thence northerly under Irving Place, Gramercy Park, and Lexington Avenue to 103d Street, and from 113th Street to the Harlem River shall be placed upon different levels, (instead of being placed as at present provided, on substantially the same level,)—one set of tracks being constructed substantially on the same level near the surface and the other set of tracks being constructed substantially on the same level and at such distance below the first set of tracks as may be deemed most practicable and convenient.

The object of the aforesaid application is to obtain the appointment of commissioners who shall determine, after public hearing of all parties interested, whether the modified portions of such railway ought to be constructed and operated in accordance with the said modification, and shall report the evidence taken to said Appellate Division, together with a report of their determination, which report and determination, if in favor of the construction and operation of the modified portions of such railway or railways in accordance with said modification (as this Commission will ask that it shall be) shall, when confirmed by said Court, be taken in lieu of the consent of the property owners along the line of the modified portions of said railway or railways.

Dated New York, October 8th, 1909.

BUDGET FOR 1910 IS $163,049,480

$16,510,670 Less Than Department Heads Wanted and $6,504,332 More Than Last Year.

PROTEST FROM MR. SCHIFF

Banker Tells Board of Estimate the Increase Is an Injury to the Poor and Could Be Avoided.

The tentative budget for 1910 was submitted yesterday for a public hearing by the Board of Estimate. It was announced that it has been fixed at $163,049,480. This is $16,510,670 less than was asked for by the department heads and $6,504,332 more than the appropriations for the current year.

Mayor McClellan and his associates were evidently pleased at being able to keep the figures down. His Honor pointed out that the actual additional expenditure provided for outside of mandatory increases and the new item of the Dock Department, which in former years has been paid for from the proceeds of corporate stock, and amounts to $2,821,932, is less than $2,000,000. The newly acquired water system in Richmond is costing the city next year for the first time about $25,000, about $85,000 is estimated as necessary to maintain the Manhattan Bridge for a part of the coming year, and $1,000,000 is accounted for as an appropriation to cover the deficiency in the collection of taxes in addition to the amount provided last year.

During the hearings on the budget two matters have been brought prominently forward. The Board of Education asked for about $3,000,000 to provide for increases in teachers' salaries, and those interested in the fight against tuberculosis asked for $485,000 under a number of different heads. The teachers have been disappointed, as no provision for any increase has been made for them. The tuberculosis experts are fairly well satisfied. They have not obtained the full amount of their request, but the Health Department has received an additional $240,000, and the Board of Education an extra $8,500 for the preparation of classrooms for children suffering from consumption.

Health Department Well Fixed.

It is believed that these additional grants will be quite sufficient to put the tuberculosis fight on a proper basis. The Health Department will be able to carry its work into the tenement house districts, and it is not unlikely that such advances will be made that later in the year the Board of Estimate will be obliged to issue special revenue bonds to prevent the work already undertaken from lapsing.

The city service debt for the year 1910, as provided in the tentative budget, will be $46,455,695.72, or a decrease of $779,382.61 as compared with that provided in the budget for 1909. The actual increase in the administrative cost of government for 1910, if the tentative budget is approved, is figured at $2,905,000. In 1909 the total administrative cost for all city and county departments, exclusive of the city debt, was in round figures about $109,000,000. The increase recommended for 1910 is, therefore, calculated at 2.66 per cent. over the administrative cost for this year.

An unexpected incident in yesterday's hearing was the appearance of Jacob H. Schiff, the banker, with a protest against the expense of running the city and the suggestion that he could, if he had time, suggest ways of saving money. In part he said:

"I take it that no business man in New York City, least of all a member of this Board of Estimate, believes that a larger budget for 1910 than 1909 is not avoidable. It seems to me that your proposition to add even $4,000,000 to this year's allowance will injure rather than increase the opportunities of the working classes.

"It is shortsightedness on the part of friends of the poor not to see that improvident methods on the part of the city make for increased cost of living for the poor man, for lowered vitality, for less and poorer education, fewer and poorer opportunities for play and self-improvement."

City Extravagance Condemned.

Mr. Schiff pointed out that extravagance on the part of the city had been condemned by numerous public bodies, by the Finance Commission appointed by Mayor McClellan during his first term of office, by two Charter Revision Committees, and several legislative committees. The Finance Committee of the Chamber of Commerce had also, he said, reported that the steps taken by Controller Metz would, if successful, save the city vast sums of money.

"As a business man," Mr. Schiff went on, "who pays considerable taxes, and who is much interested in hospitals and charitable work, I urge you to do what every one knows can be done, without subtracting from what you propose to give for hospitals, charities, tuberculosis work, &c."

In conclusion Mr. Schiff asked the board to cut unnecessarily large salaries and high price for supplies, which it knew were at present paid, in order to prevent its successors from making the same blunder.

Mayor McClellan took exception to a remark of Mr. Schiff's that he had stated that savings could be made.

"I never declared that savings were possible," the Mayor declared.

"I'll be very much pleased to show you how savings can be made," replied Mr. Schiff. "If I had received the tentative budget twenty-four or forty-eight hours earlier, I might have offered suggestions now."

"We found it hard work to have the tentative budget ready now," answered the Mayor.

An amendment was handed to President McGowan, who is known to favor the women teachers, providing for the increases spoken of by the Board of Education.

Budget to Jump This Year.

"That means an additional $3,000,000," remarked the Mayor.

John J. Pheelan, counsel for the United Real Estate Owners, raised an objection in matters connected with the Department of Water Supply and the Tenement House Department. Some explanations followed with regard to the proposed open-air classes for tuberculous children.

Dr. Allen, of the Bureau of Municipal Research, then suggested an adjournment until this morning.

"I agree about this adjournment," said Borough President Coler, of Brooklyn. "There has been a lot of nonsense fired off during this campaign about the cutting down of expenses of the city regardless of its growth."

This is the tentative budget for next year, as compared with the appropriations for the present year.

	1909 Budget Appropriations.	Tentative Budget Totals for 1910.
For city purposes.....	$148,479,304	$153,686,353
New York County....	3,111,986	3,231,541
Kings County	1,628,260	1,662,475
Queens County	300,199	356,045
Richmond county	102,949	115,062
For deficiency in the collection of taxes...	2,922,447	4,000,000
Total	$156,545,148	$163,049,480

"Just watch the budget jump next year," remarked Controller Metz after adjournment, for once agreeing with his colleague from Brooklyn.

"Well, we'll be off the throttle then," said Mayor McClellan with a sigh.

"I guess I'll be outside there," said the Controller, "protesting against any further increases."

JAPANESE VISIT EDISON.

He Entertains Commercial Commissioners in His Laboratory and Home.

The Japanese commercial commission, which is visiting this country for the purpose of studying various industries and industrial centres, went to Newark, N. J., yesterday, accompanied by members of various trade and mercantile bodies from other parts of the East. The fifty Japanese had a reception in Newark, and then were conducted to various plants and factories throughout the city by members of the Newark Board of Trade. The visitors left late yesterday afternoon for Reading and Bethlehem, Penn.

The visiting delegation, after an official greeting at the City Hall from Mayor Jacob Haussling, were guests at a luncheon given in the Krueger Auditorium, after which they were taken in automobiles to view the various factories to which each group had been assigned. The wives of members of the delegation who accompanied them to this country from Japan were entertained by Mrs. James S. Higbie.

One of the subdivisions of the commission visited the plant of the Crocker-Wheeler Company at Ampere, N. J. They were greeted by Dr. Schuyler Skaats Wheeler, formerly President of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, who is head of the Crocker-Wheeler Company.

Another group visited the Edison plant in West Orange, and received a cordial welcome from Thomas A. Edison in person. They were escorted through the laboratory and workshops and later entertained socially by the inventor.

James F. Connelly, City Clerk of Newark and United States Consul at Osaki and Hiogo, Japan, during the Administration of Cleveland, did not take part in the reception. He said later that the reason was that the higher officials of the City Government had ordered the American flag lowered and that of Japan raised in its place on the dome of the City Hall during the visit of the Japanese. Mr. Connelly said that he would make a formal protest.

Mr. Connelly has another protest before the city on a similar matter, having taken exception on Columbus Day to the display on the City Hall flagstaff of the Italian flag instead of the American.

HOTEL SUES SENATOR'S SON.

Holland House Attaches T. R. Gibson's Interest in Cafe Martin Property.

Supreme Court Justice Bischoff granted a warrant of attachment yesterday to Gustav Baumann, proprietor of the Holland House against Tobias Richardson Gibson, also known as Richard T. Gibson, a son of the late Senator Randell Lee Gibson of Louisiana. The warrant covers any interest Gibson may have in the Café Martin property and also in twenty-two acres of land in the Bronx known as High Cottage. The warrant was placed in the hands of Sheriff Foley for execution.

The attachment was issued in a suit brought by Baumann against Gibson to recover a $1,094.29 balance for board and lodging and money loaned.

Mr. Baumann alleges that Gibson has disposed of all his property in this State in order to defraud his creditors. He is said to have leased the Café Martin property to John B. Martin for twenty-one years on June 1, 1901, at an annual rental of $40,000, and on Aug. 1 of that year is alleged to have transferred to Judge Warwick Emile Montgomery White and Mrs. White all his share in the rents of the property leased to Martin, until the mortgage of $195,000 on that property is paid off. It is further alleged that Gibson has given to Judge White a mortgage covering all his share in the Café Martin and the Bronx property for an indebtedness to him of $21,000.

On March 31, 1904 Gibson is alleged to have transferred all his interests in these properties to Judge and Mrs. White in trust until 1914 to apply the net income for his support, and then to retransfer the properties to him. On Dec. 18, 1906, Gibson is alleged to have given a mortgage on the same properties to the Hamilton National Bank of Chicago for loans of $22,512 received by him.

NEW BUILDING ABOVE OLD.

Lincoln Safe Deposit Co. May Add Nine Stories on Separate Pillars.

The officers of the Lincoln Safe Deposit Company are considering a plan, believed to be new in the history of building construction in this city, to add nine stories to their building on the south side of Forty-second Street, between Madison and Park Avenues. The present walls are supporting about all the weight they can properly carry, as two stories were added several years ago to the building's original height of seven stories.

Under the new plan steel pillars will be carried up from bedrock through the present structure. These will be twenty in number and will be spaced about 50 feet apart over the entire area of the site, 120 by 200 feet.

On these twenty pillars will be built the nine new stories. There will be no weight added to the walls of the existing building—in fact, when the new upper part of the structure has been finished the older and under part could, if necessary, be taken away.

An officer of the Lincoln Safe Deposit Company said yesterday that it was impossible to tell when work would be begun under the proposed plan. So far the scheme has received only informal consideration and has not been taken up by the Board of Directors.

HIS WIFE'S DEPORTATION.

Ramsperger Assents to It, Having Provided for Her in Europe.

The detention on Ellis Island of Mrs. Amelia Permod Ramsperger, who came to this country a few days ago on the Konig Albert, seems to be principally a question of opinion between the woman and her husband, Herman Ramsperger of 424 Central Park West. The man wants his wife deported, and has even offered to pay her way back home. As she is ill with Bright's disease it is probable that she will not be allowed to land without a guarantee that she will not want.

According to the husband's lawyer the couple were married in France twenty-five years ago. They came to this country to live. In 1891 Mrs. Ramsperger took her daughter and returned to France. As she afterward elected to live at Lake Geneva her husband bought her a villa there. A short time ago she determined to come here.

The husband believes, it is said, that she should live up to her agreement to live abroad at his expense.

Hart's Will Admitted to Probate.

The contested will of Benjamin Hart, who began life as an old clothes dealer in Virginia and died in Paris in 1908, leaving an estate of about $1,000,000, was admitted to probate by Surrogate Thomas yesterday. The contest was brought by his adopted daughter, Isabel Lucchesi Guillemin, who was practically cut off by the will, and by Mrs. Kitty Estelle Hart, who contended that she was the testator's widow, though she had been divorced from him twenty years ago. His estate goes to his nephew, Michael Hart, and his Parisian housekeeper gets an annuity of $16,000.

INJUSTICE TO HONEST MEN

The Collector Replies That It Was Between Retaining Them and Letting the Frauds Continue.

In dismissing the case against Antonio Musica, who has been on trial with his son Philip in the Criminal Branch of the United States Circuit Court for conspiracy to defraud the Government by bribing customs employes to record false weights of imported cheese, Judge Holt took occasion yesterday to criticise Collector Loeb for his policy of retaining in the customs service confessed grafters who have received immunity for testifying for the Government in the customs fraud trials.

Judge Holt brought out his strictures against the Collector after he had determined the fate of the elder Musica.

"There is a matter about which I wish to make some remarks," said Judge Holt, "and that is the testimony of the three Government officials who were heard as witnesses for the prosecution and confessed participation in these and other frauds upon the Government. They testified that they were promised not only immunity, but retention in the Customs Service. It is necessary sometimes to secure the evidence of accomplices, and to do this it is necessary to promise them immunity, but I have never heard of a case in which such men were promised also retention in the service of the Government which they admitted they had defrauded. This court desires to express the most emphatic disapprobation of such a course. It is not only a discredit to the Government, but an injustice to the honest men in the service to compel them to act in the company of men who have proved themselves unworthy, dishonest, and unfit to be trusted."

The case opened yesterday with an argument by W. Wickham Smith, special Deputy Attorney General, on the motion of Charles N. Rushmore, counsel for the defense, to dismiss the elder Musica. When Mr. Smith had finished Mr. Rushmore rose to reply, but Judge Holt waved him down.

"It is not necessary for you to reply," said the court. "The fact that Antonio Musica was the sole owner of the business when the frauds were committed was a weighty fact, since whatever moneys accrued by these transactions went to his benefit. For that reason I denied the motion at the end of the prosecution's case to take the case as to Antonio Musica out of the hands of the jury. All the evidence against Antonio Musica is so weak, however, that if the verdict of the jury should be against him I am satisfied that it would be set aside. I therefore deem it my duty to direct the jury to enter a verdict of 'Not guilty' in the case of Antonio Musica."

Lewis L. Delafield of counsel for the Musicas renewed the plea of guilty to the fifth count of the indictment against the younger Musica, and he was remanded to the custody of the United States Marshal for sentence on Friday. He is to be confined at night and allowed to go about in the daytime to attend to his business.

Collector Loeb, replying last night to Judge Holt's strictures, said that in his opinion the Judge would not have been so severe had he understood the situation with which the Administration had to deal.

"There was moral evidence sufficient to convince any officer that a wholesale system of graft and corruption had been in existence for years, by which certain merchants entered goods on false invoices and corrupt weighers assisted in having these false invoices accepted as correct," said the Collector. "Unfortunately moral evidence is not legal evidence. When the frauds were discovered all the guilty parties agreed to 'stand tight.' If they were prosecuted either jointly or severally the weigher could 'cook up' a statement about his tools being out of order or of the work being too rushed for him to give it proper attention. The importer would make his statement fit into this. The Government was getting nowhere in its prosecutions, and the rascals were chuckling over its helplessness."

The Collector told how imperative it was for the Government to get the truth from some one inside the ring, and said the Musica case was selected for the purpose, because of the magnitude on which the fraud was conducted.

"It was then decided," Mr. Loeb continued, "to obtain the testimony of several weighers by promising them immunity and retention in the service. Judge Holt says that while it might be proper to grant immunity, it was discreditable to the Government to retain these men in the service. The answer is that without their testimony a conviction could not have been obtained. The weighers knew perfectly well that if they were discharged from the service and then testified in court for taking bribes it would be practically impossible for them to obtain employment elsewhere and their families might starve.

"It was not a question of choice between having all honest men in the service and keeping four men admittedly dishonest in it, but between keeping four dishonest men in the service where they could be easily watched, and allowing a great many dishonest men to remain and having all of them and the corrupt merchants who had bribed them, escape punishment. The Administration decided upon the former course, and its decision was based upon the highest motives."

FERRYBOAT HITS MAILBOAT.

Tide Forced the New Brunswick Around—Cabins Smashed.

A strong flood tide caused the Pennsylvania ferryboat New Brunswick, in the Cortlandt Street service, to swerve out of her course as she was about to enter the New York slip, a little after 6 P. M. yesterday. Her stern was swung around and crashed into the United States mail boat Lennox, tied to the end of the Starin dock at the foot of Cortlandt Street.

The rear of the women's cabin was smashed in, and several windows were torn away. The rear part of the cabin of the Lennox was stove in. Passengers on the New Brunswick were at the bow of the boat, ready to go ashore, when the crash came, and none was injured. The collision threw several passengers from their feet.

After the accident the New Brunswick made another trip, after which she was tied up at the foot of Cortlandt Street. Later she went to Hoboken for repairs.

Fire Couldn't Scare Telephone Girl.

A carelessly thrown lighted cigarette started a fire in the plant of the Union Paper Company, 838-840 Washington Street. Two hundred employes, finding the stairway blocked, reached the street by way of the fire escape. The fire was soon put out and the damage was placed at $500. Miss Anna Murphy, the telephone operator, sat within a few feet of the blaze. She stuck to her post, and when the firemen got there she was calmly telling an inquirer over the wire where it was.

$40,000 MARITAL FEE

Asked by Lawyer Who Says He Arranged Woman's Marriage.

Supreme Court Justice McCall and a jury are trying a suit brought by Daniel W. Scanlon, a lawyer, against Mrs. Lydia A. Hodge of Chicago to recover $40,000. He claims this for services in bringing about a ceremonial marriage between the defendant and Charles J. Hodge. Mr. Hodge is said to be a wealthy mining operator, with an income, according to Mr. Scanlon, of nearly $50,000 a year.

In his testimony yesterday Scanlon said that Mrs. Hodge, formerly Miss Thomas, was a dressmaker in Detroit and Hodge fell in love with her. They became engaged, but, according to the witness, Hodge said that his mother did not want him to marry, and as she was wealthy he thought it inadvisable to do so until after her death. Quarrels followed, he said, and he was able finally to obtain $17,000 for his client.

In a subsequent talk after the death of Mr. Hodge's mother, Scanlon said that Miss Thomas said she would be willing to pay $40,000 if a ceremonial marriage could be arranged. He went to Hodge, he says, took it up with him, with the result that the ceremony was performed. But Scanlon says he never got the $40,000 promised.

Mrs. Hodge took the stand later, and declared that Scanlon had not been instrumental in bringing about the ceremonial marriage, and insisted that a certain assignment of mining stock from Hodge to her had nothing to do with the separation suit.

"What was it made for, then?" asked Scanlon's counsel.

"To defraud Mr. Hodge's creditors," replied the witness, before an objection could be raised.

HOTEL MAN FOUND DEAD.

Strychnine Tablets Near Manager Purdy in His Room at the Grosvenor.

William H. Purdy, manager of the Grosvenor Hotel, 37 Fifth Avenue, was found dying in his room there yesterday afternoon by a clerk who had come to summon him to the hotel proprietor, who had wished to see him. In a small box on a table were some white pills, believed to be strychnine tablets. Purdy suffered from heart trouble.

The fact that the hotel sent privately to New York Hospital for an ambulance and called up the Mercer Street Station with the request that Detective Dunn be sent to the hotel, caused much speculation concerning Purdy's death, for Dr. Thomson of the hospital found the man dead on his arrival.

Coroner Shrady visited the Grosvenor and gave a permit for the body to be taken to an undertaking establishment, although he insisted that an autopsy must be performed to-day.

Purdy had been connected with the hotel for about four years.

ROOSEVELT IS FIFTY-ONE.

His Birthday Remembered, but Not Observed, in Oyster Bay.

OYSTER BAY, L. I., Oct. 27.—Some of the Oyster Bay neighbors, who keep birthday books, were reminded that their distinguished fellow-townsman Theodore Roosevelt is just 51 years old to-day. In a recent magazine article he speaks of himself as "an elderly gentleman whose varied past includes rheumatism." President Taft was 52 years old on Sept. 15.

Mr. Roosevelt's friends here took no formal note of the day and sent no congratulatory messages to Africa, as the distance and the difference in time made it more than probable that they would be belated in arriving.

NAIROBI, British East Africa, Oct. 27.—Col. Roosevelt and the others of the hunting expedition, who left Londiani yesterday, arrived at Aldama Ravine to-day and will proceed to Guas Ingishu Plateau. They will return to Londiani in about five weeks.

More Smuggled Finery at Auction.

The collection of smuggled laces, scarfs, silk shawls, spreads, linens, and other articles contained in two trunks landed on May 24 last from the Italian steamship Duca di Genova were sold yesterday at auction. They were bought by S. W. Harvey for $6,400. The foreign value of the goods was $4,470, and the duty $2,682, making the value on the home market $7,152.

Sun—Faversham's triumph. His clear utterance a source of delight. Notable contribution to the contemporaneous stage.
World—A powerful dramatic appeal. A work of fine imagination. There is a clash of mighty forces.
Tribune—Gave great satisfaction to an attentive audience. Herod should have long ago been seen in this country.
Press—The audience was treated to a real drama. Faversham has reason to be well satisfied with the honor that belongs to him.
Evening World—The production itself excelled Mansfield's most elaborate achievement.
Telegram—All praise for Faversham for his superb production. Herod glows with genuine dramatic fire.
